LOCATE PLOT TO KILL M'KINLEY.

Develops at Canton That Cubans and Spaniards Are Plotting to Murder the President.

ODELL SAYS IT IS TRUE.

Conspirators Operate in New York and the Police Are Now at Work on the Case.

WARNING COMES IN LETTER.

Republican Leaders Informed by Man Whose Life Would Pay Should His Identity Become Known.

DETECTIVES GUARD EXECUTIVE.

Canton, O., July 10.—[Special.]—A plot to assassinate President McKinley developed tonight. The identity of the conspirators is not known, but it is stated that they are Spaniards and Cubans, with headquarters in New York.

Several private detectives are guarding the President's house here night and day, and every precaution is being taken to prevent a fulfillment of the plot.

No arrests have as yet been made, although New York detectives are at work on the case.

That the plot is not a mere scare is admitted here by close friends of the McKinley family, while in New York Chairman Odell confesses that a conspiracy has been discovered and the President warned.

Plot Told in a Letter.

A little over three weeks ago a member of the National committee received a letter from a man in New York stating that he had discovered the existence of a plot formed by certain Spaniards and Cubans in New York City to assassinate President McKinley.

The writer apparently was not a crank, made no demand for money, but only urged that he be protected in every possible way, as his life would, he said, pay the forfeit if he were disclosed in the matter.

The writer gave an address on Broadway as the center from which the schemers operated.

This letter was at once turned over to Secretary Charles Dick of the National committee. While he was not at first inclined to take the matter seriously, he decided to write to Chairman Odell of the New York State committee, to whom the whole matter was forthwith referred.

Chairman Odell hired a detective, who got almost immediate verification of at least part of the charges made in the letter of warning. He located the man described at the address given on Broadway and learned that there had been talk of a plot to do the President harm.

Within forty-eight hours Mr. Odell sent a long report to Colonel Dick, stating the results of his investigation and advising that the President be warned to be careful.

Mr. Odell also advised Chairman Hanna on the same lines. This was just before the national convention in Philadelphia.

On receipt of Mr. Odell's report Colonel Dick consulted with Mr. Hanna and also with the President, and the whole matter was most carefully gone over. It was then that the extra detectives were engaged, and since then the President has appeared little in public.

Mr. Odell was asked to continue his investigation and his detective is still working in New York.

Admits the Conspiracy.

New York, July 10.—[Special.]—To a reporter this evening Chairman Odell admitted that he and certain members of the National committee had discovered a plot to assassinate President McKinley.

He expressed surprise when the subject was broached, and seemed greatly agitated over the fact that the news had become public.

"Yes, it is true," he said, "but I regret exceedingly that the matter has become public."

Beyond admitting the truth of the report he refused to talk. He was extremely anxious that no reference should be made to the matter.

In reply to questions he admitted that the plot was of a specific and startling character. He refused to say whether or not it was true that a day had been set as the time when the plan was to be carried out.

Sure Death for Informer.

Mr. Odell said that if the papers printed the name of the man who sent the original letter of warning to the Republican National committee it would result in almost certain death for that man.

Like most men in high official positions President McKinley has been the target for his full share of letters from cranks, many of which make threats and demands for money. Ever since the beginning of the Spanish-American war great care has been taken to see that the President was properly guarded while traveling from place to place.

When he was last in New York it was a matter of comment in the newspapers that the precautions taken to protect him from annoyance and possible harm were unusually elaborate.

Two detectives then specially assigned to guard the President were Henry P. Foye and William H. Funston of the Central office staff. They met the President in Jersey City, went with him to his hotel, and kept all callers away save those properly vouched for.

When the President went riding one or the other sat upon the coach box with the driver.

RIOTS RESUMED IN ST. LOUIS.

Demonstrations Against Transit Company's Cars and Patrons Take Place—Boy Stoned Into Insensibility.

St. Louis, Mo., July 10.—Demonstrations against Transit cars and their patrons occurred in various parts of the city tonight. A boy was assaulted after he had alighted from a car and was stoned into insensibility. Rocks were thrown at a number of cars and in several instances explosives were placed upon the tracks. No one was seriously hurt and the damage to the cars was slight.

OGDEN GAS DEAL DECLARED OFF.

Purchasing Syndicate Drops Negotiations Because Council Failed to Override Mayor's Veto.

MAY TRY AGAIN IN FALL.

Effort to Pass "Satisfactory" Measure Likely to Be Renewed After Aldermen's Vacation.

PAPERS ONCE WERE SIGNED.

The deal for the purchase of control of the Ogden Gas company and the Cosmopolitan Electric franchise by interests friendly to the People's Gaslight and Coke company has been called off, owing to the failure of the City Council to pass over the Mayor's veto an ordinance acceptable to the Ogden company. This is stated on the authority of a man who has been well posted on all the developments in the transaction. The Council has one more session before it adjourns for the summer vacation. The matter will be taken up after the Council reconvenes in the fall, and the Ogden people will try then to get a satisfactory ordinance through. In the meantime the deal with the syndicate representing People's Gas interests is off.

The syndicate opened negotiations with the Ogden company in the spring, proposing to go into partnership with the owners of the rival property. It was planned to elect representatives of the Eastern syndicate as members of the Board of Directors of the Ogden company, giving the control to the new interests. The syndicate was to acquire a majority both of the capital stock and the bonds. The authorized capital stock is $10,000,000 and the bonds aggregate $10,000,000.

The syndicate proposed to invest in the bonds and pay cash for whatever interest it took in the Ogden and the Cosmopolitan companies. The negotiations proceeded on this line and the preliminary papers were all signed. When the arrangements had gone so far that the Ogden interests were ready to deliver the bonds, the syndicate declined to take them after examination of the Ogden ordinance.

Part of Ordinance Objected To.

This ordinance contains the following paragraph, to which the syndicate objected:

"The rights and privileges hereby granted are upon the express condition that the said company shall not at any time, directly or indirectly, sell, lease, or transfer its plant, property, rights, or privileges herein authorized to any other gas company, trust, or corporation now or hereafter engaged in the manufacturing and sale of gas in the City of Chicago; and if this company shall, directly or indirectly, sell, lease, or transfer its plant, property, rights, or privileges herein authorized to any other gas company, trust, or corporation now or hereafter engaged in the manufacture of gas in said city, or if said company, having commenced to manufacture gas, shall cease, for the period of more than ten consecutive days, unless by reason of unavoidable accident or injunction, to furnish gas through its pipes as required by this ordinance, then the rights and privileges hereby granted shall cease and be of no force and effect, and the entire gas plant of the said company, together with all its machinery, tools, appliances, mains, pipes, and other property of every name, nature, and description shall be forfeited to said City of Chicago as and for agreed and liquidated damages for the failure of said company to comply with the requirements and conditions of this section of the ordinance."

Syndicate Demands an Amendment.

When this provision was pointed out the Ogden people endeavored to get the ordinance amended, but up to the present time they have not been successful, owing to the Mayor's veto. The syndicate claimed the ordinance was defective and that the bonds could not be floated unless it was amended. The syndicate wanted what it considered a perfect title before it would take the property.

The amended ordinance, introduced in the City Council some time ago, provided that the purchasing syndicate "be subject to and perform, for and on behalf of said Ogden Gas company, each and every one of the obligations resting upon said Ogden Gas company, under its ordinance, as hereby amended, and in the same manner and to the same extent as if said sale, lease, or transfer had not been made."

The Ogden company is required by its ordinance to furnish gas at 90 cents per 1,000 cubic feet. The main features of the substitute ordinance framed by the Council committee to which the measure was referred after the Mayor vetoed it are 90-cent gas and the payment of 3½ per cent of the gross annual receipts to the city as compensation. The committee proposes to make the provisions of the substitute ordinance apply to the purchaser as well as to the Ogden company. It is also provided that the mains must be extended whenever ordered by a two-thirds vote of the City Council.

May Renew Deal in the Fall.

If the Ogden company has its ordinance amended to its satisfaction after the vacation season is ended the purchase of the company by the syndicate will become a matter for future negotiation. The arrangements for the purchase of a controlling interest in the Ogden company and the Cosmopolitan electric franchise, which the Ogden people own, were begun in the early part of this year. At that time the Ogden company was planning to extend its mains. After the discussion had proceeded for some time A. N. Brady came here from New York, and the first written agreement providing for a change of control was made during his presence in the city.

Later attorneys of the two interests worked out the details of the plan. The matter progressed smoothly until the question regarding the objectionable clause in the original Ogden ordinance arose.

A man who has been posted on the state of the negotiations said yesterday concerning the amended ordinance: "It was not a matter in which the syndicate was concerned, but the Ogden company itself. At the present time the entire deal is off."

It was announced at the City Hall during the day that the proposed amended Ogden Gas ordinance has been abandoned and that no further effort will be made to pass it in its present shape. The committee has not yet reported, however, and it is among the possibilities that it may convene and reconsider its report.

KIPLEY WARNS THE POLICE

ISSUES BULLETIN BASED ON THE CHARGE IN M'DOUGALL CASE.

Declares Any Member of Force Laying Himself Liable to Serious Accusation Is Subject to Dismissal—Makes Plea for Conduct That Will Win Public Favor—Civil Service Commission Hears Evidence Against Sheehan and Mosher.

After Hugh McDougall had positively identified Policemen Patrick J. Sheehan and John Mosher before the Civil Service commission yesterday as the men who on the night of July 1 held him up and robbed him of $160 at Sharpshooters' Park, and new corroborative evidence had been given, and the commission had postponed further hearing in the case till next Monday, Chief of Police Kipley issued an official bulletin to the police, in which he made a plea to members of the department to avoid all acts which might tend to implicate them in similar charges, or in any way to bring them or the department as a whole into disrepute.

Chief Kipley in his bulletin does not state or imply that he believes the men against whom charges are made by McDougall to be guilty, or that he actually suspects any other member of the force, but he gives warning that any policeman laying himself liable to such a charge will be held subject to dismissal, saying in part:

"The officer who lays himself liable to such unpleasant criticism should be discharged from the force. We dislike much to see the honor of our body assailed. If it develops that there are sufficient grounds for the charge to justify dismissal, no one will perform the part more readily than your humble servant. Any officer who does a thing that will cause unpleasant criticism of the personnel of this department is not a fit and proper person to be a member of it, and should be dismissed.

Chief Kipley's Plea to Police.

Aside from the paragraph already quoted, Chief Kipley's address to the police says:

"The serious charge of robbery brought against two members of our department last week, and now undergoing a thorough investigation, has placed the whole force before the public in a bad light. Whether the two men charged with this crime are guilty or not, and no matter how honest and conscientious in the performance of their duties other members may be, still the confidence of the citizens in them is shaken. At such times their every act is criticised and they are continually under suspicion.

"My chief reason for calling the attention of the department to this matter at the present time is because I know that there are many others besides myself who feel the sharp sting of the late criticisms of the press. The Police department feels the disgrace of this charge keenly. Every man on the force is interested in the investigation, for the reason that on our police force are some of Chicago's best citizens. Among them are some of the best fathers, the best husbands, and the most dutiful sons, and relationship oftentimes reaches into the best families of the city.

"Again, many of them have been on the force since attaining their majority, and have grown old and gray in the service, and, like myself, they deplore much any cause for criticism against any of the members.

"Members of this department will not allow themselves to be criticised in this unpleasant manner without a vigorous objection, and I join with them in making the protest and insisting that every guilty member be brought to justice.

"Joseph Kipley,
"General Superintendent."

McDougall Positive of Identity.

Before the Civil Service Commissioners McDougall time and again reiterated the statement that he positively identified Sheehan and Mosher as those who assailed and robbed him, although at times he was not clear as to the particular marks of identification.

Attorney Daniel Donahoe represented the two suspended policemen. Chief Kipley and Inspector Heidelmeier represented the Police department. All the Civil Service Commissioners were present, Commissioner Ela acting as chief examiner, as he is a lawyer.

Max Leeman, a bystander, said he saw the trouble and saw a broken watch chain dangling from Sheehan's vest. Albert H. Kritzer said he saw McDougall point out the two suspected patrolmen as his assailants.

SCHOOL FIGURES SHOW CHICAGO'S POPULATION TO BE 2,017,717.

Computation Made from Official Reports Forwarded to Mr. Cooley Gives the Total Almost Same as Result Deduced from the Directory.

The population of Chicago, according to estimates made on the basis of the school enrollment, was 2,017,717 on June 1, 1900, when the government census work began. The directory figure is 2,010,000. The computation is made from figures forwarded yesterday by Supervisor of School Census Stephen D. Griffin to Superintendent Cooley. According to Mr. Griffin's official figures the total enrollment for Chicago schools, including kindergartens, stands as follows:

Increase	5,813

The percentage of increase is thus shown to have been four and three-tenths, with a small fraction. The population of the city in May, 1898, according to the school census, was 1,851,588. Supposing that the increase has been at the same ratio in the school years 1898-'99 and 1899-1900, as in the latter year, the annual increase since 1898 would be 79,646, or for two years, 159,292, which would bring the city up to 2,010,880. Allowing for an additional month of growth, as the school census represents the population in May, while the government takes the number of people in June, the total of 2,017,717 is obtained.

The figures are confirmed by results deduced from prior school censuses. In 1894 the school count gave Chicago 1,567,727 souls. This census was taken in May. This shows an increase of 283,861 between May, 1894, and May, 1898, or 70,965 each year. On this basis, the population on May 1, 1900, was 1,993,510, and on June 1, 2,005,346, leaving a difference between the two estimates of but 12,371.

LAKE LEVEL SHIFTS AGAIN.

Water of Lake Michigan Rises and Falls a Distance of Four Feet—Attributed to Wind Squalls.

Waukegan, Ill., July 10.—The rising and falling of the water in Lake Michigan, which was noticed last Saturday, was repeated today. The rise and fall extended over four feet from high to low water, and at times the water went down so quickly that fish were left on the shore. Harbormaster Kennedy thinks that the tide was caused by wind squalls.

UNION TRACTION RAISES WAGES.

Increase of 10 to 15 Per Cent for North Side Employes, to Take Effect on Aug. 1, Is Announced.

ASKS FOR MORE COURTESY

MEN PRAISE THE NEW ORDER

Announcement was made yesterday to employés of the Chicago Union Traction company on the North Side lines by President John M. Roach that beginning on Aug. 1 an average increase of 10 or 15 per cent in their wages will be made. The total increase in the pay rolls of the company will amount to $100,000 a year. Pamphlets containing this information, with many suggestions for the better deportment of employés, were distributed at the street car barns. Two thousand men are affected by the order.

The new scale makes the minimum wage $1.50 a day, this to be paid to new hands on extra cable trains, and who have not regular employment. They are called "trippers," because they make only occasional trips and spend much time waiting at the barns. Gripmen and grip car conductors are to receive the maximum rate of $2.76 a day, or 23 cents an hour for twelve hours. The grip car conductor is given this rate because of extra work collecting on the grip, in addition to the first trailer. Motormen, cable trailer conductors, and trolley car conductors are to receive 21 cents an hour.

Employes Pleased at the Order.

Payment by the hour is a new system on the North Side lines, and is offered to the men at their option. The employés were greatly elated at the announcement. Within an hour after the first circulars were out the news had been passed along the lines. Jubilees were held at two of the barns later in the evening, and there was much cheering for President Roach. The raise in wages, coming at a time when no demand was being made, added to the surprise and pleasure it gave the men.

President Roach tells his employés in a circular letter of complaints of discourteous treatment of passengers and of careless conduct. He asks that the deportment of employés toward the public may be such that it will commend both themselves and the management to the patrons of the company. He says every employé must be a gentleman under any and all circumstances.

The first suggestion is concerning accidents. President Roach says some men in the service of the company have had no accidents in several years, while running on the same streets where others have had annoying and expensive accidents. Dismissal of men, he believes, would lessen the number of accidents, but he suggests the milder method of influencing every man to attend carefully to his duty.

Some "Don'ts" for Employes.

Some of the rules laid down are as follows:

"Be gentlemanly at all times."

"Elderly persons and women with children should be assisted."

"Don't start your car until passengers are safely on or off."

"Don't run by passengers without good reason for doing so."

"Wait for passengers wishing to catch your car at transfer points."

"Passengers should receive transfers when they ask for them, without display of temper, even if they have before refused."

"Chewing tobacco is offensive to many persons."

"Don't hold unnecessary conversation with passengers or fellow-employés."

"Look to the comfort of your passengers; keep the seats and floors clean and adjust the curtains and windows for protection from sun and rain."

"Take pains to act in a gentlemanly manner to any of the thousands of visitors who will attend the encampment of the Grand Army, and let them carry away a pleasant memory of courteous treatment."

President Roach Talks of New Move.

President Roach, concerning the circular, said: "The management of the Union Traction company desires the good will of all its patrons, and will do all it can within reason to meet the demands of the people. We will need the assistance of the traveling public; and it must be remembered that conductors often are placed in trying circumstances. Discourtesy, when a clear case is discovered, has been punished.

"The increase in wages to the North Side men is granted at a time no demands are being made. It means an increase of 10 to 15 per cent, and is given in appreciation of their general efficiency and loyalty. Personally I am pleased to be able to increase the rate this far."

Conductors Discuss the Order.

"It is certainly a fine order," said a conductor on a Lincoln avenue car. "If we had any 'kick' to make it would be for that which President Roach has given us without our asking. There is nothing else we want."

A conductor on a Chicago avenue car said the company would make money by the raise. "There are many ways in which a motorman or a gripman can cost the road money," he said. "If they use the reversing rod to stop the car instead of the brake, or throw on the sand and tie the brake rod tight, which will flatten the wheel, it costs the company a good deal of money in the long run. But I guess the boys will be more careful now, and many accidents will be avoided."

RECIPROCITY WITH GERMANY.

Arrangement Abating Duties on Numerous Articles Signed by Secretary Hay and the German Ambassador.

Washington, D. C., July 10.—The long expected reciprocity arrangement between the United States and Germany has been effected. Secretary Hay and the German Ambassador have subscribed to the convention, and the President will issue his proclamation putting the new duties in force in the course of a few days. The arrangement is generally similar in terms to the first arrangement made with France and abates duties on still wines, argols, paintings, and statuary from Germany entering the United States. It does not require the approval of the Senate, being drawn under section 4 of the Dingley act.

ADD MUSIC TO POLITICS.

REPUBLICAN WOMEN PLAN FOR CAMPAIGN WORK.

Glee Clubs Will Sing Songs That Contain Arguments to Catch Votes and Feminine Speakers Will Deliver Addresses to Men—Peter Grant, the Official Writer for the Organization, Gives a Melodious Appeal for Mrs. Carrie Alexander.

Following the dashing campaign methods of William Lorimer, whose jolly songs and vaudeville specialties have proved magnetic vote-getters for the blond boss of the party in Cook County, the Republican women of Illinois have decided on a program of elocutionary and song efforts to elect Mrs. Carrie T. Alexander university trustee. The work now mapped out by the Mary A. Logan Republican club in the Thirteenth Ward, Chicago, is to be duplicated in every city ward and country district in the State. Glee clubs will be organized, soloists and elocutionists employed; and then there will be a grand crusade for votes.

The members of the State Music committee, consisting of Mrs. J. Johnson, Mrs. Sarah Le Clere, and Mrs. Clarenda Cope, all of Chicago, are preparing plans and material for the numerous glee clubs. Their headquarters are at the Great Northern Hotel. They expect to be ready for work early in August. Miss Kate Campbell Sanders of Chicago has been secured as chief elocutionist, and with other women will stump the State for the party.

The special effort will be made to elect Mrs. Carrie T. Alexander, Republican candidate for university trustee, and during September Mrs. Alexander will be in Chicago and will speak under the auspices of every woman's Republican club in the city.

Peter Grant, 378 Oakley boulevard, has been chosen by the women as their campaign song writer. Mr. Grant has been poet laureate of the British societies of the United States and Canada.

First Song of the Campaign.

Already he has written one song, to be sung to the music of "Yankee Doodle." It is as follows:

When party bosses pay their court
You do their bidding blindly.
So when fair women ask support
We hope you'll give it kindly.

A ladies' candidate we've got.
And we are bound to land her.
For all the handsome men will vote
For Carrie Alexander.

Although we're new to politics,
The world, you know, is moving:
Already we have learned some tricks
And all the time improving.

She'll give your sons and daughters fair
The higher education
That makes them worthy to compare
With any in the nation.

She will not stand for party "pull,"
And all the ills attendant;
For why, she owns no boss' rule.
She's free and independent.

Her nomination's no mistake,
Her very rivals own it;
She's business-like and wide awake.
Her own affairs have shown it.

And if you men of common sense
Your manly votes accord her,
She'll justify your confidence,
And keep the men in order.

Logan Club Plans Work.

The Mary A. Logan Republican club of the Thirteenth Ward, under the leadership of its President, Mrs. Robert Ballantine, is planning an aggressive campaign. Mrs. Ballentine has organized an association of 1,200 British-American women of Chicago, who are pledged to work for the Republican ticket.

EMPEROR HSU MAKES APPEAL.

Message Said to Have Come from Him to Powers of Europe Expressing His Friendship.

REPORTS MORE HOPEFUL.

Fact That Japan Has Landed a Large Part of Her Immense Force Is Felt by All Interested.

EXPECTS A LONG CAMPAIGN.

Heavy Fighting with Modern Artillery Continued at Tien Tsin as Late as July 6, with Loss on Both Sides.

AMERICAN POLICY IS APPROVED.

LONDON, July 11, 3:30 a. m.—The Shanghai correspondent of the Daily Mail, telegraphing yesterday (Tuesday), says:

"A message has arrived here from Emperor Kwang Hsu, dated July 2, by couriers from Pekin to the Viceroy of Nankin, who forwarded it here. It is addressed to the Russian, English, and Japanese governments. It deplores the recent occurrences, and solemnly affirms that the foreign governments are mistaken in supposing that the Chinese government is protecting the Boxers against the Christians. The Emperor further implores their aid in suppressing the rebellion and upholding the existing government.

In a separate dispatch to the Japanese government Kwang Hsu expresses deep regret for the murder of Legation Chancellor Sugiyama.

"These dispatches are taken to indicate that the Emperor is in seclusion and is ignorant of the seriousness of recent events."

According to the Shanghai correspondent of the Express, it is war to the knife between the Dowager Empress and Prince Tuan. In a recent edict the latter boldly discards his mask and signs himself as Emperor. He warmly commends the prowess of "his faithful Boxers," and in flowery language appeals to their cupidity and fanaticism. In the same decree Prince Tuan appoints Prince Tzuan, the "Iron Capped," Prince Tsaishan his imperial clansman, and Kang Yi to command the three chief wings of the Boxer army.

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE BY ARTHUR L. CLARKE.]

LONDON, July 11, 3 a. m.—The latest bulletin issued by the Chinese officials at Shanghai is that the Pekin Legations were safe Monday, July 9. This is four days later than the time indicated in Consul Goodnow's messages.

Both reports may be pure fiction, but the confidence in the ability of the powers to save the lives of Europeans in the Chinese capital grows stronger hourly.

Japan Means Business.

The fact that Japan has landed a good part of her 23,000 men, 5,000 horses, 36 heavy mortars, and 120 field guns, together with pontoon and balloon sections, imperial engineers, and a full medical staff under fifty doctors has undoubtedly had an effect upon the Chinese mind as well as European.

Some Other Favorable News.

The resurrection of Emperor Kwang-Hsu from a suicide's grave and the recovery of the Empress Dowager's mind and her restoration to the throne; the capture by foreigners of the palce of Duke Ssu, situated opposite the east wall of the British compound; Ambassador MacDonald's reported interview with Prince Ching on May 27, in which the latter promised to personally undertake the protection of foreigners; and the successful repulse of the Boxers at Tien Tsin are among the other favorable signs of the hour.

Japan Plans Long Campaign.

Japan probably better than any other nation concerned realizes that the task of putting a lasting quietus on the Boxers is more than a month's outing and is making preparations accordingly. The truth is that Japan's plans of campaign contemplate a series of operations extending over a period of two or three years, the Japanese commanders insisting that it is a general and widespread revolution which has to be effectually crushed out and is not merely an outbreak on the part of a comparatively small body of malcontents like the Boxers.

Other Nations Distrust Japan.

These formidable preparations for a protracted campaign in north China continue to be viewed with distrust both by Russia and Germany, and one Shanghai report says the French commander has also made an urgent communication on the subject to his government.

Germany and Russia Active.

The marine brigade Germany is sending to China on July 20 will consist of 4,500 men under a Lieutenant General. Germany is also sending four more cruisers, and Russia is dispatching 30,000 men from the Russian colony at Arbin, to the southwest of Kirin, in order to join on the railway between Kirin and Tsitsihar.

It is estimated that fully 75,000 Chinese are opposing the 14,000 foreigners at Tien Tsin.

Chinese Artillery Effective.

At present the Chinese artillery fire is described as wonderfully accurate. In the fighting of July 3 and 4 the British losses alone were thirty killed and wounded, though they formed only a small proportion of the defending force.

Non-Combatants Sent to Taku.

Two hundred and fifty sick and wounded and three hundred women and children have been sent down the river from Tein-Tsin to Taku in barges.

Approves of Hay Circular.

The Times editorial leader this morning says:

"The policy laid down by the United States on the Chinese question in the circular from

Mr. Hay, the Secretary of State, which was published in Washington yesterday, will meet with general approbation and welcome in this country. While it is manifestly dictated exclusively by the intelligent appreciation of, and regard for, American interests, it coincided closely in all or almost all important respects with the avowed policy of this country. The reason is simple. In China the main interests of the United States and Great Britain are at present identical. Those interests of both countries are primarily commercial, and it is from their commercial interests that such political interests are derived as they severally possess."

Still Fighting at Tien Tsin.

A dispatch to the Times from Shanghai July 10 says: "Severe fighting continues at Tein Tsin. The chief difficulty of the allied forces is the absence of adequate water supply. The condition of the river is pestilential, but the advent of the rainy season has partially remedied this. While waiting transport the Japanese are massing stores at their base at Taku.

"Many refugees, foreign and native, are arriving from Tein Tsin, and the panic among the Chinese population continues, as is shown by the steady exodus from various parts. It is estimated that over 40,000 have left.

Imports Almost Stopped.

"The import trade is suspended, largely owing to native bankers restricting credit and most of the native cotton mills are closed.

"The Shanghai customs revenue for the quarter ended June 30 shows a decrease of 426,000 bales of cotton compared with the corresponding period last year.

"Emperor William's offer of a reward for the rescue of foreigners in Pekin is to be republished here, but the effect produced on the native mind is one of general incredulity.

"Missionary refugees from Noukden report a serious condition of affairs in Manchuria, large numbers of Manchu troops joining the Boxers, many missions were dstroyed, and the French Bishop and two nuns were murdered.

"New Chwang is protected by a Russian gunboat."

Powers Agree on Japan.

A dispatch to the Times from Berlin says: "In well informed quarters it is now asserted that the powers are entirely agreed that Japan shall send large bodies of troops for the purpose of suppressing the insurrection in China. On the other hand no room has been left for doubting that these military measures by Japan are to be carried out in coöperation with the other powers, and that Japan will acquire no special rights in consequence of her action. As a matter of fact, Japan has made no such demand."

Turk Interferes with Russia.

A Times dispatch from Odessa, July 7, says: "It is reported here that the Turkish authorities at Constantinople refused to allow cruisers belonging to the Russion volunteer fleet conveying troops from Black Sea ports to China to pass through the Bosporus and Dardanelles. There are now about 125,000 Russian troops at the Vladivostok and Port Arthur, Russian military districts, and in addition to the troops which Russia intended sending by sea to the far East, upwards of 7,000 men are to go overland from European Russia.

"A large number of military officers are being drawn from the different southern military districts for special service and will be dispatched overland to the far East.

"It is reported in official circles in south Russia that grand military maneuvers officially announced to take place in the autumn in the presence of the Czar are to be postponed."

Fight on Fourth at Tien Tsin.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

TIEN TSIN, Thursday, July 5.—Yesterday large forces of Chinese attacked the settlement from two directions—one from the western arsenal and the other upon the railway station on the opposite bank of the river. The Chinese evidently now have a more capable commander. The attack from the arsenal was directed upon what is probably the weakest point of the defense, which has hitherto not been pressed. The Chinese advanced on this side across an open plain without cover and the attack was easily repulsed by the British guns. The enemy made a simultaneous attack upon the station with a large infantry force, covered by the fire of eleven guns. The British replied with two of H. M. S. Terrible's 12-pounders and five smaller guns, while the combined forces of British, French, Russian, and Japanese infantry moved out to deal with the Chinese infantry attacks.

The Chinese artillery practice was excellent and the allied troops suffered severely from a well directed shell fire. The Japanese, whose behavior was splendid, executed a well conceived movement and succeeded in turning the Chinese left and driving the enemy from their strong position among the irrigation trenches. The Chinese retired to the native city and the allied infantry then withdrew and the affair became an artillery duel, lasting until darkness, with little damage to either side.

A British regiment of Chinamen which was engaged proved steady under fire.

The casualties of the allies have not yet been ascertained and it is impossible to estimate the enemy's loss.

Guns Added to Defense.

A welcome addition to the defense was received yesterday in the shape of two more of H. M. S. Terrible's "twelves." Painted on their carriages is the inscription, "Ladysmith to Tien Tsin—Immediate." The Algerine today sent two four-inch guns, which will do much toward equalizing the artillery strength of the allies with that of the enemy.

Most of the women and children left today, and the remainder will follow as opportunity offers. Two thousand Japanese troops landed at Taku today, and 13,000 more are expected within a few days.

Authentic News Hard to Get.

LONDON, July 11, 4:15 a. m.—"No authentic news from Pekin" is still the burden of the dispatches from the far East, and, although the disposition is to believe the optimistic reports from Chinese sources, no real confidence is possible until the legations, if they are still in existence, are permitted to communicate with their governments. If, as is alleged, the Boxer movement is losing ground in Pekin, it might have been supposed that the Boxers would have endeavored to send up reinforcements from Tien Tsin; but, instead of that, they are still in great force in the neighborhood of the latter place, and are assisted by the imperial Chinese troops, with ample efficient artillery.

Tien Tsin Fight Severe.

According to a special Chefoo dispatch, the fighting around Tien Tsin on the 3d and 4th was the severest yet experienced. The British losses alone were thirty killed or wounded. The Chinese had 75,000 men attacking simultaneously from the west, north, and east, and made excellent practice with over 100 guns. The defenders numbered 14,000, with scant supplies, and it was only the presence of the newly arrived Japanese and Russian guns that prevented a disaster.

One Russian company of infantry numbering 120 men had 115 killed or wounded. The German contingent also suffered heavily. By the evening of the 4th the situation was critical. The allies narrowly escaped total defeat. Providentially, when things were at their worst, a torrential rainfall compelled the Chinese to retire.

On July 6, the rain having abated, the Chinese resumed the attack, opening fire on Tien Tsin with two batteries of four-inch guns, but the allies, aided by two of H. M. S. Terrible's 4.7 guns, succeeded in silencing the Chinese artillery after eight hours of fighting.

Still Doubt Official News.

At Shanghai it seems now to be the general belief that the date of the dispatch of July 3, asserting that two legations were still standing, was an error, either accidental or intentional. The couriers must have left Pekin at least five days earlier, making the real date of the message June 28, while the alleged massacres are said to have occurred on June 30. Until this point can be cleared up the greatest anxiety will be felt as to the fate of the Europeans.

Japan's Elaborate Plans.

The Chefoo correspondent of the Express, telegraphing yesterday, says:

"The Japanese force is equipped with 36 heavy mortars and 120 field guns, and has pontoon and balloon sections. It is expected either Marshal Nodzu or Marshal Oyama will take command. The plan of campaign contemplates operations extending two or three years.

"A further force of 13,000 men will be landed at Taku a week hence, and 10,000 additional soon afterward. Before the rainy season is well advanced Japan hopes to have 63,000 troops in China.

"These formidable preparations are viewed with great distrust by Russia, Germany, and France.

Refugees in Sad Plight.

Three hundred European refugees from Tien Tsin have arrived at Shanghai in a state of destitution after terrible suffering.

The Chinese version of the origin of the outbreak, as published in Shanghai, is that Baron von Ketteler was hated by the Pekinese, who, taking advantage of the condition of affairs, shot him out of revenge, thereby causing a conflict between the Chinese troops and the Germans, the latter of whom destroyed the Tsung-li-Yamen. The infuriated soldiers under Prince Tuan then gained complete control over the Dowager Empress.

The Daily News' Tien Tsin correspondent says the allies have decided to bombard the native city, which they have hitherto hesitated to attack, owing to the heavy commercial interests involved.

Blame All on Prince Tuan.

LONDON, July 10.—The Chinese Legation here, though apparently unable to communicate directly with Pekin, is getting news from there indirectly. The officials of the legation declare the present trouble is entirely the work of Prince Tuan, and that the government, the Dowager Empress, and the Chinese generally are against the Boxers.

Continue Fighting at Tien Tsin.

A dispatch from Tien Tsin on Wednesday, July 4, says: "The Chinese shelled the foreign settlements all day long on July 3. Upwards of 150 shells fell into the concession, and many houses were partly wrecked.

"The casualties, however, were few, the civilians and women and children being ordered to seek shelter in the cellars of the town hall and the Astor Hotel.

"Three companies of Japanese infantry, a mountain battery, and body of Russians engaged the Chinese artillerists, but with little effect. The twelve-pounder of the British first-class cruiser Terrible then came into action, but the enemy placed two shells fairly under the gun, damaging the carriage and wounding the crew.

"The gun was withdrawn and replaced by a French gun, which had a similar experience, a shell bursting in the midst of its crew.

"The Japanese casualties during the day's fighting were an officer and two men killed and twenty men wounded. The casualties of the other forces engaged are not yet known.

"The Chinese in the vicinity of Tien Tsin have been reinforced during the last forty-eight hours by several thousand of General Mas' and General Sung's troops from Pekin. The Chinese have also mounted a number of heavy guns commanding the settlements.

"A force of Boxers numbering about 3,000 men was seen entering the native city yesterday.

"Vice Admiral Alexieff has arrived here and is expected to assume supreme command.

"The allied forces now number about 10,000 men, including 800 Japanese who arrived yesterday.

"Arrangements are being made to send all the women and children to Japan by way of Taku and Chefoo."

Rowdy Element Enlisting.

A dispatch from Shanghai, Monday, July 9, says:

"It is difficult to get news here, as the Consuls are dependent upon Sheng for Pekin news. He and other officials have large landed interests, and therefore, it is supposed, he will do his best to assist the foreigners in keeping the peace.

"A large number of rowdies are enlisting at the arsenals, which may thus get out of hand. The officials have turned all their attention to the defense of the Yang-tse and have guaranteed to protect foreigners at Yang-tse ports provided the foreigners established there remain quiet.

"No warships are allowed to land forces, and single warships only are allowed to pass the fortifications.

"Shang's proposal to form a Chinese volunteer corps has been rejected."

Dowager Resumes Control.

A dispatch of July 10 from Shanghai says: "News from official sources was received at 10 o'clock last night to the effect that the Empress had on June 30 resumed the reins of government and appointed Yung-Lu Prime Minister. It is said that she sent a dispatch to Nanking by courier at the rate of 100 miles per day, thanking the Viceroys of the Yang-tse-Kiang Provinces for their loyalty, and recommending that they protect foreigners at any cost."

Want Ships to Avoid Foo Chow.

PARIS, July 10.—The French Consul at Foo Chow telegraphs under date of July 10 as follows: "The town is calm. The Viceroy and the Tartar Marshal have issued a proclamation favorable to foreigners and asking that warships should not come to Foo Chow. They propose in return to take such steps as will avert trouble in the Fo Kien Province."

AMERICAN POLICY IN CHINA.

Note of Secretary Hay to the Powers Issued Officially Leaves No Doubt as to Intentions.

Washington, D. C., July 10.—[Special.]—Secretary Hay today made public the note of this government addressed to the powers, in which the policy of this government in China is defined. This information has been discounted to a considerable extent, and while the administration did not formally agree upon it until June 30, it was drafted some days previous to that time, and was fully outlined in THE TRIBUNE on June 28.

It is made clear that the United States does not propose to grab any Chinese territory and will see to it that none of the European nations nor Japan dismembers the empire. It is determined that the integrity of China shall be preserved, that all American rights shall be protected, and no matter what is the outcome of the present crisis all nations must be on an equal footing. China will be made a safe place for Europeans and Americans, but just how long it will take to bring this about and what means will be employed is a matter to be determined in the future.

This note, of course, is more or less distasteful to some of the powers, which had hoped to possess themselves of large slices of territory. It will be seen by the wording of the note that answers from the powers were not required, but it is understood nearly all the governments involved have acquiesced in the position of the United States, some of them with reluctance.

Therefore, when the time arrives to settle the account with China trade concessions and money indemnity will be demanded and these will be so heavy that China will be staggered by their immensity.

Text of Circular Note.

The circular which was sent out to our foreign representatives is as follows:

"Department of State, Washington, D. C., July 3, 1900.

"In this critical posture of affairs in China it is deemed appropriate to define the attitude of the United States as far as present circumstances permit this to be done. We adhere to the policy initiated by us in 1857, of peace with the Chinese nation, of furtherance of lawful commerce, and of protection of lives and property of our citizens by all means guaranteed under extra territorial treaty rights and by the law of nations. If wrong be done to our citizens, we propose to hold the responsible authors to the uttermost accountability.

"We regard the condition at Pekin as one of virtual anarchy, whereby power and responsibility is practically devolved upon the local provincial authorities. So long as they are not in overt collusion with rebellion and use their power to protect foreign life and property, we regard them as representing the Chinese people, with whom we seek to remain in peace and friendship.

"The purpose of the President is, as it has been heretofore, to act concurrently with the other powers, first, in opening up communication with Pekin, and rescuing the American officials, missionaries, and other Americans who are in danger; secondly, in affording all possible protection everywhere in China to American life and property; thirdly, in guarding and protecting all legitimate American interests; and, fourthly, in aiding to prevent a spread of the disorders to the other provinces of the empire and a recurrence of such disasters.

"It is, of course, too early to forecast the means of attaining this last result, but the policy of the government of the United States is to seek a solution which may bring about permanent safety and peace to China, preserve Chinese territorial and administrative entity, protect all rights guaranteed to friendly powers by treaty and international law, and safeguard for the world the principle of equal and impartial trade with all parts of the Chinese Empire.

"You will communicate the purport of this instruction to the Minister for Foreign Affairs. HAY."

WOULD-BE SUICIDE IDENTIFIED

Girl Who Swallowed Carbolic Acid in Douglas Park Jennie Cressey—She Will Recover.

The young woman found unconscious from the effects of carbolic acid taken with suicidal intent in Douglas Park on Monday night was identified yesterday as Jennie Cressey, who until a few weeks ago resided with Mrs. Pultz, on the third floor of the tenement-house, 1322 Twelfth street. Miss Cressey's condition is not serious. She will be able to leave the hospital soon. No reason for her attempt is known.

Although several persons have called at Speaber's undertaking establishment for the purpose of identifying the remains of the young woman who on Sunday night committed suicide by taking carbolic acid and jumping into the lake, the corpse remains unidentified. A tall, well-dressed man, who declined to give his name or address, viewed the body, thinking it might possibly be that of his wife, who disappeared a few days ago, but it was not. The body will be kept a day or so longer in the hope that it may be identified.

Speaber expects a letter today which may possibly identify the woman. This letter was promised in a telegram received by him last night from Hicksville, O., from a man named Klichner, who believes the body is that of his mother.

CUSTOMS OFFICER DECLARES WAR.

Collector Jackson of San Francisco Makes Blunder Regarding China.

GETS SHARP REBUKE.

Refuses to Admit Chinamen, Telling Them War Exists and Treaties Are Void.

PROTEST TO WASHINGTON.

Washington, D. C., July 10.—[Special.]—War against China was officially declared today by Collector of Customs Jackson at San Francisco. This extraordinary action caused consternation in administration circles, as it is diametrically opposed to the policy of the United States, which has taken particular pains to notify the powers that this government is at peace with China and has sent troops to the Celestial empire for the sole purpose of protecting American life and property.

The patriotic action of Collector Jackson took place in this manner: Several Chinese applied for admission to this country, and Collector Jackson refused peremptorily to even allow the Chinese to be examined as to their right to enter the country, declaring that owing to the conditions existing in Pekin that China and the United States were at war and that all treaties were null and void.

Make Protest to Minister Wu.

The Chinese were allowed to communicate with the Chinese Consul General, Ho Yow, however, to whom they told their tale of woe and protested against being debarred. The Consul General took issue with the Collector and promptly communicated the facts in regard to the action of the Collector to Mr. Wu, the Chinese Minister at Washington.

Mr. Wu hurried to the State department, saw Secretary Hay and told him of the advanced position of Collector Jackson, insisted that his government was not responsible for the chaotic conditions existing in China, and that Mr. Jackson's action was unwarranted.

Assurances were given the representative of the Empress Dowager that the act of Collector Jackson was not in accord with the policy of the government.

Secretary Gage was notified of what had transpired and asked what was the meaning of the attitude of the Collector at the Golden Gate. It was evident Mr. Jackson had acted on his own responsibility and without the formality of consulting his superiors and usurped the powers of Congress and declared war.

Collector Jackson Rebuked.

A strong message was sent by Secretary Gage, in which he reminded the belligerent Mr. Jackson that his action was unlawful, and that Congress alone possessed the power to declare war. He was also directed to admit the Chinese, and examine them, so as to determine whether they came to this country in pursuance of law. Mr. Jackson has, no doubt, obeyed these instructions, as no protest against carrying out his orders has been received.

John P. Jackson is the full name of the man who has anticipated the action of Congress. He was born in Ohio, and is an American of the most pronounced type. His resignation has not been demanded, and, while he has displeased the officials here, the prompt reversal of his policy of war on the Chinese will probably end the incident, and he will undoubtedly be permitted to retain his position, much to the gratification of the people of the coast, who would like to have all Chinese barred out.

Jackson Makes Explanation.

Collector Jackson explains that the report probably grew out of a remark he made to the effect that if it should prove true that the Chinese had killed a couple of thousand Americans in China, no more Chinese would be permitted to enter this country, and he should have no more cases to examine of Chinese applying for admission. He says it is probable his words about the Chinese were reported to the Chinese Consul, who warned Minister Wu.

Draw on Philippine Force.

Before the end of this week more American troops will leave the Philippines for the purpose of relieving the besieged foreigners in Pekin if they are still alive. They will be made up of two battalions of the Fourteenth Infantry, 900 men, Colonel A. S. Daggett commanding, and one battery of the Fifth Artillery, 138 men and six guns, Captain H. J. Reilly commanding. They will leave Manila on Friday for Taku to reinforce the American forces now operating with the international army.

These troops were ordered by General McArthur under instructions from the Secretary of War. It was contemplated at the War department that one battery of the Fourth Artillery would be included in these orders, but General MacArthur said that organization was in Samar and not available.

The dispatching of reinforcements from the Philippines is in pusuance of a determination reached by the administration to engage more actively and more extensively in the military operations in China. The war officials opposed vigorously drawing on the Philippines for soldiers for Chinese service, but the majority of the Cabinet favored moving at once and argued that if the rescue of imperilled Americans was aimed at soldiers must be sent from the nearest point.

General MacArthur strenuously objected to having any of his troops withdrawn, for the obvious reason that he needs the entire strength at his command to control the situation in the Philippine Archipelago.

The President agreed with the majority of his Cabinet, and such instructions were sent to General MacArthur that, while not imperative, orders to send soldiers to China were of a character that contemplated the action he has taken. General MacArthur emphasized, however, that he can spare no more troops at this time.

Preparing for Extensive Work.

It was disclosed by General MacArthur's telegram that arrangements are being made for extensive military operations by United States troops in China. A depot is to be established in China with supplies and provisions for 5,000 men for three months. A large reserve of ordnance stores is also to be provided and winter clothing is being forwarded for the Ninth Infantry.

When General Chaffee reaches China about Aug. 3 he will have under his command the Ninth Infantry, consisting of 1,436 men, two battalions of the Sixth Cavalry of 900, two battalions of the Fourteenth Infantry of 900 men, and one battery of the Fifth Artillery of 138 men, making a total of 3,374.

The marines now in China and under orders will aggregate about 1,400, thus making a total military and naval land force of 4,774. It is probable that another battery of artillery will be dispatched from the Philippines before General Chaffee arrives at Taku. There is now no doubt but that the destination of the two battalions of the Fifteenth Infantry scheduled to leave San Francisco on July 16 is Taku, and that will add 900 more men to the American contingent, making a total land force of about 5,600. Two battalions of marines are en route to China with the Sixth Cavalry, and the 500 ordered yesterday will be carried on the first available transports. General MacArthur will place the transports Indiana and Flintshire on the Chinese station.

Consul General Goodnow at Shanghai was heard from again today. He advised the State department that the Governor of Shuntung was authority for the statement that the legations at Pekin were standing July 5 and that the outlaws were dispersing. Mr. Goodnow added, however, that these statements did not obtain general credence.

There is little comfort in this dispatch, as advices from Chinese sources are of the most unreliable character.

The following official dispatch was received here tonight from China:

"Chefoo—Secretary of State: Shantung Governor wires he has reports of 4th of July. All legationists at Pekin safe except German. FOWLER, Consul."

GET WORD FROM TIEN TSIN.

Y. M. C. A. Informed of Safety of Missionaries Up to a Recent Date.

New York, July 10.—[Special.]—News that all the Americans at Tien Tsin were safe was received today by the International committee of the Y. M. C. A. at 3 East Twenty-ninth street, from Secretary Robert E. Lewis at Shanghai. The cable message read: "Have received the following telegram from Consul at Chefoo: 'All Tien Tsin Americans safe.' Nothing has been heard of Gaidey personally since June 17."

Mr. Gaidey and his family were recently reported to have been at Tien Tsin.

The Rev. Dr. A. B. Leonard of the Methodist Missionary board today sent dispatches to the representatives of the board in Shanghai and Chefoo, directing them to call in all missionaries if in peril.

Tells of Killing Catholics.

A letter from the Rev. Horace T. Pitkins, stationed at Pao Ting Fu, where the Boxer troubles began, has been received by the American board through Mr. Pitkin's wife, who is at present at Troy, O. The letter was dated May 28, and in it Mr. Pitkins tells of a fight in a nearby village on March 16. He says:

"It seems that in the moonlight of Saturday night the Boxers came down to the village, surrounded the houses of the Roman Catholics as they were pointed out to them, and then mobbed them, allowing no one to escape. Finally they fired the houses, and as the people rushed out from the flames they were killed and thrown back into the fire.

"Only one man escaped, and they pursued him. He jumped into a well, and so they fired their guns into the well and threw down bricks until, thinking him dead, they left. He managed to get out, and started for Pao Ting Fu, told the Roman Catholics, and they waited all day for other survivors to come. As none came on Monday they saw the provincial Judge and he sent soldiers, but they could find nothing.

"The Roman Catholics were absolutely wiped out, thirty or more.

"Everywhere it is known that they are not interfering with the Protestants. The Boxers are paying off old scores against the Catholics."

LARGER NUMBER TO BE TAXED.

Personalty Assessments Levied Against Approximately 50,000 as Against 39,663 in 1899—Totals Greater.

The first volume of valuations of personal property in the North Town, containing the Twentieth and Twenty-first Wards, completed late last evening, shows an increase of $232,165 over last year's Board of Review figures of $5,776,050, or a total assessed valuation of $6,008,215. This is an increase over the Assessor's 1899 valuation of $1,361,565.

The reason for this increase is largely the greatly augmented number of assessments. This applies all over the city. In the five North Town wards last year 2,943 assessments were made; this year 3,850. West Chicago assessments for 1899 and 1900, respectively, were 6,033 and 7,348; for the three wards of Hyde Park, 4,395 and 5,727; the three Town of Lake wards, 1,935 and 2,392; Lake View, 1,834 and 2,835. In the downtown wards the increase is also apparent. Throughout Chicago the assessments for 1899 numbered 37,870, as given by the Assessors. The Board of Review increased this 1,793 net, making the total 39,663. It is now believed that those of 1900 will exceed 50,000.

The total amount assessed as being one-fifth of the value of the personal property of Chicago in 1899 was $60,900,827, which the Board of Review raised to $73,620,662. Every sign thus far indicates that the Assessors' figures for 1900 will exceed those of the Board of Review for 1899.

SCHOOL TEACHER FOUND DEAD.

Miss Lyna Kleinpell Passes Away of Gas Asphyxiation—Coroner Gives Verdict of Accident.

Miss Lyna Kleinpell, a teacher in the Pulaski School, was found dead in bed in her room in the residence of Mrs. Eleanor Daucher, 513 La Salle avenue, yesterday morning. Death was due to asphyxiation. One gas jet was partially open. One of the windows was up a few inches, and it is supposed that a gust of wind blew out the gas. Deputy Coroner Weckler returned a verdict of accidental death.

Miss Kleinpell had intended to go yesterday to Madison, Wis., her parents' home, on a vacation, and left word to be called early in the morning. Mrs. Daucher detected the odor of gas and forced an entrance into Miss Kleinpell's room. Dr. Patrick was called, but life was extinct.

Miss Kleinpell was 32 years old. She had been a teacher in the Chicago Public Schools for fourteen years and was held in high regard. Her former pupils will meet today at the Pulaski School to take action on the death. A delegation probably will go to Madison with the body and attend the funeral. The teachers of the school will send a delegation to the funeral.

IRELAND TO VISIT EMPERORS.

Archbishop of St. Paul Will Be Guest of Kaiser and Czar Before He Goes to the Vatican.

St. Paul, Minn., July 10.—[Special.]—An important program was arranged for Archbishop Ireland before he left St. Paul a few weeks ago for Paris. It contemplates his presentation to Emperor William of Germany and Emperor Nicholas of Russia.

"I am not privileged to say much in regard to the Archbishop's movements in Europe," said a St. Paul prelate who is close to the Archbishop. "It is understood, however, that Archbishop Ireland will visit the imperial courts of Germany and Russia. The Emperor of Germany expressed a warm desire to personally see Archbishop Ireland after his engagement in Paris and before he had again visited the Holy See. I cannot but conclude that the two monarchs desire to establish a better footing with the Vatican. The course of the German Emperor toward Pope Leo has been one of great courtesy, respect, and consideration."

Emperor William has arranged for an official representative to meet Archbishop Ireland in Paris and escort him to Berlin. After an audience with Emperor William the Archbishop will be escorted to St. Petersburg, and after an audience with the Russian monarch he will leave for Rome.

MARRIED TO THE BEST MAN.

Girl Travels from Austria to Montana to Wed a Miner, but Chooses the Groomsman at the Altar.

Great Falls, Mont., July 10.—[Special.]—Miss Hannah Meier came all the way from Austria to Montana to marry Christopher Schmidt and then wedded the best man, Joseph Kunz. Schmidt made $65 out of the transaction. This happened in Stockett, a coal mining town near Great Falls. Miss Meier's change of mind came at the altar. The wedding guests had assembled when she announced that she didn't love Schmidt well enough to marry him, but preferred Kunz. While the guests waited the groom and best man negotiated. Kunz finally agreed to pay Schmidt $65, and the ceremony proceeded with the positions of the two reversed.

WALNUT, ILL., SWEPT BY FIRE.

Half of Business District Destroyed by Blaze Which Starts in Opera-House—Loss, $112,000.

Princeton, Ill., July 10.—[Special.]—Eighteen buildings in the business section of Walnut, comprising over half of the business part of the town, were destroyed by fire at 2 o'clock this morning, causing a loss of $112,000 with insurance of $48,000. The fire started in the opera-house building and extended an entire block on both sides of the street and to the grain elevator and passenger station. Several valuable buildings were saved by the timely work of the local fire department.

MURDER CHARGE EXCITES JOLIET.

Poles Shocked by Accusation Against Frank Shreffler of Burning Wife.

HEARING COMES TODAY.

Defendant Calls It Conspiracy of Her Relatives and Priest Supports Him.

CONFLICT OF TESTIMONY.

The Polish people of Joliet are stirred by a charge of wife murder by horrible torture against their most prominent leader. The accused man asserts, however, that he is the victim of a conspiracy. Frank Shreffler, for years one of the leading Polish residents, is in jail, charged with causing his wife's death by saturating her clothes with gasoline and setting them on fire. The charge is made by Edith Zentarski, a sister-in-law of the dead woman. She says that the woman, knowing death was near, declared the injuries were caused willfully by her husband.

Shreffler charges that the relatives of his dead wife have formed a conspiracy to send him to the gallows in order to secure his property, valued at over $12,000. In substantiation of the claims of the accused the Rev. Father Pawlowski of the Holy Cross Church states that, while he was visiting the dying woman in his capacity of spiritual adviser, she made no charge against her husband. She told him her injuries were received while rescuing her children from the flames caused by a gasoline stove explosion.

Priest's Word Against a Relative's.

Upon the relative weight as evidence that is given to these two purported dying statements, which will be repeated at the preliminary hearing of the accused this morning, depends to a large extent the result. One or the other statement must be disregarded by the magistrate when the case is heard. The sentiment of the Polish residents is largely with the accused.

Mrs. Shreffler was burned by a gasoline explosion. According to the statement of her husband he took home some of the altar linen from the Holy Cross Church, it being the Shrefflers' turn, according to the church custom, to wash and iron it. His wife took the linen and going into the kitchen lighted the gasoline stove. A few minutes later he was aroused by the screams of his wife. Rushing to the kitchen he found her clothes in flames. She had their baby in her arms and an 8-year-old daughter was clinging to her dress. He pushed his wife from the house, threw the baby after her, and then fell unconscious.

Recovering in a few moments he found himself burned and the flesh falling from his hands. The next thing he knew he was in a hospital.

Neighbors Confirm Shreffler's Story.

The neighbors substantiate the story told by the accused, and Father Pawlowski says Mrs. Shreffler admitted to him that she was filling the gasoline stove while it was lighted.

After Mrs. Shreffler had been in the hospital two days her sister-in-law, who now charges Shreffler with murder, insisted that the injured woman be moved to her house. The hospital authorities advised against it, but the removal was made. The next day she was brought back to the hospital, where she died on June 23.

Mrs. Shreffler gave $209 and a certificate of deposit for $400 to Mrs. Zentarski for safe keeping. After her death Shreffler asked Father Pawlowski to secure them for him. When he made a demand for them the relatives threatened to have Shreffler arrestd for murder if they had to surrender the money. When Shreffler left the hospital this week he demanded the money. His arrest followed.

Shreffler is confined in the County Jail, and no one is allowed to see him except Father Pawlowski. The State's Attorney who will prosecute the case refuses to make any statement. Other officials around the Courthouse do not appear to give the charges against the accused much weight. The attorney for the defense claims that Shreffler has a clear defense.

DEATH OF GABRIEL RUBEL.

Pioneer Stockman of Chicago Succumbs to Old Age—Burial at Rosehill Tomorrow.

Gabriel Rubel, who was a live stock dealer in Chicago fifty-one years ago, died at 6:30 o'clock last evening. He was 84 years of age, and had been a retired capitalist since 1884. Death came to him at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. Samuel S. Bruker, 4818 Langley avenue, where he made his home. His health had not been bad, and during the day he seemed as well as usual, but shortly after 6 o'clock he was seized with a hemorrhage of the lungs and soon succumbed.

Mr. Rubel was born in Kaiser-Lautern, on the Rhine. He came direct to Chicago from his native land, and founded a most prosperous business. During the latter years of his activity his transactions with European firms amounted to hundreds of thousands of dollars annually.

Over a score of years ago Mr. Rubel was a partner of Nelson Morris for a time, and later was in business with Isaac Waixel. His wealth was told in at least six figures, and possibly seven.

He left six children, Isaac and Samuel Rubel of Kansas City; Mrs. Eliza Reineman of Munich, Germany; Mrs. J. L. Morganroth of Louisville, Ky.; Mrs. Jules Morganroth and Mrs. Bruker of Chicago. Interment will be at Rosehill, and services will be at the residence tomorrow afternoon.

PRICE OF SUGAR IS ADVANCED.

Trust Raises It to $6 a Hundred—Increase to $7 Before Long Is Expected.

Prices of sugar have been given another advance by the trust to 6 cents a pound wholesale, the highest price in several years. The latest advance, and the eighth since May 22, was made on Monday. On May 22 the wholesale price was $5.20 a hundred pounds. It is expected that the price ultimately will go to 7 cents. According to the estimates of local jobbers the advance since May 22 increases the profits of the sugar trust something like $40,000,000. When the advance began, wholesale men say, the price was below the cost of refining. An advance to 7 cents would be exorbitant, however, the jobbers say.

BODIES TAKEN FROM IDLER.

Remains of Mrs. Corrigan, Mrs. Rielly, and Etta Corrigan Recovered from Wrecked Pleasure Yacht.

Cleveland, O., July 10.—Three bodies were recovered from the wrecked schooner Idler today. They were those of Mrs. James Corrigan, Mrs. Charles Rielly, her daughter, and Miss Etta Corrigan, daughter of Captain John Corrigan. The bodies of Ida Corrigan, Jane Corrigan, and Baby Rielly could not be found in the hold of the yacht or in the lake in the vicinity. The remains were brought back to Cleveland. The funeral of Miss Etta Corrigan will take place tomorrow afternoon. Mrs. James Corrigan and Mrs. Rielly will be buried on Thursday afternoon.

TABLES EPWORTH M'KINLEY SALUTE

Convention at Peoria Refuses to Send Greetings to the President.

LATER IT CHEERS HIM.

Leaguers Fear That Farson Motion Would Lead Them Into Politics.

CHICAGO MEN IN THE LEAD.

Peoria, Ill., July 10.—[Special.]—The Illinois Epworth leaguers today refused to send greetings to President McKinley.

Later, however, as though repenting of their action, they violently cheered the mention of the President's name.

It was when John Farson of the Oak Park Methodist Episcopal Church and President of the Methodist Social union of Chicago made the following motion just before the close of the afternoon session that the first exciting feature of the convention developed:

"I move that a telegram of greetings be sent by this convention to that magnificent, loyal Methodist, the President of the United States, William McKinley."

No sooner had Mr. Farson uttered the last word than a dozen men were on the floor clamoring for recognition. The Rev. J. H. Batten, a former Peoria pastor, who now serves the leading Methodist church at Macomb, was on his feet and caught the eye and ear of Chairman Van Pelt.

"I object to the motion," he said. "I question the power of this convention to send congratulations to any of the political candidates, and I move that the motion lie on the table."

R. W. Ropiequet of Belleville urged for the sake of harmony that Mr. Farson withdraw the motion. He said that the Chicago man if he would give the matter a second thought would withdraw his motion for harmony's sake.

"I think," said Mr. Farson, "that some of the friends here have misunderstood my motion. I did not say congratulations, but greetings. I think it is clearly within the province of this convention to send a telegram of greetings to that magnificent Methodist, the President of the United States. I mean that the telegram be sent to him as a Methodist and not as a political candidate."

Questions McKinley's Loyalty.

Up jumped A. R. Jones of Flanagan, a Methodist preacher.

"Gentlemen of this convention," he said, "I want you to understand now that there are some in this convention who do not consider the President a magnificent, loyal Methodist."

President Van Pelt realized that the debate was getting too far advanced and when the motion to table had been put he promptly declared it carried.

At the evening session Dr. R. W. Crawford of Allegheny College paid a glowing tribute to President McKinley. Instantly the convention was on its feet, and the demonstration lasted for fifteen minutes. The delegates yelled themselvs hoarse and waved handkerchiefs and hats in the air.

Chicagoan for President.

The Rock River Conference will have the Presidency for the next two years. Alfred Dixon of Chicago, the present Treasurer, is making an active canvass for the position, but it seems likely that it will go either to the Rev. H. V. Holt or to Dr. J. G. Wolfe of Chicago.

The southern portion of the State will be awarded the next convention, two years hence. Mount Carmel is the only applicant.

The first session of the State convention, in the afternoon, was largely of a welcoming nature, the Mayor welcoming the delegates, while representatives of the Baptist Young People's union and the Christian Endeavor extended fraternal greetings.

Delegates have been pouring into the city all day, and tonight there are more than a thousand here.

A special train brought the delegates from the Rock River Conference district this afternoon, while another special brought in the delegates from the southern portion of the State.

DELEGATES LEAVE FOR PEORIA.

Epworth League Members of the Rock River Conference Go by Special Train to State Convention.

The Rock River conference delegates to the State Epworth league convention at Peoria, Ill., about 500 in number, assembled at the Rock Island Depot yesterday morning shortly after 9 o'clock and started for Peoria by special train, which left at 10. The districts represented by delegates on the train were the Chicago, Chicago Northern, Chicago Western, Chicago German, Chicago Swedish, Chicago Norwegian-Danish, Dixon, Freeport, Joliet, and Rockford. Many women were in the party. Among the delegates in the party were some of the most prominent candidates for the honor of State President, which will fall to the Rock River district this year, including Alfred Dixon, the present State Treasurer; Henry S. Hensche, and Dr. Joseph Greenberry Wolf of Chicago, and the Rev. Harlow V. Holt of Avondale.

TEST OF SUBMARINE BOAT.

Remodeled Argonaut Makes Successful Trip of Eight Hours, Carrying a Party of Twenty-two.

Bridgeport, Conn., July 10.—[Special.]—The first public demonstration of the remodeled submarine boat Argonaut took place today in the sound about a mile from the nearest shore and six miles out from Bridgeport.

Aboard the Argonaut was a party of twenty-two, including the inventor, Captain Lake, Captain Evans, and a crew of four men, two divers, and fourteen others, comprising newspaper men and friends of Captain Lake.

The trial lasted eight hours, with four hours' continuous submersion, and in this period the party had a dinner prepared on board.

The final test was raising a can buoy off Penfield reef. This had been filled with fifteen tons of coal from a sunken barge. The trip was pronounced satisfactory in every respect.

John P. Breitling Fined for Contempt.

John P. Breitling, a lumber dealer of Oak Park, was fined by Judge Burke yesterday $25 for calling Attorney H. R. Baldwin a liar. The lumber dealer was testifying in the suit against him instituted by Dr. J. W. Tope and Dr. J. D. Waller, who claim $124 for medical services. Questions of the attorney irritated Breitling, and he responded as stated. A verdict for $118 was returned.

Annie Oakley Held to the Grand Jury.

On a charge of arson Mrs. Annie Oakley was held to the grand jury yesterday by Justice Kehoe. The woman formerly lived at Austin avenue and Green street in a house owned by Joseph Van A[illegible]ker. Recently he compelled her to move and now says the woman returned there and set fire to the house. No serious damage was done. She denies the charge.

ASTOR FLEES TO BOHEMIA

RATHER THAN FACE THE SOCIAL STORM HE GOES TO MARIENBAD.

Makes No Announcement of His Purpose, but It Is Thought He Will Stay There Until After London Season Is Ended—Lady Randolph Churchill and George Cornwallis West Intend Making a Year-Long Tour of the World After Wedding on July 28.

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE BY ARTHUR L. CLARKE.]

LONDON, July 11.—Rather than face the social storm in store for him as the result of his differences with Captain Sir Berkeley Milne over the invitation to his garden party William Waldorf Astor last night packed his luggage and departed for Marienbad in Bohemia. There it is supposed the ambitious American exile will remain until the London season is over.

Lady Randolph Churchill, who is to be married on July 28 to George Cornwallis West of the Scots Guards, proposes more or less to follow the fortunes of the hospital ship Maine, which will leave about the same time for China.

Will Make Tour of World.

Lady Randolph Churchill and her husband intend to make a year's trip around the world, and their itinerary will include China, Japan, and other Eastern countries. The report that West had been ordered to rejoin his regiment proves to be an error.

Lady Sarah Wilson Starts Home.

Lady Sarah Wilson is starting for England this week and Major Gordon Wilson is coming back with her so that Lady Georgiana Curzon has given up her intention of going to meet her sister half way.

Marie Corelli was badly shaken and considerably bruised on leaping from a carriage, the horses being frightened by a motor car.

WELCOME TO GEN. WHEELER.

Columbia Post Gives Him a Reception at Memorial Hall—Will Address Students on Tuesday.

"Fighting Joe" Wheeler was welcomed by Chicago veterans at a camp fire given by Columbia Post at Memorial Hall last evening. The mingled cheers of confederate and union veterans greeted him. Over 200 were present when Dr. J. C. Irey, chairman of the Entertainment committee, called the meeting to order. Dr. C. S. Eldridge made the address of welcome to General Wheeler. The General responded in an informal talk replete with incidents of the civil and Spanish-American wars. General John C. Black, Colonel Patterson, and W. S. Elliott also spoke.

General Wheeler has accepted an invitation from the members of the Southern club at the University of Chicago to deliver an address to the students next Tuesday.

FAIL TO SHAKE CABINET.

FRENCH PARLIAMENT ADJOURNS FOR SUMMER VACATION.

Violent Attacks on Waldeck-Rousseau Ministry Have Not Harmed Administration, Which Will Continue in Power Until After the Exposition Closes—President Loubet Issues 455 Fourteenth of July Pardons—Remember Soldiers in China.

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE BY GRACE CORNEAU.]

PARIS, July 10.—The Chamber of Deputies, after bitter reproaches from the Nationalist leaders and insults hurled at the government, besides protestation against leaving the Chinese question to be attended to, adjourned for the summer vacation.

Millerand was accused of placing incompetent and corrupt men on the exposition juries, but he replied upholding his appointments.

Word of Sympathy for Soldiers.

President Deschanel asked the Chamber before ajourning to send sympathy to the soldiers fighting for France in China, and then Waldeck-Rousseau read the decree of cloture, and, President Deschanel, mounting the tribune, declared the session closed. Deputy Lasies asked that Waldeck-Rousseau end up with a prayer, urging him to say many things to the Pope.

The Minister of Justice then read the order closing the Senate.

Government Sure to Stay.

The adjournment of Parliament leaves the government safe in power until fall, with little chance of the Premier calling a session until after the close of the exposition.

There are no regrets for either body, as the Senate disgraced itself in its High Court illegalities, while the Chamber's disorderly series of séances are the shame of France.

Greeting to Danish Princess.

The government sent an official greeting to Princess Valdemar of Denmark and the Grand Cross of the Legion of Honor, commissioning her to give it to her husband.

General Dodds Is Ill.

General Dodds is not in a state of health to assume command of the French troops in China and General Voyron of the Marine Infantry is the next choice.

Fete Pardons Are Granted.

The desecrators of St. Joseph's Church have been pardoned by the President of the republic among the 455 general pardons issued on the occasion of the national fête.

French Troops Off for China.

TOULON, July 10.—The French ship L'Aquataine sailed from this port today with 850 infantry soldiers and artillery for China.

DENY RUSSIAN TREATY.

GERMAN OFFICIALS DECLARE CHINESE AGREEMENT NEEDLESS.

Powers Have Since War with Japan Been on a Road in China from Which They Cannot Turn Back—Kaiser Now Proposes International Agreement to Withhold All Military Aid and Supplies—Von Reitzenstein Pardoned and Sent to the Front.

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE BY D. B. MACGOWAN.]

BERLIN, July 10.—The Foreign office denies that Germany and Russia have any contract or treaty, or have made any anticipatory agreement, respecting China, but freely admits, according to one official, that they can say emphatically and proudly that "the two countries are in complete accord and our relations are so good that a treaty is quite superfluous." The same representative said that another highly significant fact is that Germany suggested that a French officer assume supreme command of the international forces.

History Repeating Itself.

The situation now is apparently quite similar to that at the close of the Japanese-Chinese war, when Germany, supported by Russia and France, cheated Japan out of the fruits of her victory. "That is the source of all the subsequent trouble and Europe then entered a road from which there is no turning back," said a diplomat of thirty years' experience, "and to me the question now is will England support Japan more effectively than she did five years ago?

"Many competent observers believe she will, and if she does a war is probable."

To Stop Aid to Chinese.

Germany is attempting to procure an international agreement forbidding the sale of materials of war by European nations to China or the training of Chinese armies by European officers, although the active participation of German firms and officers in the modernization of the Chinese armies has never been denied.

Sends von Reitzenstein to Front.

The Emperor yesterday issued a Cabinet order pardoning Major von Reitzenstein from the remaining three weeks of imprisonment for his service in the Boer army, and commanded Von Reitzenstein to join the army to be sent to China.

Lloyd Steamer for Hospital Ship.

BERLIN, July 10.—The North German Lloyd mail steamer Gera has been chartered by the Ministry of Marine for a hospital ship for use in Chinese waters, and the same company's new steamer Strassburg for transport service there.

France Votes Chinese War Fund.

PARIS, July 10.—The Chamber of Deputies and Senate today voted an addition 14,500,000 francs ($2,900,000) for the purpose of carrying on France's operations in China.

Mrs. Manning Gives Luncheon.

PARIS, July 10.—Mrs. Daniel Manning gave a luncheon today to the Exposition National Commissioners. Ambassador Porter, Archbishop Ireland, and Consul General John K. Gowdy were among those present.

GREET ENVOYS IN PARIS.

BOER DELEGATES GIVEN HEARTY OFFICIAL RECEPTION.

Minister Delcasse Holds Long Conference with Them and They Are Later Made Object of Public Congratulations by President and Members of the City Council—Crowds Assemble in Front of Municipal Building and Cheer Them on Every Occasion.

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE BY GRACE CORNEAU.]

PARIS, July 10.—Foreign Minister Delcasse today officially received the Boer delegates and gave them a long audience at the Quai d'Orsay. Dr. Leyds accompanied the Boers and introduced them to Minister Delcasse, who, while cordial, refused to talk politics or to allow the Boer envoys to make an appeal.

After their visit they left their cards for Premier Waldeck-Rousseau, who did not receive them. Then they went to the City Hall, where they were given a most hearty reception by the President of the Council and a majority of the Councilmen.

In his address the President of the Council said: "There is not a city or village where the cause has not had its defenders. The City of Paris is happy to have the honor of saluting you. For months the republics of the Transvaal have astonished the world by the force of their resistance. All is not lost so long as the sympathy of the people is with you. We drink the health of Kruger and Steyn."

Three thousand people were massed in front of the City Hall and cheered the delegates on their arrival and departure.

The Council of the Department of the Seine afterwards received the delegates, whose presence in Paris has doubled the subscriptions to the Boer cause.

FOR A CUBAN CONSTITUTION.

Council of Secretaries Considers Method of Selecting Delegates to the Coming Convention.

Havana, July 10.—A meeting of the Council of Secretaries was held today and a long consultation was had regarding the constitutional convention. Military Governor Wood stated that he had received letters from the Civil Governor and others asking that the delegates to the convention be chosen at a general election instead of being elected by the present municipalities. Some also urged that two weeks be allowed for additional registration of qualified electors, as it is claimed that at present a large number refrained from registering for the municipal elections owing to a lack of interest. The present plan, which seemed acceptable to the Secretaries, is that twenty-five delegates be elected by the provinces, according to population, those elected to choose three delegates from among the Secretaries, three from the Civil Governors, one from the Supreme Court, and three from the audencias of the island, making a total of thirty-five.

VAUGHAN TO GO TO ROME.

ENGLISH CARDINAL ANNOUNCES HIS INTENDED VISIT.

Will Be Accompanied by Many Pilgrims to Participate in the Ceremonies of the Closing of the Holy Doors—Pope Leo Intends Specially Dedicating First Year of New Century with Great Solemnity—Italians Enthusiastic Over Going to China.

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE BY OSCAR DURANTE.]

ROME, July 10.—Cardinal Vaughan will come to Rome on Oct. 18 and again on Dec. 27 with numerous English pilgrims to participate in the festivities attending the closing of the holy doors and inaugurating the jubilee of the new century which the Pope proposes to dedicate to the Redeemer.

Pope Leo Greatly Pleased.

The Pontiff received the announcement with great joy, being lately much concerned about the bad feeling created among the English Catholics towards the Vatican.

The Pope personally dictated a warm telegram congratulating Cardinal Vaughan's successful efforts.

Troops Eager to Go to China.

The Chinese expedition causes great enthusiasm among the troops drafted from the different cities of Italy. Two thousand are already concentrated at Naples and the following transports have been ordered to China: the Giava, Montebello, Sangiorio, Etna, Colombo, Manila, Letimbro, Gottardo Indipendente, and Florio. They will go via the Red Sea to Hongkong, Shanghai, and Taku.

The soldiers carry the latest guns and revolvers, with a million and a half of cartridges. The Count de Turin offers to go with them to China.

Wedding of New York Girl.

Miss Alice Hallgarten of New York was married yesterday to Baron Franchetti.

Chicagoans in Rome.

Among the Chicago arrivals here are Charles Wilson, Miss Delite Wilson, and Mrs. John Wilson.

ROYAL MARRIAGE AT MUNICH.

Prince Ruprecht, Heir to Throne of Bavaria, Weds Duchess Marie Gabrielle.

MUNICH, July 10.—Prince Ruprecht, heir apparent to the Bavarian throne, was married here today to the Duchess Marie Gabrielle of Bavaria. Emperor William was represented at the ceremony by Prince Joachim Albrecht of Prussia.

Hodgson Reaches the Coast.

LONDON, July 11.—The Daily Mail's Accra correspondent, telegraphing July 10, says: "Sir Frederic Mitchell Hodgson (Governor of the Gold Coast Colony) and his wife arrived at Cape Coast Castle today. The remainder of the party is expected tomorrow."

WOUNDED BURGLAR IS ARRESTED WHILE IN THE COUNTY HOSPITAL.

Patrick Lally, Shot by Edward Dorney When Leaving the Latter's House, 32 Milton Avenue, Is Taken in Custody by Police.

Patrick Lally was arrested at the County Hospital yesterday on a charge of attempted burglary and robbery at the residence of Dennis Dorney, 32 Milton avenue. Lally has a bullet wound in his right lung, received while trying to commit burglary. He is in a serious condition, but will not die. He was taken to the County Jail hospital by police of the East Chicago Avenue Station.

Lally and two companions entered Dorney's residence early in the morning. Dorney awoke, and, jumping out of bed, grabbed one of the burglars. The man drew a revolver, but Dorney seized his hand and prevented him from shooting. Mrs. Dorney heard the noise of the struggle and went to her husband's help. At the same time the burglars ran to their companion's aid. Mrs. Dorney attacked one of them, throwing him to the floor. While they were struggling Dorney took the revolver away from his antagonist and the man jumped out of the window. The burglar whom Mrs. Dorney had attacked managed to free himself, and he and the third man jumped out the window.

Dorney fired several times at the three men. He said afterward that he hit the one with whom he had struggled, for the man fell and cried to his companions as they ran not to desert him. They returned to him and helped him get away.

The police arrested William Milligan, 17 years old, on suspicion of having been one of the three burglars. He confessed and implicated Lally.

Mrs. Dorney identified Lally as one of the burglars. Lally made no denial. He completed a five years' prison sentence a few months ago. His brother, Edward Lally, is now serving a sentence in the penitentiary for burglary.

Many burglaries have been committed on the North Side within the last few weeks, in each case by three men, and the police believe Lally and his companions have been in them. The houses entered were those following:

Fred Steffan, 20 Milton avenue.
Palmira Luckesi, 37 Milton avenue.
Max Sokalski, 111 Milton avenue.
August Grace, 114 Milton avenue.
Isaac Levine, 39 Milton avenue.
Dennis Dorney, 32 Milton avenue.
Charles Peterson, 115 Milton avenue.
Adolph Carlson, 67 Milton avenue.
Charles Peterson, 99 Milton avenue.

After being discovered in the flat of Mrs. Ida Mellinger, 178 North Halsted street, early in the morning, William Hayes made a leap for liberty through a third-story window. He was unsuccessful in making his escape as Policemen Meehan and Sterling captured him. In his possession was found a package which contained silverware and jewelry that he had taken from Mrs. Mellinger's apartments.

Hayes entered the flat by climbing up a fire escape to the third story and then, while he steadied himself between two buildings, he raised a window leading into a bedroom of Mrs. Mellinger's flat and pulled himself into the house.

Accused Under Oleomargarine Law.

John R. Roney of the Ceylon and Tea company at 760 West Forty-seventh street, and his driver, William McDowell, were held to the federal grand jury by United States Commissioner Foote on the charge of violating the internal revenue laws by shipping oleomargarine improperly marked.

Another Smallpox Case Found.

Another case of smallpox was discovered yesterday by Dr. Spalding of the Health department. The victim is Samuel Becks, a colored man living at 4637 Armour avenue. Becks formerly lived at 911 East St. Clair street, Indianapolis. He took sick there on July 2, but came here on July 6. The patient was sent to the Isolation Hospital. He is 35 years old.

STEAMER CORNELL LAUNCHED WITH THE JAPANESE CEREMONY.

Another Addition to Carnegie's Big Ore Carrying Fleet Floated at South Chicago—Will Be Ready for Service in Three Weeks, It Is Expected.

Four doves liberated from a golden cage as the steamer Cornell started down the ways at the launching at South Chicago yesterday took the place of the traditional bottle of wine broken on the ship. Previous to the sending of the steamer down the ways Miss Etta Gunnell of Buffalo, sister of Superintendent Gunnell of the shipyard, stood on the launching stage and held the cage which contained the doves, and liberated them at the signal. The custom is taken from the Japanese, and has been used in launching all of the new boats of Carnegie's Pittsburg Steamship company, to which the Cornell belongs. The launching took place in the afternoon at 2 o'clock. The Cornell will be ready for service in three weeks. It is a modern ore carrier with a capacity of 7,500 gross tons.

W. A. PAULSEN ADMITS JUGGLING BANK BOOKS TO PASS THE AUDITOR.

Former President of the Central Trust and Savings Institution Cross-Examined at His Trial on Charge of Receiving Deposits When Insolvent.

William A. Paulsen, former President of the failed Central Trust and Savings Bank, admitted on cross-examination yesterday juggling the accounts and cash to pass the examination by the Bank Auditor. Paulsen is on trial in Judge Brentano's court charged with receiving a deposit of $209 after his bank had become insolvent.

An extract from the minutes of the bank directors' meeting held Dec. 17, 1895, showed that Paulsen deposited to the credit of W. A. Paulsen, special, a draft on a London, England, bank to the amount of $38,000, which he carried on his bank books as cash until Jan. 31, 1896, when it was entered on the books as returned unpaid. Paulsen admitted that the draft was never really deposited nor sent to London.

Witness admitted that the original stock of $200,000 was mostly paid from assets of two old banking concerns, the Western Trust and Savings Bank and the Bank of Paulsen & Sparee, and that when the bank was visited by the auditor $200,000 was brought to his bank in cash and exhibited to the auditor and returned to the other banks after the departure of the auditor.

When court was adjourned Paulsen was being examined as to the value of the bills receivable. He admitted that three notes carried as assets and amounting to $14,000 were those of irresponsible clerks in his employ, and that of the $196,000 bills receivable all but $48,000 were held as collateral for debts of the bank when it failed.

JURY SWORN IN TRIAL OF ALEXANDER JESTER FOR GATES MURDER.

Most of the Men Who Will Determine the Fate of the Aged Prisoner Were Born Since the Crime Was Committed—Long Indictment Is Read.

New London, Mo., July 10.—[Special.]—A jury was sworn in the Jester trial today, and Prosecuting Attorney Rodes read the indictment, containing twelve counts, charging the prisoner with murdering Gilbert W. Gates in every manner and by every means a murder could well be committed. The jury is composed principally of young men, three-fourths of them having been born since the alleged crime was committed.

The courtroom was packed to its utmost capacity. During the reading of the long indictment the aged prisoner remained motionless. His face wore a stolid, even a defiant, look.

Extradite Rice, Rutledge, and Jones.

Fred Lee Rice, Frank Rutledge, and Thomas Jones were held yesterday for extradition to Canada for trial on charges of robbing banks and postoffices. The case was closed before Commissioner Mark Foote. There had been many continuances, and each time one of the interested witnesses was Myrtle Norric, the former model and sweetheart of Rutledge. Several other women, friends of the defendants, were present. Attorney Trude will ask Judge Kohlsaat to release the prisoners on a writ of habeas corpus.

Mary Rehm, Scolded, Leaves Parents.

Mary Rehm, 16 years old, 7946 Parnell avenue, left home on July 5, and her parents have not heard from her since. On July 4 the girl's father reprimanded her for staying out late nights. The next day she left, and the police have been unable to find her.

ARREST OF POLICEMAN MAY PROVE BOOMERANG TO "LOAN SHARKS."

P. W. Horan Taken in Custody on the Charge of Securing Money and Credit by False Pretenses—His Attorney Promises a Sensational Exposure.

Patrolman Patrick W. Horan of the Lawndale Avenue Station was arrested yesterday on the charge of obtaining money and credit under false pretenses from David Weber, 92 La Salle street, and on preliminary examination before Justice Wood was sent to the County Jail in default of a $500 bond to await the action of the July grand jury. His attorney, Robert E. Cantwell, says his trial will result in a sensational exposé of the manner in which policemen are robbed by "loan sharks," and declares that there will be an investigation which will involve every branch of city official life.

Attorney Cantwell was long in secret consultation with State's Attorney Deneen, and laid before him evidence in connection with alleged "loan shark rings." Furthermore, he has filed a petition citing Morris Panush and Solomon Lewinsohn to appear before Judge Kohlsaat this morning to show why they should not be fined for contempt of court for alleged disobedience of a restraining order to the effect that action can be taken in such matters only in cases of bankruptcy. Lewinsohn and Panush are copartners in the Municipal Banking association, and it is asserted in the petition that they, with David Weber, are connected with the Chicago Credit company.

Attorney Cantwell also asked the State's Attorney for advice as to seeking an indictment against Justice Wood on a charge of malfeasance in office in connection with the case against Horan. Cantwell charges that the office of the Assistant Chief of Police is a collection agency for "loan sharks," and that the Trial board is but the tool of the alleged ring.

The charge against Horan is that in borrowing $30 on May 25 he signed a paper to the effect that he owed no man, and on June 2 filed a petition in bankruptcy.

Soon after he was sent to the County Jail Horan was released on his own recognizance, after his attorney had conferred with the State's Attorney.

SHOOTS RAPIDS IN WASH TUB.

Bernard Cooney Performs the Bowser Trick in the Swift-Running Housatonic.

Derby, Conn., July 10.—[Special.]—"Bowser" and his boat will have to divide honors with Bernard Cooney and his washtub. Mr. Cooney read about "Bowser's" plan to shoot the rapids of Niagara Falls in his wonderful boat, and was seized with the idea of winning a little glory for himself. He selected the dangerous rapids in the Housatonic River. Cooney was spending the afternoon with friends at the upper end of the lake.

Cooney, scorning specially constructed boats for his purpose, tossed a big washtub into the stream 300 feet above the rapids. With a shout he swam out and crawled inside the queer craft.

The current sent him whizzing toward the rapids. The mad waters hurled the old tub about like a cork and it bumped against rock after rock until it was shattered. Cooney was lost sight of for a minute and it was thought he would drown, but he was reached with difficulty and say

LABOR CHIEFS PREDICT PEACE.

Leaders Declare That All Trouble Will Be Ended Within a Few Weeks.

REASONS ARE KEPT QUIET

Dailey, Buchanan, and Nockles Admit That a Settlement Is Probable.

SAY CONTRACTORS SEEK IT.

The prospect of an early settlement of the labor trouble again appears. It has been taking form for more than a week, as a result of a series of secret conferences between representatives of the various unions affiliated with the Building Trades council and individual contractors. It is predicted that within a week from today peace will be restored.

"The trouble will be all over by next Monday," said James Dailey, President of the Chicago Federation of Labor and a leader in the Building Trades council. "I cannot say anything concerning the manner in which the trouble will be settled, but that is my prophecy."

The optimism of Mr. Dailey is shared by Frank Buchanan, President of the Bridge and Structural Ironworkers' union.

"I feel sure that everything will be fixed up within two weeks," said Mr. Buchanan. "Things are moving in the right direction."

Edward Nockles, a walking delegate of the Journeyman Plumbers' union and a leading member of the Building Trades council, fixes the end of the labor trouble in two weeks.

"I am not at liberty to state how the trouble will be settled," he said, "but it will be, and the unions will not give up the Building Trades council."

Talk of Another Conference.

Another conference between the contractors and the Building Trades committee which met the Executive committee of the Building Contractors' council is now being discussed. A business agent said the meeting had all but been arranged within the last few days. The proposition of the labor leaders is, he said, that the committee from the building trades shall meet a committee of contractors not members of the Executive committee, or officers of the Building Contractors' council.

Fred Pouchot, business agent of the Sheet Metal Workers' union, said: "The members of my union want one more effort made for peace. But no demand shall be made for the dissolution of the Building Trades council."

A member of the Bridge and Structural Ironworkers' union said the movement for another conference originated with the contractors who favor a settlement regardless of the Building Trades council.

"One of the contractors' associations is threatened with a split," he said. "Contractors belonging to this association tell me trouble is coming if the Executive committee insists on carrying out its present policy."

Avoiding Labor Trouble.

William H. Harper, executive director for the G. A. R. encampment, last night gave out a statement saying:

> The committee has been relieved of all anxiety and liability of labor trouble in the construction of the Grand Army arches. At a meeting of the G. A. R. committee, William F. Behel, who has the contract, amounting to $1,200, for the carpenter work, and B. H. Marshall of Wilson & Marshall, architects, the last named voluntarily agreed to assume all responsibility. This was satisfactory to the committee and closed the incident, so far as the committee is concerned.

Despondent Carpenter Tries Suicide.

Daniel Reich, 53 years old, 1865 North Hoyne avenue, attempted to commit suicide yesterday by severing the arteries in both wrists with a pocket knife. Reich is a carpenter and is said by his family to be despondent over his inability to secure employment. He has worked only three weeks of the last eight months. Last April he was beaten severely by strikers who assaulted him. The injuries received are said to have affected his mind. He is the father of six children. He was removed to the Alexian Brothers' Hospital, where his wounds were pronounced not serious.

Suicide Due to Strike.

Leo Hofbauer, whose body was found in the lake at the foot of Twenty-second street, was a victim of the strike. He had been idle since the strike began and his family was in want. It is believed he committed suicide because he had no work. He lived at 2632 Fifth avenue.

REPORT TAKING OF BETHLEHEM

Generals Clements and Paget Attack and Capture Town on Dewet's Refusal to Surrender.

LONDON, July 10.—Lord Roberts has sent the following dispatch to the War office:

"PRETORIA, July 10.—Clements' and Paget's forces entered Bethlehem July 7. The former, on nearing the town, sent in a flag of truce, demanding its surrender, which was refused by Dewet, when Paget, making a wide turning movement, succeeded in getting hold of the enemy's most important position, covering the town. This was carried before dark by the Munster Fusileers and Yorkshire Light Infantry. This morning the attack was continued, and by noon the town was in our possession and the enemy in full retreat.

"Clements attacked one position, while Paget attacked another. The position assailed by Clements was gallantly captured by the Royal Irish, who captured a gun of the Seventy-seventh Battery lost at Stormberg.

"Hunter's cavalry, under Broadwood, reached Bethlehem on July 8. Hunter, with his main force, was within nine miles of the town when Clements dispatched his reports.

"Our casualties were four officers and thirty-two men of the Munsters wounded; one missing; Captains MacPherson and Weakes and Lieutenant Conway severely and Lieutenant Boyd-Rochefort, Scottish Rifles, slightly wounded; seven men of the Yorkshires wounded, one killed; two wounded of the Imperial Yeomanry.

"Baden-Powell reached Rustenburg during the evening of July 8 without opposition. He found all quiet there and public confidence satisfactory, thanks to the prompt and bold grasp of the situation taken by Major Hanbury-Tracy.

"The district west of this is somewhat unsettled, owing to the small force which attacked Rustenburg being still in that neighborhood. Measures are being taken to meet this."

Washington, D. C., July 10.—It is learned that the announcement from Lourenzo Marques that Mr. Hollis, the American Consul there, has been recalled, is erroneous. Mr. Hollis has not been discreet, in the judgment of the department, and it is believed the department has been obliged to remind him of that fact, but it has not recalled him.

Elmsted Heirs Object to Executrix.

Heirs and legatees of John Elmsted, who died in 1895 at Washington Heights, are today endeavoring to compel Mrs. Lenora Elmsted, the former executrix of the estate, to tell how she acquired the ownership of $18,000 worth of notes, which she alleges she purchased of her husband before his death. The matter is being tried before Judge Batten in the Probate Court. A Deputy Sheriff was once placed in peril of his life while attempting to serve attachment papers in the same case.

LOCAL GOLFERS BEAT VARDON.

Ex-Champion Worsted by Best Ball of David Bell and Harry Turpie.

BELL'S GREAT DRIVING.

Gives the Englishman a Close Rub for Honors in His Strong Point.

SOME SENSATIONAL GOLF.

Harry Vardon, the famous English golfer, found the task of playing the best ball of David Bell of Midlothian and Harry Turpie of Edgewater a trifle too hard for him and was defeated by 6 up and 5 to play. The match, which was played yesterday at the Midlothian Country club, was the first of the local engagements of the Ganton professional, and the spectators who braved the threatening weather were repaid by seeing some sensational golf.

It was generally thought that Vardon would have to do phenomenal work in order to break even with the two local men, but it is nothing out of the ordinary for him to do things which appear wonderful to the ordinary player. In this case, however, it was reserved for Harry Turpie, the trim-built little professional from the North Side club, to electrify the gallery. Starting rather poorly, he soon picked up in his play, and at the tenth hole began a series of putts which caused Vardon to inquire if he always putted that way. At six successive holes he found the cup unerringly at distances from eight to twenty feet, his ball seeming to possess some strange affinity for the iron receptacles. Turpie and Bell were 1 up at the turn and were having troubles of their own in keeping this lead. Then, like a swift rushing wind that carries all before it, came the putting streak, and holes 10, 11, 12, and 13 were won by Turpie, giving the local men sufficient lead to put them on easy street until the luncheon hour.

It was perfect golf, and neither Vardon nor any other player could have beaten it except by work of a similar character, and lightning does not strike twice in the same place.

Vardon, although defeated, gave a fine exhibition, playing in the same steady style that marked his practice work on Monday. He had no luck to help him out, gobbling only one hole in the entire thirty-six and none of his long approaches lay dead. It was in his long game that he excelled. As far as driving was concerned it was a duel between Vardon and Bell and the Englishman carried off the honors, with Bell a good second. Both are men of strong physique, and against them Turpie was no match. Taking no account of holes 2, 12, and 17, which are short, the following table shows the times each player drove the farthest at the remaining holes:

First.		Second.		Third.
Vardon	18	Vardon	10	Vardon	2
Bell	9	Bell	14	Bell	7
Turpie	3	Turpie	6	Turpie	21

From this it will be seen that Turpie only outdrove the other players three times from the tee and conversely illustrates how good his short game must have been. Vardon's drives through the fair green were of a high order. At starting time, 10:30 o'clock, ominous clouds were gathering in the southwest and the wind came in fitful gusts, which increased and grew stronger during the morning play.

Vardon had the honor, and, as the creek had been made a hazard, played a cleek shot. Turpie and Bell were both on the green in two, the latter holding out for a long putt. Vardon, whose second went to the left of the green, missed his putt, and the first hole went to the local man, 4—5.

Vardon holed a seven-foot putt at the second and won, 3—4. Going to the third the partners both sliced into the rough. Vardon missed a seven-foot putt, and conceded a half in five. Down the stretch to hole five, the punch bowl, Bell had the best of the drives. Turpie was short on his mashie pitch, and Bell jumped the small bank guarding the green. Vardon pitched his ball into the circle, and then cleverly holed out a twelve-foot putt.

Bell saved his side by getting down from eight feet and halving the hole in three. Hole five was halved in five, Turpie taking six.

Vardon had the better of the second shots in going to the sixth hole, getting to the left edge of the green. Bell had pitched into the long grass, but on his third was well out. He holed out from six feet, and halved the hole in 4, Turpie taking one more. With the wind at his back on the passage to seven, Vardon drove 250 yards, leading Bell by 25 yards. Vardon's third was a grand approach, nearly hitting the flagpost. He was six inches short on his approach, and Turpie, whose fourth had landed dead, was able to halve.

Vardon had hard luck on the eighth green, which was rather rough. His approach kicked to the right of the flag, and he dubbed a short putt, enabling Turpie to win, 4—5. As they turned for home the local players were one up. Vardon had chances to win the tenth, his second shot, a screaming brassey, going far up the course. He sclafed his third, and was short thirty yards. Bell and Turpie retrieved themselves on the like shots. The latter then started his string of putts, holing out from seven feet, while Vardon, missing from six feet, lost the hole, 5—6. Vardon's approach to the eleventh green struck the side of the hill and cost him the hole, 4—5, Turpie again running down a long putt. Holes twelve and thirteen were also won by Turpie's work on the green.

What might have been a tragedy occurred in the play to the fourteenth. Bell's drive went into the long grass to the left of the fair green. Some distance ahead of him was a hill, on the far side of which stood some spectators. His second shot just skimmed over the hill, and then struck a man hard on the thigh, inflicting a severe bruise. Vardon, playing without a mistake, won the hole, 4—5. The next three holes were halved without incident. Driving for the home hole, Vardon got away a beautiful ball, landing close to the green, a distance of 265 yards. Bell was fifteen yards behind him and halved the hole in three.

At the adjournment for luncheon Bell and Turpie were four up.

Play in the afternoon was started shortly after 2 o'clock, a fair sized gallery being on hand. Vardon should have won the first hole, but missed a putt and halved it in five. After two had been halved Vardon had some luck in not running into the ditch on his second shot. Turpie found the ditch and played out short. Vardon rimmed the cup on his fourth, but Bell, whose third lay dead, went in on the like and won, 4—5.

Vardon played perfect golf at the next two and won them, 4—5 and 4—6, reducing the lead against him to three up. Hole six was halved, and at the seventh Vardon overapproached and lost, 5—6. Going to the eighth, Vardon hit the cup from forty yards away but kicked to the right. He missed the putt and Bell halved in four. At the ninth hole Vardon's drive landed in the rough. His mashie shot fell fifty yards short and Bell and Turpie won the hole, 4—5, again placing them five up.

The next two holes were halved in five. At the twelfth hole Vardon was short and Turpie won, 3—4, making the local men dormie six. Hole 13 was halved in six, giving the match to Bell and Turpie by six up and five to play. The bye holes were played out, Bell and Turpie winning one, Vardon two, and the other two being halved. Herbert J. Tweedie officiated as referee. The scores:

CHICAGO WINS BY ONE TRICK.

Brooklyn Trophy Captured from the New York Whist Players.

[BY A. R. METCALFE.]

Niagara Falls, N. Y., July 10.—[Special.]—Chicago won the Brooklyn trophy by one trick from New York. In the night session Chicago drew a bye, and was obliged to wait until nearly 11 o'clock before playing its first match, and the result was that the team played its poorest game against New York, losing by twelve, and only leaving it one trick ahead of that association.

The final rounds were between New York and Atlantic, Chicago and New England. The interest was intense, and it was difficult to keep the crowd from the scorers' table, but it was finally announced that Chicago and New York had each beaten their opponents by the same score, nine tricks, leaving Chicago winner of the trophy by one. Following is the score of the last Chicago games:

Chicago vs. New York—Chicago players: Rollo-Cheeseman, average; Martin-Metcalfe, minus 3; Richards-Battelle, minus 2; Walker-Keehn, minus 3; Montgomery-Cohen, minus 4; Frost-Hathaway, average. Their opponents in order—Watkins and Elliott, Levy and Snow, Thomsen and Fogel, Cramer and Watson, Faber and Cole, Anderson and Sears.

Chicago vs. New England—Chicago players: Richards-Battelle, plus 4½; Martin-Metcalfe, plus ½; Rollo-Cheeseman, minus 1½; Walker-Keehn, minus ½; Montgomery-Cohen, plus 1½; Frost-Hathaway, plus 4½. Opponents in order—Ward and Becker, Hatch and Curry, Bouve and Packard, Potter and Wilcox, Spranger and Carsey, Dilans and Copeland.

In the Hamilton trophy preliminaries the Chicago Whist club, Hamiltons of Chicago, Hyde Park, Cincinnati, Knickerbockers of New York, Columbus, Racine, Newton [Mass.], Minneapolis, and St. Paul qualified for the finals. Chicago defeated Austin one trick, Ravenswood lost to the Knickerbockers by seven, Hamilton won by sixteen from Rochester, Hyde Park won by two from Scranton. The surprise was the defeat of Buffalo by Columbus one trick. The finals will continue three days.

ARE NOW CLOSE TO THE CHAMPIONS.

Loftus' Players Win Another Game—Selbach's Good Catches.

Chicago defeated New York yesterday, making it twelve victories out of thirteen games with the Eastern clubs.

By the victory Loftus' men lifted themselves above Pittsburg to almost even terms with Philadelphia in the struggle for second place. On June 30 Loftus' aggregation, broken and beaten, was in sixth place, but on that day commenced a rally without parallel in the history of the National league, capturing every game but one from the strong Eastern teams, and yesterday the team capped the record by taking the final game from New York by a score of 5 to 2.

The game itself was not much. The play was fast and starred at intervals by bits of brilliant work, yet the struggle lacked interest, for, even while New York started well and held the lead up to Chicago's half of the fourth inning, it was almost a foregone conclusion Chicago would win. No one seemed to doubt the final outcome would be a victory, even when troubles came upon Griffith and while Doheny seemed to have Loftus' sluggers stopped.

Chicago started in the fourth, and, profiting by Doheny's wildness, fluke hits, and errors, assumed the lead, and but for a miraculous catch by Selbach would have scored many more runs. Once in the lead Griffith held New York safe in every stage, while Chicago, profiting by gifts and errors as well as by hits, added one run in each of the succeeding three innings and won easily.

The game was the fastest played on the local grounds this season. Griffith, evidently holding the New York batters cheap, made them hit the first ball, and, the outfield did the rest. Doheny, too, worked fast, and, although wild, would have come much nearer winning but for errors.

Selbach's fielding was the feature. In the fourth inning, while Chicago had two men on bases, Clingman, luckless Clingman, hit the ball a terrific lick and sent it on a line out to left field. The sun dazzled Selbach and the hit seemed a certain triple, but of a sudden Selbach caught sight of the ball. Like a flash he turned and raced backward, circled under the ball, jumped, stuck up one hand, and descending to earth with the ball stuck in his fingers made the runners hurry to regain their bases. Again in the sixth Selbach made a wonderful play, nearly preventing Chicago from scoring. With one on base Donahue hit a vicious liner down the left foul line. Selbach tore across, slid on his side along the grass, stuck out one hand, and knocked the ball down, but could not hold it. Donahue landed on second and the score counted.

Griffith pitched hard only when emergency required. Twice, when men were on third and but one out Griffith pitched desperately and struck out the succeeding batters. Once the feat saved a run, the other time a fluke hit followed and the man on third scored.

Doheny pitched well, but was wild, and a combination of bases on balls, hits, and errors brought deserved defeat upon him. Score:

Notes of the Game.

Hickman was hit on the elbow by a pitched ball in the seventh inning and writhed all over the catcher's stand.

Bradley made a beautiful stop of Selbach's hard hit bounder in the eighth, scooping the ball over third base and throwing his man out easily.

McCormick's sore shoulder will be in shape by Saturday, and he will return to the game. Manager Loftus says he will not take Mertes off first unless the team starts to lose.

Griffin pitched the first ball in the ninth inning before Green had reached his position, and Grady hit it on a line to center. Green, who was trotting out, put on extra speed and hauled down the ball.

The Chicago club has a resting spell of three days before meeting Pittsburg on Saturday. McCormick, McCarthy, Green, and several others are going up to one of the Wisconsin lakes, but most of the players will spend their vacation at the racetrack.

Brooklyn, 4; Pittsburg, 2.

Pittsburg, Pa., July 10.—Brooklyn won, but not by good playing. In the first four innings Leever gave two bases on balls and nine hits, while his team made two errors, yet the visitors could score only four runs. Chesbro held them down to two hits in five innings. Attendance, 4,000. The score:

St. Louis Players Are Non-Union.

The Ball Players' Protective union has its own troubles. Seven of the clubs have joined in the movement, and, after electing Big Chief Charley Zimmer President and Hughie Jennings secretary, have started the work of completing the organization and collecting the membership dues from players. Strange to say, the St. Louis club has held out of the union, and no reason is assigned. McGraw and Robinson were among the first to propose the union. Burkett and Criger attended the organization meeting in New York, yet the players have now failed to answer the summons to join, and the players of the other clubs are wondering why.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Buffalo, N. Y., July 10.—[Special.]—Roger Denzer had one bad inning this afternoon and as a result Buffalo scored a comparativlye easy victory over Comiskey's men. The final score stood 4 to 1 in favor of Buffalo, and, inasmuch as three of these four runs were earned by the keenest kind of team batting, the Bisons deserve full credit for their unexpected triumph. Denzer can blame no one but himself for the disaster. True, both Hoy and Brodie made irritating fumbles in the outfield, but their slow fielding in no way affected the final result. It was by bunching of four singles and a two-bagger Buffalo scored the runs.

Opposed to Denzer was young Dan Kerwin. Kerwin, an undersized, smooth-faced left-hander, who until ten days ago was the star twirler of the Scranton, Pa., team in the Atlantic league. Kerwin has plenty of speed, fair control, and is not lacking in confidence. Today he pitched winning ball, and although at present he is far from being a finished pitcher of the first class, he has all the earmarks of a star boxman. He puzzled Comiskey's men today. He used a wide, sweeping curve, which proved effective, and mixed the curves with a clever change of pace and at times a fast straight ball that came over the plate with cyclonic speed. For the first four innings Denzer and Kerwin held the rival batsmen at their mercy, but the strain proved too great for Denzer, and in the fifth inning he weakened. Halliman, the first man up, singled to center and was advanced to second by Andrews' clever sacrifice. Kerwin singled to right, Halligan followed with a single to left, but Brodie allowed the ball to get by him and both Halliman and Kerwin scored. Garry hit to center for two bases, scoring Halligan. Shearon singled to center. Hoy fumbled the ball, made a slow return, and Garry scored.

Shugart saved the White Stockings from a shutout by knocking the ball over the left field fence for a home run in the seventh inning.

Kerwin, not content with pitching winning ball, fielded his position like a master, and also did good work with the stick. The score:

Cleveland, O., July 10.—Hart had Milwaukee at his mercy this afternoon and the nearest the visitors came to scoring was in the seventh innings, when Fultz went to third on Diggins' double. Genins' one-handed catch, after a hard run of Waldron's foul, was sensational. Score:

WEEDING OUT THE PLAYERS FAST.

Third Day of Western Championship Tennis Tournament.

The third day's playing in the Western championship tennis tournament attracted a large number of the devotees of the game to the Kenwood Country club's courts yesterday afternoon. The threatening weather of the morning, which promised to delay matters, did not interfere with any of the matches scheduled, but the high winds, cross-court, bothered the players somewhat and made lobbing rather doubtful. The third round in singles was completed. Three matches in the fourth round were played and all but one match in the preliminary and first rounds of the doubles were disposed of.

The interest of the day centered in the single matches between W. S. Bond and J. C. Neeley Jr. and W. L. Meyers and A. P. Simmonds. The former match settled the question who was to meet J. P. Paret, the New-Yorker, in the fourth round today, and Bond succeeded in defeating Neeley in a three-set match. Bond won the first set easily, but in the second Neeley displayed surprising form of a sudden and easily scored point after point by passing Bond cleverly. He won the set, 6—1, and had the third and decisive set four games to two in his favor before Bond awoke to the situation and let himself out, with the result that he took the next four straight, winning game, set, and match by a brilliant rally. Meyers and Simmonds divided attention on the middle courts by the closeness of their struggle. Meyers finally won, but two of the three sets went to vantage.

The Hardy brothers won their way into the fourth round without extending themselves, and it looks as though the Californians would go into the semi-finals unbeaten. They also disposed of their opponents quickly in the preliminary doubles.

Today's playing will bring both singles and doubles down to the semi-finals with the same active management in keeping the courts busy. Much interest is felt in the outcome of today's match between Bond and Paret in the singles, as the winner will doubtless meet Sumner Hardy in the semi-finals. The Louisville pair, Ward and Vaughn, were shut out of the doubles in the preliminary round by Carter and McKeever, both Chicagoans.

The scores of yesterday's matches:

Championship singles and round—C. A. Torrey defeated Horace Richards, 6—0, 6—1; W. S. Bond defeated J. C. Neeley Jr., 6—1, 1—6, 6—4; J. A. Roche Jr. defeated A. S. Hathaway, 5—7, 6—4, 6—1; Charles Baker defeated A. C. Snow, 9—7, 6—4; W. L. Meyers defeated A. P. Simmonds, 6—3, 7—9, 8—6; L. H. Waidner defeated Ashcroft, 6—1, 6—3; T. C. Ward defeated J. S. Bridges, 6—2, 6—3.

Fourth round—Sumner Hardy defeated R. G. Vaughn, 6—2, 6—2; F. B. Alexander defeated C. A. Torrey, 6—0, 6—4; Samuel Hardy defeated H. N. Gottlieb, 6—2, 6—2.

Championship doubles, preliminary round—Carter and McKeever defeated Ward and Vaughn, 6—1, 6—1, 4—6, 6—2; Roche and Condes defeated Bush and partner by default; Poulson and Johnston defeated Lee Brothrs, 6—3, 6—2, 6—2; Collins and Paret defeated Hammond and Champlin, 6—2, 6—2, 6—3; O'Brien and Banks defeated Richards and partner by default; Henry and partner defeated Gifford and Bailey by default; Cower and Waidner defeated McCasky and Rising, 6—1, 6—2, 6—1; McQuiston brothers defeated Mundy and partner, 6—3, 6—3, 7—5; Beach and Bailey defeated Simmonds and Hathaway, 6—4, 6—1, 6—4; Turner and Gilchrist defeated A. O. Lee and Bliss, 12—10, 2—6, 6—1, 4—6, 8—6.

First round—Hardy brothers defeated Morley and Turnbull, 6—1, 6—3, 6—3; Alexander and Little defeated Baker and Hill, 6—3, 6—3, 6—3.

Consolation singles, first round—A. O. Lee defeated Fred Becker, 6—3, 8—6; H. P. Wherry defeated Gilbert Bliss, 6—1, 6—2; H. Holmes defeated C. G. Comstock, 6—3, 7—5; McDermott defeated T. C. Ward by default; T. B. Tracy defeated I. C. Gifford, 6—2, 6—4; C. B. Henry defeated H. A. Gardner Jr. by default.

SUCCESS IN NEW COLORS.

FLY BY NIGHT IN FRONT IN THE MIDWAY STAKES.

Simons Again Demonstrates His Shrewdness with the Recalcitrant Horse—Tim Murphy Bids Him Up to $4,000—Time in the Midway Close to World's Record — Two-Year-Olds' Trial at Six Furlongs Proves a Gift to Garry Hermann.

Fly by Night had only to gallop along in front to win the Midway Stakes yesterday and is evidently in better condition than he has been at any time since last year.

The horse which was responsible for the barring of his former owner, B. Schrieber, from the Washington Park track, ran for the first time in the colors of Albert Simons, one of the shrewdest trainers in the United States, and was coupled with Potente in the betting.

The latter captured second place, giving Simons nearly all the stake money, but Tim Murphy bid Fly by Night up from $3,000 to $4,000, it being a selling stake.

The task set for Fly by Night was hardly so difficult as that which he faced in the Oakwood. He had Andes to beat at about the same relative weights as in the Oakwood, where Andes had been a keen contender, and Found was a starter at light weight, at which she is always dangerous. But it was whispered that Found was not fit, and her race fully justified the report. For some reason The Lady was made second choice, although she seemed hopelessly overweighted.

Andes was the only one that ever gave the slightest semblance of contesting with the leader. Approaching the stretch turn he got within hailing distance and held his ground for a half furlong, but soon gave up, and Fly by Night came on leisurely to the finish and won by two lengths.

The Lady was never a contender, and Found did not show a particle of speed at any part of the race. Flaunt, heavily played, wore himself out chasing Fly by Night the first half mile.

The time, 1:46, was within a quarter of a second of the track record and a second of the world's record, showing that Fly by Night could easily have beaten both had he been called on to do so.

Next to the stake race the trial of the 2-year-olds over the six furlong route was the most interesting feature of the day, especially as both Garry Hermann and Silverdale were among those asked to go the extra distance. The race proved a gift to Garry Hermann. He and Silverdale broke together, and while the Schorr colt outran him for a quarter of a mile, it was a foregone conclusion that Smith's youngster would wear him out in the stretch. Eventually Hermann won off by himself, while Silverdale tired and was beaten out by the lighter weighted Kid Cox and Schoolmaster. The latter appears to be steadily improving. Favorites won every race except the second, in which Algareta, the choice, finished fourth. There came near being a "killing" with Einstein in this race, as he was beaten only a head by Silver Coin. Einstein's improvement was amazingly sudden.

During the afternoon there were heavy plunges on both Flaunt and The Pride, belonging to T. H. Ryan, but neither finished inside the money.

Washington Park Summaries, July 10.

Weather clear. Track fast.

First race, ¾ mile, 3-year-olds, fillies:

Bet.	Horse, weight, jockey.	St.	¼	¾	Str.	Fn.
2-1	Star Chime, 98 [J. Martin]	5^{nk}	6^1	7^1	3^1	1^1

Time, 1:14¼. Princess Thyra, 102 pounds; Tremble, 95; Bettie R., 98; Belle of the Glen, 98; Olekma, 100; Miss Vallera, 96½, finished as named. Winner, G. B. Morris' br. f., by Star Ruby—Chimera. Start fair. Won handily. Scarlet Lily finished stoutly. Princess Thyra showed plenty of speed. Tremble, off poorly and worse ridden, made up a lot of ground. Belle of the Glen showed some speed. Olekma is a speedy filly.

Second race, 1 mile:

Bet.	Horse, weight, jockey.	St.	¼	¾	Str.	Fn.
8-1	Silver Coin, 94 [T. Knight]	2^h	6^1	5^1	5^1	1^h
15-1	Einstein, 102 [Bassinger]	4^h	3^1	3^1	3^1	2^1

Time, 1:41. Algareta, 104 pounds; Branch, 103½; Crane, 103; Tragedy, 107, finished as named. Winner, A. J. Applegate & Co.'s br. c., by Patton—Dosta. Start good. Won in a drive. Silver Coin won principally through Knight's good ride. The ride on Algareta was bad.

Third race, 1 1-16 miles, Midway Selling Stakes, $1,500 added:

Bet.	Horse, weight, jockey.	St.	¼	¾	Str.	Fn.
*9-10	Fly by Night, 114 [Bu'n]	5	1^1	1^1	1^1	1^2
*9-10	Potente, 102 [T. Knight]	6	4^h	3^1	2^h	2^2
7-1	Andes, 103 [Mathews]	1^{nk}	2^1	2^1	3^1	3^2

*Coupled in betting.

Time, 1:46. The Lady, 97 pounds; Flaunt, 98; Found, 100, finished as named. Winner, A. Simons' ch. g., by Candlemas—Flibbertigibbet. Start good. Won easily. Fly by Night was far the best. Found was short of speed. The winner was run up $1,000 over his entered price of $3,000, but was retained by his owner.

Fourth race, 7½ furlongs, selling:

Bet.	Horse, weight, jockey.	St.	¼	¾	Str.	Fn.
11-5	Vohicer, 92 [T. Knight]	1^h	3^1	3^1	1^1	1^1
18-5	Rollins, 100 [J. Martin]	2^h	1^1	1^{nk}	2^1	2^2
6-1	Bishop Reed, 106 [Bull'n]	5^h	2^1	2^1	3^1	3^2

Time, 1:34¼. La Vega, 93½ pounds; Insurrection, 89; Fair Deceiver, 107; Troubaline, 87; Miss Ross, 98; Mellocole, 97½; Van Hoorebeke, 89, finished as named. Winner, F. B. Van Meter's b. c., by St. George—Fan Fare. Start good. Won easily. Vohicer went to the front on call. La Vega finished with a tremendous rush.

Fifth race, ¾ mile, 2-year-olds:

Bet.	Horse, weight, jockey.	St.	¼	¾	Str.	Fn.
7-5	G. Hermann, 118 [Boland]	1^{nk}	2^1	2^1	1^1	1^5
12-1	Kid Cox, 108 [Southard]	2^h	1^1	3^{nk}	4^h	2^1
10-1	Schoolmaster, 106 [Bull'n]	4^{nk}	3^1	5^4	3^1	3^1

Time, 1:13¾. Silverdale, 118 pounds; Fancy Wood, 108; Tyr, 106; Searcher, 106, finished as named. Winner, C. H. Smith's br. c., by Esher—Silk Gown. Good start. Won easily. Fancy Wood had a rough journey. Silverdale got away flying.

Sixth race, 7½ furlongs, selling:

Bet.	Horse, weight, jockey.	St.	¼	¾	Str.	Fn.
3-1	Orimar, 109 [J. Winkfield]	2	1^h	1^h	1^{nk}	1^1

STANDING BREAKS THE RECORD.

Beats Admiration at Brighton Beach, but Pulls Up Lame.

New York, July 10.—[Special.]—The betting public got two bad shocks today at Brighton Beach. Admiration started the surprises by being beaten at 1 to 3 in the betting, then Her Ladyship at 1 to 2 lost.

Standing broke a world's record in beating Admiration and then pulled up lame.

The First Attempt Stakes, for 2-year-olds, gave the bettors plenty of excitement. Outlander took the lead for a short distance, when Termless shot to the front and led well into the stretch. Water Color came around the bunch and caught Outlander. Littlefield and Spencer went to the whip and inch by inch they overhauled Termless and in a drive Water Color won by half a length with Outlander a neck in front of Termless.

Brighton Beach Summaries July 10.

Weather clear. Track fast.

First race, 1 1-16 miles:

Bet.	Horse, weight, jockey.	St.	½	¾	Str.	Fn.
6-1	Standing, 106 [McCue]	3	3	3	2^1	1^1
3-10	Admiration, 110 [Turner]	2	2^1	1^1	1^1	2^6
6-1	Charantus, 112 [Shaw]	1	1^h	2^h	3	3

Time, 1:45 1-5. Winner, ch. c., by Candlemas—The Lioness. Start good. Won easily. Standing pulled up lame. The time constituted a new record for the track.

Second race, ⅝ mile, 2-year-olds, selling:

Bet.	Horse, weight, jockey.	St.	½	¾	Str.	Fn.
3-1	Petra II., 105 [Maher]	3	3^1	3^1	1^h	1^h
25-1	Snark, 99 [Dangman]	8	4^1	4^1	2^1	2^1
60-1	Prin. Otillie, 99 [Meade]	11	10	9	3^1	3^2

Time, 1:00 4-5. The Regent, 99 pounds; Lady Padden, 100; Cogswell, 98; Goddess of Night, 100; Educate, 94; Maximus, 108; The Brother, 102; Guess Work, 99; Lillian Hoffman, 99; Pathfinder, 99; Connie, 99, finished as named. Winner, blk. f., by Pontiac—Poncho. Start good. Won driving. Princess Otillie, off poorly, ran a good race. Educate was poorly handled. Maximus was outrun at the start.

Third race, 1 mile, 3-year-olds, selling:

Bet.	Horse, weight, jockey.	St.	½	¾	Str.	Fn.
4-1	Precursor, 110 [Mitchell]	4	3^h	2^h	1^h	1^1
11-20	Her Ladyship, 101 [O'C'r]	2	4	3^2	3^1	2^h
30-1	Brusquerie, 101 [Slack]	1	1^1	1^1	2^1	3^2

Time, 1:40 4-5. Oread, 96 pounds, also ran. Winner, br. c., by Prince of Monaco—Promenade. Start good. Won driving. Her Ladyship was sore and could not keep up the first part of the race. Oread quit early. Precursor was bid up $400, but was retained.

Fourth race, ⅝ mile, 2-year-olds, the First Attempt Stakes, $1,000 added:

Bet.	Horse, weight, jockey.	St.	½	¾	Str.	Fn.
8-5	Water Color, 125 [Littlef'd]	4	4^1	4^1	2^h	1^h
6-5	Outlander, 122 [Spencer]	2	3^1	2^h	3^1	2^h
5-1	Termless, 107 [Jenkins]	3	1^h	1^2	1^1	3^6

Time, 1:00 4-5. Brandy Smash, 108 pounds; Tammany Chief, 104, finished as named. Winner, blk. c., by Watercress—Sabrina. Start good. Won driving. Water Color outclassed the others. He broke flat-footed and pulled up and was taken around his field in the first furlong, closed gamely, and barely got up in the last few strides. Outlander seemed to be winning at the sixteenth post, and had no excuses.

Fifth race, 1½ miles, over 6 hurdles:

Bet.	Horse, weight, jockey.	St.	3	6	Str.	Fn.
7-10	Dr Eichberg, 154 [Veach]	2	2^2	2^4	1^h	1^2
20-1	Draughtsman, 136 [Bra']	5	1^1	1^h	2^h	2^1
50-1	Klondyke, 150 [Donohue]	9	6^1	5^1	3^1	3^1

Time, 2:45. Desperado, 139 pounds; Hardy C., 161; Oracle, 153; Charley O., 142; Daniel Quilp, 136; Lime Juice, 139, finished as named. Winner, br. c., by Candlemas—Nell Swift. Start good. Won easily. Draughtsman showed plenty of speed, but lost ground at the hurdles. Desperado and Hardy C. were badly ridden.

Sixth race, ¾ mile, selling:

Bet.	Horse, weight, jockey.	St.	½	¾	Str.	Fn.
10-1	Leedsville, 103 [Brennan]	2	1^1	1^1	1^1	1^1
4-1	His R. High's, 104 [Dang'n]	1	2^h	2^1	2^h	2^h
9-5	Sky Scraper, 103 [O'Con'r]	4	3^4	3^5	3^5	3^8

Time, 1:13 1-5. Meehanus, 118 pounds; Pink Domino, 92, finished as named. Winner, b. h., by Pontiac—The Squaw. Start fair. Won easily. Leedsville easily outran his field all the way. His Royal Highness ran a good race. Pink Domino was shut off at the start.

Brighton Beach Entries.

RIDES FOUR WINNERS IN ONE DAY.

Crowhurst's Great Work at St. Louis—Jockey Talley Suspended.

St. Louis, Mo., July 10.—The feature of the races at the fair grounds today was the riding of Jockey Crowhurst. He landed four winners, and not one of them was a favorite. In the third race Libbie, who finished second to Bohul, was disqualified for fouling Tom Cromwell in the run home. Jockey Talley was suspended pending an investigation for his ride on Lord Neville in the fourth race. Long shots were in order today. Only one favorite succeeded in passing the winning post in front, and that was Scorpolette. The summaries:

First race, 1 mile—Chickamauga, 9 to 1, won; Sidbow, 7 to 10, second; Zazel, 2 to 1, third. Time, 1:44½.

Second race, selling, 6 furlongs—W. J. Baker, 12 to 1, won; Cotton Plant, 2 to 1, second; Loka, 7 to 1, third. Time, 1:15½.

Third race, selling, 1 mile and 70 yards—Bohul, 20 to 1, won; Tom Cromwell, 8 to 5, second; Jim Turner, 9 to 1, third. Time, 1:47½.

Fourth race, selling, 7 furlongs—Theory, 7 to 2, won; Macon, 5 to 1, second; Lord Neville, 8 to 5, third. Time, 1:28.

Fifth race, selling, 6 furlongs—W. B. Gates, 9 to 1, won; Ohnet, 20 to 1, second; Ed Hinkey, 11 to 1, third. Time, 1:14¾.

Sixth race, maiden 2-year-olds, fillies, 5 furlongs—Scorpolette, 7 to 5, won; Julietta B., 5 to 1, second; Eva's Darling, 8 to 1, third. Time, 1:04.

AMERICAN JOCKEYS SUCCESSFUL.

Sloan and the Reiff Boys Sweep the Board at Nottingham.

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE NEW YORK WORLD AND THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

LONDON, July 10.—This was another field day for American jockeys. They swept the board at Nottingham, three jockeys carrying off all six races. Tod Sloan rode three winners, Lester Reiff two, and Johnny Reiff one.

Though the feat wearied those British turfmen who have nothing but harsh criticism for the Yankee style of riding, it caused not the least surprise. The clever boys always have more applications for their services than they can possibly comply with, and command really fabulous prices. They simply ride all around the English jockeys, and some of the latter are actually shortening their stirrups and sitting further forward, thus imitating their successful rivals.

The Bobbers Mill Plate was won by Marceline with J. Reiff up.

The Netherfield Park Selling Plate was won by Verdier with Sloan up. Richard Croker's Argadeen, ridden by L. Reiff, was second.

The St. Albans Handicap was won by Le Feu with Sloan up.

The Bingham Plate was won by Klingsor with Sloan up.

The Basford Plate was won by Richard Croker's Scotchman II., ridden by L. Reiff.

At the first day's racing of the Bibury club at Salisbury today the Downton Handicap resulted in a dead heat between J. S. Curtis' 4-year-old chestnut colt Star of Hanover, ridden by E. Jones, and George Edwards' 4-year-old chestnut colt Fairy Field, on which J. H. ("Skeets") Martin had the mount. W. C. Whitney's Miguel—Aurora colt, with McAllister in the saddle, was third.

Schreiber Horses May Race.

It was reported last night that the Washington Park club would modify its ruling against Barney Schreiber to the extent of permitting his horses to fill their stake engagements.

DISAPPOINTMENT ON ALL SIDES.

Gloomy Outlook for the National Meet of the L. A. W.

Milwaukee, Wis., July 10.—[Special.]—The century run from Chicago, the opening event of the national meet of the L. A. W., was disappointing to the riders, and, although those who participated are all old timers at century riding, they are unanimous in saying it was the most trying run they ever made. The roads were in wretched condition and the riders came straggling in tonight at all hours. Many were compelled to abandon the ride and came in by train. Of over fifty riders who started from Chicago this morning the following finished: Walter G. Minnameyer of Joliet, Frank G. Clark, Mrs. Frank G. Clark, N. G. Cullingford, Elile Miller, H. W. Lang, George Herbert, Margaret Hettmann, Harry Bardwin, Otto L. Kohnert, Charles Gilson, Edward R. Classon, Charles H. Mallon, George R. Day, J. A. Patterson, F. R. Phillips, A. F. Halverson, C. Blankenheim, William E. Felts, Mrs. George Bunlar, Lou Fuellgraff, C. B. Sadler, Miss M. Kuerstein, Chicago; C. W. Heaton and W. A. Hastings, Cleveland; J. H. McGrath and Walter McGrath, Philadelphia.

C. Blankenheim and William A. Felts were the first to finish and made the best time. They left Chicago at 7:15 this morning and arrived at 7:10 tonight. Their cyclometers showed they had covered 110 miles. Walter McGrath of Philadelphia, 10 years of age, was the youngest and freshest rider that finished. The little fellow did not show any ill effects from the ride.

At 10 o'clock tonight only 407 members of the league had registered at headquarters. The Eastern men are all finding fault with the management because it failed to secure rates from the Eastern railroads. F. P. Van Valkenburg of the local committee was kept busy throwing the blame on the Eastern Passenger association. All of the riders are disappointed with the track at the Exposition Building. It is too short and narrow, and unless the remodeling which is now being done improves it the races will be processions. The track will be ready for the racing on Thursday. Tomorrow there will be a multicycle race on Grand avenue.

SPRAY AND MAY B. ARE MATCHED.

Yacht Race Over the Long Course on Next Saturday.

The Chicago Yacht club has put on its schedule for next Saturday an event which should prove as close and as provocative of discussion both before and after as any sailing race in these waters this season. It is a race around the club's long course—fifteen nautical miles—for thirty-footers, under the measurement of the rules of the Yacht Racing Union of the Great Lakes, and though it will probably resolve into a sailing duel the two contestants can be counted upon making a fast and furious race of it. They will be William Avery's Spray and Lewis, Baker & Dunton's May B., the former winner in class 7 in the Fourth of July regatta and the latter winner in class 7½ on the same occasion, when May B.'s time around the nine-mile course was 1:50:17 and Spray's was 1:49:53, a difference of only twenty-four seconds, which signifies the closest kind of a contest in yacht racing.

Among the Chicago Yacht club's trophies this season is the Lilienfeld Cup for thirty-footers, and it is for this and a private wager that the two little racers will cut loose next Saturday. Their times around the short course on the Fourth were the best made by any yachts, large or small, sailing it, and though May B. was twenty-four seconds behind Spray in that regatta it is predicted this will be overcome at their next meeting, because George R. Peare is going to take the stick and sail the new boat. Anyway, it ought to be a great race.

On the same afternoon the first race of the season for the Chicago Yacht club's special thirty-five-foot cruiser class, for all type yachts, is set to come off, which will give Trix and Chetopa a chance to get together on the question of superiority. Also the forty-footers will do their weekly stunts.

The Jackson Park Yacht club proposes to have racing for all kinds and conditions of yachts in its fleet, and the members are hoping their Commodore will allow his cutter Gloria to go against Vice Commodore Weightman's fast sloop Widsith again.

The same afternoon the Columbia Yacht club will open another series for the small craft in its classes 9 and 10.

TWO MATCHES FOR FITZSIMMONS.

Will Fight Ruhlin on Aug. 10 and Sharkey About Aug. 25.

New York, July 10.—Two heavyweight boxing matches between first-class pugilists were arranged today to take place before the repeal of the Horton boxing law in this State, which goes into effect on Sept. 1.

The first match will be on Aug. 10 between Bob Fitzsimmons and Gus Ruhlin, who lately defeated Sharkey, and the second will be between Fitzsimmons and Tom Sharkey on or about Aug. 25.

The articles of agreement for the Fitzsimmons-Ruhlin bout call for a boxing contest of twenty-five rounds under Marquis of Queensberry rules before the club offering the best inducements, the winner to receive 75 per cent and the loser 25 per cent of the prize money. Bids for the contest are left open for one week. Charley White is named as the referee and Harry Beecher was made the final stakeholder. Each side today deposited $2,500 forfeit money.

The articles, which were signed by Fitzsimmons for himself and Billy Madden for Ruhlin, are practically the same as those which governed the last bout in which Fitzsimmons and Jeffries met with respect to gloves, bandages, forfeits, etc. The draft was submitted by Fitzsimmons and was readily accepted by Madden after the date was agreed upon.

Among those present was Tom Sharkey and his manager. They had come to see if a match could be arranged for Sharkey with Ruhlin or Fitzsimmons before the boxing law should become null and void. Fitzsimmons, who was exceedingly courteous to Sharkey, quickly replied in the affirmative when Sharkey leaned toward him and asked Fitzsimmons if he would give him (Sharkey) a fight after the contest with Ruhlin.

"Yes," Fitzsimmons replied, "win or lose, I will fight you after I get through with Ruhlin."

Immediately after the Fitzsimmons-Ruhlin agreement had been signed similar articles, making the date of the contest Aug. 25, or some day between that and Aug. 31, were written out and signed by Fitzsimmons and Sharkey. The time for the bids for this contest will be left open until Aug. 13. A referee was not named. The leeway in the time for the bout was so arranged that, should Fitzsimmons incur any injury from Ruhlin, he would have some time in which to recover.

GIVES ROOT A HARD FIGHT

DICK O'BRIEN SURPRISES CROWD AT TATTERSALL'S.

Chicago's Undefeated Middleweight Barely Manages to Win the Decision from the Easterner—Is Knocked Down Three Times by the Visitor in the Second Round—Root's Superior Physical Condition Appears to Save Him.

[BY GEORGE SILER.]

Jack Root, the middleweight champion of the West, just managed to pull his fight with Dick O'Brien out of the fire at Tattersall's last night. And he burned his hand a little in doing so. The fight was a fight from start to finish and from a spectacular point of view was the best and hottest that ever took place in these parts between men in their class. The crowd was not up to expectations, but those that were on hand were given food for gossip for some time to come. The first argument arose anent the corners. Root occupied the southeast corner and O'Brien the northwest. Dick yearned for Jack's seat, but the latter would not give it up, so a toss of a coin was necessary and Dick won. A glimpse of the men when they came to the center of the ring to receive their instructions showed Root to be in the better condition. He appeared finely trained and, furthemore, had the advantage in both height and reach. O'Brien is built on short, stocky lines, and looked as though he was carrying too much weight. If he had he certainly carried it well. Judging from the build and condition of the men it appeared as though a round or two would see his finish. O'Brien's target space was enormous. Wide of girth and broad face gave Root all the hitting margin a fighter could ask for. At that he missed many blows. His aim at times was bad. Besides this Dick was fairly good at blocking. Jack's left arm hit the mark times without number, and I might say missed quite often. He had opportunities galore to slam his left to the body, as the space there was large. Instead, though, he would try for the face. Dick's left leads were just fair, his long suit being close range work.

O'Brien Starts Off Well.

In the opening round Jack sent his left in repeatedly, and although he received some hard raps in close quarters he had by far the better of affairs on points. The surprise of the fight cropped up unexpectedly in the second. It was so great it set the crowd wild. Everybody was on his feet and yelling like a pack of Comanche Indians. Root was going along nicely. He was outpointing the Lewiston boy and a sardonic grin covered his face. It looked easy for him. At least I believe he thought so. His left was doing good service, but his close work was bad. Suddenly and without a warning to the crowd—and, I may also add, to Jack—O'Brien shot out his right and connected it with Root's jaw. Down went the latter in a heap. He was dazed. He looked queer. I thought it was all over. There he was on the floor, with a glassy look in his eyes. The house was in a tumult. Everybody was shouting. But Jack was deaf to everything, even deaf to my count. The noise subsided somewhat when I had counted eight, and when I said "Nine" Jack arose, leg weary. He lunged into clinch, but was caught with a slight tap on the breakaway, and down he went again. He was easily toppled over. Any kind of a punch would have upset him, so it was easy for Dick to floor him.

This time he had his mind with him, although awfully tired. He rested on one knee and listened attentively while I tolled off the seconds. At eight he arose, but a light blow sent him down again. As upon the second time down he waited patiently for the count. It really looked bad for him. He was nonplused. There was Dick before him, waiting to knock his championship aspirations into a cocked hat and the spectators yelling like mad. He came up a bit better than before. Still he appeared uneasy. Another clinch, a slip on one knee, and then came the gong like a guardian angel.

Root Recovers Quickly.

Root came up quite refreshed for the third round and continued the same tactics as before. It was straight left leads, with an occasional right cross. He kept at his man continually, but Dick was always there ready for a mixup. These came often and it was then he did his best work. Continued jabbing soon worried him, and Root sailed in for keeps and with left and right dropped him just as the bell tapped. This undoubtedly saved him. He arose groggy and staggered toward the south side of the ring. The crowd went wild again.

In the fourth round Jack went in to do or die, but Dick was too tough. He accepted all Root sent his way gracefully and did not forget to send in some hot shot himself, mostly at close range though. Toward the end of the round Root corralled him near the ropes on the south side of the ring and planted a couple of stiff ones in his stomach. O'Brien was holding at the time, which saved him from a clean knockdown. As it was he slipped down and through the ropes and just managed to get up in time.

The next two rounds were a repetition of the first four, barring the knockdown. Jack forced the fighting the major portion of the time and clearly outpointed him, although he was compelled to work hard to accomplish it. My decision in favor of Root did not meet with the approval of everybody. Some thought O'Brien was entitled to a draw, figuring of course on the knockdowns in the second round. He had all the better of that round, but Root certainly had a good margin on points in the other rounds, and, as limited round contests are decided on points when there is no knockout, I declared him the winner.

There is a certain element that can see but one man in a fight, and can only clearly remember what that man does.

Preliminaries Are Fast.

The preliminary bouts were equally as good as the windup. The first couple to appear were Art Simms and Tony Hoffman, lightweights, which the former won with something to spare. Simms used his left better than when seen before, and that useful member won him the decision. Billy Rotchford made his first appearance since his defeat at the hands of McGovern, with Sammy Harris as his opponent. This was a fast go from bell tap to bell tap. Sammy seemed to be a long time getting ready and this lost him the decision. Billy sailed in immediately the bell rang and kept hot on Sammy's trail during the round, which gave him a big margin. Harris did better in the second and improved as the contest progressed but could never make up the margin gained by Rotchford in the first three rounds.

Young Kenny and Dave Barry were the next pair and they went at it hammer and tongs and kept at it to the finish. It was any man's fight. Kenny had Dave to the bad several times and the latter had Kenny guessing also. It was a great battle. Nip and tuck all the way through and Referee Bardell declared Dave the winner on clean work done. Bob Slavin and Jake Franzen, heavyweights, then came together, but the latter was too much for Bob and put him away in the second round. The Danny McMahon-Joe Hedmark bout was called off; the former, it was stated, was over weight.

REFEREE STOPS GANS-GRIFFO FIGHT

Awards the Decision to Gans in Eighth Round.

New York, July 10.—At the Seaside Athletic club tonight Joe Gans of Baltimore was awarded the decision over Albert Griffith, better known as "Young Griffo," of Australia. The referee stopped the bout after the men had fought 1 minute and 38 seconds of the eighth round and when Griffo was so far gone that another punch from Gans would have put him out. For a time Griffo showed some of his old-time form, blocking and punching in clever style, but his dissipation has told on him, and, although he had trained faithfully for the fight he had not the steam to stand the negro's blows. Gans played a waiting game, and when Griffo had fought himself out found no difficulty in putting him in such condition that the referee's action was pleasing to the crowd. There was little betting, and Gans was a 2 to 1 favorite.

Nelson Is Still in the Lead.

Cambridge, Mass., July 10.—More records were broken at the second night of the Golden Wheel race. Nelson's ample lead on the first night seemed to satisfy him and he followed in second position the major portion of the evening, but on the thirty-fifth mile went to the front and retained it to the finish. The score at the closing tonight:

Nelson, 66 miles; total score, 132 miles. Pierce, 64 miles; total score, 127 miles. Stinson, 65 miles; total, 122 miles. Miller, 61 miles; total, 121 miles.

BOTH TICKETS OPEN TO PHILIP.

Story That the Rear Admiral Was Sought for Second Place Nomination.

PAID NO HEED TO OFFERS.

Platt Spoke for Republicans, While Coler Represented the Democrats.

GENERAL NEW YORK NEWS.

NEW YORK BUREAU CHICAGO TRIBUNE,
New York, July 10.

Both Parties Wanted Philip for Second Place.

Had the late Rear Admiral Philip cared to go into politics Governor Roosevelt might not have been the Republican nominee for Vice President. Since the death of the Rear Admiral it has developed that he had the offer of second place on either the Republican or Democratic ticket.

The offer of the Republican nomination was made by Senator Platt, who called at the navy yard and strenuously urged the former commander of the Texas to allow his name to be used at Philadelphia.

The invitation to be the running mate of Mr. Bryan was delivered by Controller Coler, delegated by Senator Hill, who had picked up the naval hero as the man to stir up enthusiasm in the East.

Both offers were modestly rejected by the Rear Admiral.

Senator Platt's visit to the navy yard was made at the time when Governor Roosevelt was so insistent that both Mr. Platt and Mr. Odell had acquiesced in his determination that he should make a second race for the Governorship. Senator Platt outlined fully the political situation to the Rear Admiral. When the Senator had finished Rear Admiral Philip replied that he could not even consider the offer.

"I am a naval officer," he said. "I am not a politician. What services I can render my country will be given in my present position."

Barely two weeks after this interview Controller Coler, commissioned by Senator Hill, met the Rear Admiral at a dinner in Brooklyn and made the proposition for the Democrats, which was also declined.

Doings of the New York Democrats.

The Democratic politicians who attended the convention at Kansas City will rest a few days before they begin campaign work, and from present indications the party organization in New York will not be called upon by the National committee to bear any of the burdens of the national campaign. It is understood by New York Democrats that the National committee will not open any headquarters or branch office in the East this year, and that the entire campaign will be conducted from Chicago.

It was made clear at Kansas City that the men who were to direct Mr. Bryan's campaign had little hope of carrying New York, New Jersey, or any other Eastern State, and that all their campaign work would be done in the West and on the Pacific coast.

The gold Democrats of the East are divided as to their policy for this campaign and the question will not be settled until the National committee of the organization meets in Indianapolis on July 25. The impression prevails, however, that the organization will not place a ticket in the field.

Many of the leading men throughout the country, who supported Palmer and Buckner in 1896, have already announced their intention of voting this year for McKinley.

The Hill-Croker fight that broke out in such violent form at Kansas City promises to continue throughout the campaign in this State and to overshadow the Kansas City ticket in local interest. Hill controls the machinery of the campaign in the State committee and threats of knifing tickets are already rife in the city and State.

The Republicans say that the Hill-Croker row will be worth 50,000 votes to the Republican national ticket.

Shea Goes to Reprimand Coler.

Bridge Commissioner John L. Shea, chief of staff of the Kings County Democracy, visited Controller Coler today with a reprimand from Hugh McLaughlin for his statement that the Brooklyn organization ought to follow ex-Senator Hill as leader instead of Croker. Mr. McLaughlin has not only rejected the advice of Mr. Coler, but he has given him to understand that it was presumption and altogether uncalled for.

Mr. Shea called at 3 o'clock to tell the Controller what Mr. McLaughlin thought of his effort to bring out Mr. Hill as leader in local affairs. Mr. Coler, however, was at a meeting of the Board of Estimate.

"There is no necessity for any clash between Tammany and Kings County," said Mr. Shea to a reporter. "The administration, from a material point, has benefited us greatly. It has improved the streets. It has taken care of our schools.

"From a political standpoint, also, we have no complaint to make. In the distribution of offices we have been taken care of."

The remarks of the commissioner were repeated to Mr. Coler.

"I can't understand what he means," said the Controller. He can't be in earnest."

Man Dies from a Broken Heart.

In the same grave in Calvary Cemetery were buried this evening the bodies of Johanna Cook and her devoted husband, Michael. The woman died last Sunday afternoon from natural causes. The man died at 8 o'clock this morning from a broken heart. They lived on the ground floor of 40 Pacific street, Brooklyn. Mrs. Patrick Sweeney, Mrs. Cook's sister, found her brother-in-law lying face downward across his wife's coffin when she went to call him to breakfast. It was the same position in which she had left him when she retired a few hours previously.

Mrs. Sweeney touched Michael gently on the shoulder. Still he did not move.

"Papa's been like that for ever so long," said 9-year-old Johnnie. "He won't move for us. Me and Eddie have been trying to wake him up. He's awful sound asleep."

"This must stop, Michael. You'll break your heart if you keep on like this," said the woman, and she lifted his face from the head of the coffin. The eyes stared vacantly at her and his body fell to the floor when Mrs. Sweeney released her hold on his arm. The man was dead.

Actor Gillette's Love for Graham Bread.

Actor William Gillette was in the city today en route to Norwalk, Conn., where he will visit his sister. Before leaving the city Mr. Gillette ordered a Broadway baker to send to his Norwalk address three loaves of graham bread. Friends of the actor declare that his visit to Norwalk will last a week, drawing their conclusions from observation of Mr. Gillette's bread-eating capacity as witnessed at various luncheons and dinners. When Mr. Gillette was in St. Louis recently he ordered by telegraph a consignment of graham bread from the same bakery.

Republican Leaders Talk Politics.

Chairman Odell of the Republican State committee and Senator Platt had a conference this afternoon in the Senator's office at 49 Broadway, the subject being the coming meeting of the State committee and the convention which will nominate a State ticket. Mr. Odell told a reporter the convention would be held at Saratoga Springs probably during the first week of September.

When asked about his reported candidacy for the Gubernatorial nomination, Mr. Odell said:

"I am positively out of it. My name is not being considered. I will not be a candidate and I feel absolutely free to view the situation from an unprejudiced or unbiased standpoint. Nobody need have any idea that I have the least thought of securing the nomination."

Mrs. Tom Thumb came back from Europe on the steamship Astoria. She is now a Countess, having married Count Magri, a midget, who was her first love.

Count Steinich Recovers Stolen Documents.

Deputy Sheriff Philip Kuss of Yonkers made a clever capture today at the Sturtevant House in this city, and at the same time recovered documents stolen five years ago from Count A. R. Steinich of White Plains and since then held for $10,000 ransom. The man arrested was W. A. Benjamin, who was living at the Sturtevant House with his wife and three children. He was taken to White Plains and locked up. The disappearance of the stolen property dates back to five years ago, when a friend of the Count visited White Plains. He persuaded the aged noble to lend him the family records, including his patent of nobility and some illuminated missals of great age and historic interest. The friend suddenly missed the documents, and it was evident they had been stolen. No trace of them could be found. A letter dated three weeks ago and signed W. A. Benjamin was the first intimation the Count received of the whereabouts of the stolen property. This letter demanded $10,000, the writer stating that he knew the whereabouts of the man who possessed the documents. The Count then consulted Captain McClusky, whose detectives traced Benjamin to the Sturtevant House. The patent which was stolen is in the handwriting of and signed by Empress Marie Terese, Empress of Germany and Austria.

New Telephone Company with Big Capital.

The National Telephone and Telegraph company, with an authorized capital of $50,000,000, today filed articles of incorporation with the Secretary of State of New Jersey. The company is empowered to construct and operate telephone and telegraph lines in New Jersey and other States, as well as in foreign countries. The company is also empowered to conduct a system of telegraphing without wires and to deal in telegraph and telephone material. The incorporators are Joseph B. McCall, A. Loudensnowden, Harry J. Verner, and J. F. Sullivan of Philadelphia, and Heulings Lippincott of Camden. The articles were filed by the lawyer who has filed all of the incorporations of the companies organized by the Widener-Elkins-Whitney syndicate.

Proceedings Against Gaynors Resumed.

Proceedings against B. D. Greene, J. F. Gaynor, E. H. Gaynor, and W. F. Gaynor, all of Georgia, to have them removed to the jurisdiction of the federal courts in that State, were resumed before United States Commissioner Shields today. It is the purpose of the prosecution to prove by certain check books the disposition of the funds which were under Captain Carter's control, and to show the progressive increase in his personal expenses during the five years of alleged conspiracy.

These accounts were not used in the trial of Captain Carter because the court-martial had no power to compel the banks to produce their accounts.

On Thursday of this week the officers of the Southern banks with which Carter did business will be in New York with their account books.

PIONEER SWEDISH PASTOR DEAD

The Rev. Christopher Sandquist, Who Come to Chicago in 1860, Passes Away at the Age of 78 Years.

The Rev. Christopher Sandquist, aged 78 years, a retired Swedish Baptist minister, died yesterday at the residence of his son, John L. Sandquist, 191 Gault court. Before the Chicago fire in 1871 he was the organist of the Swedish Lutheran Church at Sedgwick avenue and Hobby street, and resided in the vicinity. He was one of the many who secured refuge from the flames on Goose Island, where he remained two days. His home was destroyed.

The next year he was ordained as a Baptist preacher and went to Oakland, Neb., to take charge of a pastorate. He was located afterward at Rockford, Ill., Minneapolis, and several Iowa and Dakota towns. He was noted for his simplicity and for refusal to be put on salary by any church. He took only what was necessary for his family expenses, turning the remainder of what was given for his support back to the church.

THE REV. CHRISTOPHER SANDQUIST.

The Rev. Mr. Sandquist was a scholar and linguist. He spoke Swedish, German, and English with fluency, and translated many English and German works into the Swedish language. He was a school teacher in Sweden before he came to Chicago in 1860, and his musical education was obtained at the Stockholm Musical Academy. Besides his son he left a daughter, Mrs. Ida Newburg. His wife died many years ago.

The funeral will take place tomorrow at 2 p. m. from the son's residence and will be conducted by the Rev. Mr. Schwartz. Interment will be at Graceland.

OBITUARY.

MRS. MARY M. CORTHELL, Chicago, who died on Sunday at her residence, 2013 Michigan avenue, will be buried this morning at Rosehill. The funeral took place at the residence yesterday afternoon, the Rev. Dr. Chichester of the First Presbyterian Church officiating, in the absence of Dr. Lippincott of the Second Church. Mrs. Corthell was the wife of John L. Corthell, and a life-long resident of this city, where her parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Jacobus, were early settlers. She was prominent in charitable work, having been for many years on the board of the Chicago Orphan Asylum and that of the Woman's Hospital.

ANSON BUCKLIN, Dundee, Ill., an early settler of Cook County, who died on Sunday at his home, will be buried tomorrow. He was 77 years old and came to Illinois from Massachusetts in 1838, settling near Barrington. He was one of the founders of the Dundee Baptist Church in 1844. He left a widow, a son, and a daughter whose home is in Minneapolis.

NEAL MAHEU, Charleston, Ill., was buried yesterday. He was a grandson of Marshal Maheu, a staff officer of Napoleon I., and a companion of his exile on St. Helena. Mr. Maheu was a native of St. Louis, his father being for many years a steamboat Captain on the Mississippi.

MRS. E. G. McKINDLY, Chicago, was buried yesterday afternoon at Oakwoods. The funeral took place at the residence, 258 Michigan avenue, the Rev. Dr. Richardson, pastor of Trinity Episcopal Church, conducted the services.

FRANKLIN DWIGHT COSSITT, La Grange, will be buried today. Funeral services will be held at the residence in La Grange. They will be private.

BIG LUMP SUM IN SHIP BIDS.

Builders Soon to Be Asked to Figure on $50,000,000 Worth of Work.

DANGER IN GOLD FIELDS.

Men Rushing to Cape Nome May Encounter Disease and Destitution.

NEWS OF NATION'S CAPITAL.

WASHINGTON BUREAU CHICAGO TRIBUNE,
Washington, D. C., July 10.

Great Amount Involved in Ship Bids.

In all probability the largest amount of money ever involved in the opening of bids for public work under the government will be that representing fourteen ships of war, the cost of which is estimated at $50,000,000. Admiral Hichborn, chief constructor of the navy, is arranging to call for bids for the battleships Pennsylvania, New Jersey, and Georgia, of the armored cruisers West Virginia, Nebraska, and California, the construction of which was authorized last year, and for the two battleships, three armored cruisers, and three protected cruisers authorized by the last Congress. He intends to open bids for all this work on one day.

The circulars to prospective bidders are being prepared by the Bureau of Construction, where the plans will be accessible in the course of the next month. Bidders will be permitted to furnish their own plans, with proposals, for the construction of the ships according to their own designs. It probably will take four or five weeks to examine the bidders' designs and to determine whether those propositions will furnish better ships than the departmental plans. Not more than two of the vessels may be built at one yard, or by one contracting party, and two of the ships at least will be built by Pacific coast firms, provided the cost of construction does not exceed 4 per centum above the lowest accepted bid for the other vessels.

There are now seventy-one vessels either under construction or being designed by Chief Constructor Hichborn. These include the types of battleships, protected cruisers, armored cruisers, monitors, torpedo boats, torpedo boat destroyers, and submarine torpedo boat.

Most of the work is well advanced. The battleship which is most nearly completed is the Alabama, under construction at the Cramp works. The torpedo boat which is most nearly finished is the Goldsborough, at the Wolff & Sewicker works on the Pacific coast.

Controller and Mrs. Dawes will leave for Canton tomorrow, where they will be the guests of President and Mrs. McKinley. They go upon the invitation of the President to be present at the ceremonies attending the notification of the President of his renomination. Ex-Secretary and Mrs. Day will also be present, and are expected to arrive at the President's home on Wednesday.

Rush to Cape Nome Is Overdone.

If the Treasury department had authority to do so, it would sound a note of warning to stop the rush of persons headed for the Cape Nome gold fields. Thousands have already started and many others are now on their way there. Alluring promises have been held out to those who want to get rich rapidly, and unless every one is successful many miners will be stranded with poor prospects of getting home.

The government would be unable to bring large numbers from Cape Nome owing to limited transportation facilities, and conditions are ripe for an outbreak of smallpox and other dreaded diseases.

The Treasury has received a letter from Captain Roberts of the revenue cutter Manning, written from Dutch Harbor, in which he deals with the situation. It follows:

"The steamer Luella of San Francisco, P. Miller, master, came in from Nome with a clean bill of health, and confirms the report that smallpox cases were found on board the steamers Ohio and Santa Anna, which have been sent to Egg Island, off St. Michael's, for detention in quarantine. Dr. Call, recently of our service, has been appointed quarantine officer by the authorities.

"Captain Miller informs me that there are no cases of smallpox ashore, but that nearly every one expects an epidemic of typhoid fever. There are, he believes, 10,000 people on the beach with no prospect of securing a paying claim or of obtaining employment, outside of mechanics, such as carpenters, builders, etc.

"It appears impossible for the vast throng that has been and is being thrown into Nome by the numerous transportation companies, which use every means possible to induce travel to the Cape Nome fields, to find mines or work. Many of these people have but little above their passage money and outfits and depend upon finding gold to keep them going after landing.

"It is the opinion of those from the mining district of Nome and vicinity, from whom I have sought information, that a large number of people will be stranded before the end of the season, with no means of getting out of the country without assistance from some source.

"The revenue cutters, crowded to their utmost, could take but a small fraction of the number, and the problem of how they will survive the rigors of an arctic winter is one that requires serious attention."

Artillery Problem in Chinese Crisis.

Army officers who have been discussing the designation of troops for service in China have commented upon the failure of the War department to utilize the artillery arm to the extent which the friends of that branch believe would be found profitable in operations in China. It is understood that General Miles, among other recommendations in connection with the use of the military force in the advance on Pekin, suggested that some of the light batteries with their equipment be shipped to the scene of trouble.

From the meager reports which reached the Washington authorities, the opinion prevails that the artillery can be used with great effect in making initial attacks on intrenched rebels and in sustaining the infantry and cavalry in their concerted operations.

The difficulty, however, about employing the artillery is the lack of suitable field equipment. An army officer attached to General Miles' staff said today that the American troops would not compare with the Europeans in the matter of field artillery. He said, moreover, the United States is fully twenty years behind in ordnance equipment, and it is assumed this defect governed the War department officials in their disinclination to use the artillery as suggested by General Miles.

Decide on the Six-Inch Guns.

At a meeting of the Board of Construction today a decision was reached in regard to the armament of the new protected cruisers authorized by the last Congress. The main battery of each of these ships will consist of fourteen six-inch guns, a type which is regarded as the most efficient of all calibers. There was some question whether a majority of the guns could not be of eight-inch caliber, but the ordnance experts were of the opinion that the six-inch gun was the most useful, and their opinion prevailed with

GIVES CAMP WAR ASPECT.

SOLDIER, AFFECTED BY HEAT AND EXERCISE, SHOWS FIGHT.

Falls Prostrate in Ball Game at Springfield and Then Becomes Violent—Taken to Hospital, Where He Recovers—First Brigade Will Engage in Sham Battle on the Hay Fields Today—Colonel Sanborn's Regiment Gives a Mock Parade.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Springfield, Ill., July 10.—[Special.]—The pugnacity of a half crazed soldier, fighting and vituperating at the men who bore him on a stretcher, gave to the First Brigade's camp at sundown this evening an aspect of war more real than pretended. Private William Cunningham's day of vigorous drilling in the sun did not prevent him from engaging in hard play until he fell prostrate on the parade grounds. Then, suffering from temporary dementia, he stood up and fought his comrades who tried to lay him on a stretcher.

Like a soldier, Cunningham evinced no signs of exhaustion until he fell. He had gone into a ball game with as much zest as he had gone through his drills. He was running for a base when he leaped into the air and fell senseless on the ground. When the stretcher was brought from the hospital Cunningham stood up and defied his comrades. Finally they pinioned him down. He still fought and dealt blows on Privates Alexander Knox, Harry Lanykal, and Barney Brownstein, while a dozen others struggled with him through the company streets towards the hospital. Surgeon Major W. G. Willard and Dr. W. S. White attended the patient. Half an hour later he was sitting up smoking a pipe. He is a member of Company L, First Regiment, and served in Cuba.

Battle On for Today.

Actual hostilities will open tomorrow. The First Brigade will "work out" a battle. Chicago's militiamen will make "historic spots" on the hayfields by the Chinkipin Creek. For the purpose of battle maneuvers the brigade will divide into defending and attacking forces, and except for bullets a battle will be fought.

Colonel Sanborn will have command of the defending force. His command will consist of the First and Second Battalions of the First Regiment, under Major James Miles and Captain C. A. Towne; the Third Battalion of the Second Regiment, under Captain J. W. Swatek; the First and Third Battalions of the Seventh Regiment, under Majors Martin Duhig and T. J. Carroll; the Eighth Battalion, under Major John Marshall, and the second section of the Gatling gun platoon, under Sergeant Wood.

Colonel Stuart will make the attack. His command will be composed of the Third Battalion of the First Regiment, under Major J. M. Eddy; the First and Second Battalions of the Second Regiment, under Majors J. J. Garrity and J. H. Stansfield; the Second Battalion of the Seventh Regiment, under Lieutenant Colonel M. J. Clasby, and the first section of the Gatling gun platoon, under Sergeant Thompson.

Farmer Gives Warning.

Farmer Hattratty, who lives behind the rifle ranges, on hearing that the battle is to be fought, sent word into camp that he intended to make demands on the State for any damage to his property the battle might entail. He said that during last winter his tin roof leaked on account of a puncture inflicted last summer by a stray bullet. Farmer Hattratty was informed that the 20,000 cartridges to use in the prospective battle would be blanks.

Contrasting with things more or less real in camp, the annual "mock parade" of the First Regiment took place today. Sergeant John Ramsey, dressed in a ballet dancer's costume, "generaled" a cohort of troopers, who were garbed in green gauze. Bugler Harry Richards led a band of cymbal pounders and tin basin beaters. The parade charged into a mass of tents and ended.

Officers of the Day.

Major M. L. C. Funkhouser will be field officer of the day tomorrow. Regimental officers of the day and guard will be:

First Regiment—Captain Parcy C. World, Lieutenant John V. Clinnin, and Lieutenant S. T. High.

Second Regiment—Captain Mendelsohn, Lieutenant W. C. Fisher, and Lieutenant Joseph H. Van Natta.

Seventh Regiment—Captain C. S. Kelly and Lieutenant B. F. Kimmett.

Eighth Battalion—Captain C. L. Hunt and Lieutenant William H. Payne.

General orders issued by Adjutant General Reece confirm the following appointments: William E. Hoinville, to be Battalion Adjutant of the Second Regiment; Frank T. Caspers, to be Captain K Company, Second Regiment; Edgar R. Seely, to be Lieutenant L Company, Second Regiment; Harry C. Baldwin, to be Second Lieutenant E Company, Second Regiment. Lieutenant Ben J. Moore, Battalion Adjutant, First Regiment, is put on retired list.

Colonel Moriarity on behalf of the Seventh Regiment tonight presented P. J. O'Keefe of Chicago with a diamond studded gold locket. The gift was made in gratitude for services rendered by Attorney O'Keefe in the Seventh's benefit at Music Hall on May 2. By the entertainment Mr. O'Keefe raised $2,000 to be added to the fund with which the regiment expects to buy new uniforms.

Protest from N. W. C. T. U.

The following letter was received by Colonel Sanborn today:

Headquarters National W. C. T. U., Rest Cottage, Evanston, Ill., July 10.—Colonel John B. Sanborn, First Regiment National Guards, Springfield, Ill.—Dear Sir: The announcement in the daily press of Chicago to the effect that beer is to be served at mess in Camp Lincoln leads us to address this letter to you.

To set intoxicating drinks before soldiers at meals is bringing temptation nearer than by way of the canteen. We are informed by a man who was for eight years a member of the First Regiment that during all that time beer and other intoxicating drinks were not tolerated in camp. We are, therefore, believing the serving of beer at mess to be an innovation; but whether it is or not, it must be regarded as a practice full of danger. It does not seem credible that an officer would lend his influence to the drink habit in the face of such testimonies as those given by Generals Kitchener and Roberts to the effect that total abstinence is necessary for good service, endurance, and resistance to disease by the soldiers, and in the face of the awful effects of the canteen in our Cuban and Philippine campaigns, as testified to by many officers as well as soldiers, and in the face of the fact that both the British and the American navies have forbidden the use of beer and other intoxicating drinks.

We do not, therefore, credit the accounts that you are in favor of making it easy to do wrong and hard to do right in this matter by having beer served at mess.

Doubtless there are young men in the National Guards who are not accustomed to drinking beer. For their sakes, as well as for the sake of those who need a restraining influence in this direction, we beg of you to use your personal influence and your official authority in favor of abstinence on the part of the young men for whom you are in a good degree responsible. Many Colonels in our Cuban and Philippine campaigns prohibited the canteen in their regiments. We are believing that you can do the same. We therefore appeal to you to save the boys from that which Gladstone characterized as "worse than war, famine, and pestilence."

The contrast between the words and the habits of the great man for whom your camp is named and the "guzzling hour" in that camp, be it by day or by night, does not augur well for the safety and perpetuity of this government.

May not the mothers of these young men count upon you to use every endeavor to return their boys to them more manly, better able to resist temptation, and therefore better prepared to serve their country than when they went into camp?

In the name of the 300,000 white ribboners of our organization, including 20,000 in Illinois, and on behalf of the mothers of the National Guards and of the boys themselves, we remain yours respectfully,

LILLIAN M. N. STEVENS,
President N. W. C. T. U.

Kate Kempanowski Expires While Feeding a Press—Cooler Weather Promised for Today.

The maximum official temperature yesterday, according to the weather man in the Auditorium Tower, was 81° at 5 p. m. Nevertheless one death from heat was reported.

Kate Kempanowski, 21 years of age, 314 North Sangamon street, died from the heat while feeding a press at the Pioneer Paper and Stock company, 318 to 324 Desplaines street, at 4:55 p. m.

John Smith, an employé of the Illinois Steel company, who was overcome by the heat while at work on July 5, died on Monday afternoon at his home, 8525 Railroad avenue. Smith was confined in the company's hospital for several days, and when he appeared to be recovering was taken home.

The forecast for today is of a cooler day, with clouds and perhaps some rain.

I CURE VARICOCELE!

A New System of Treatment Which Positively Cures This Dreaded Affliction.

A sufferer from Varicocele is subject to a constant drain upon his vital strength. It is an exhausting, undermining disease, and every day that it exists is a menace to health. It destroys the strength and energy of thousands of men, and few of them really know what it is that is breaking down their vitality.

The veins are affected, the blood congests, and soon all power and energy is gone.

This awful disease can be cured, I have cured five thousand cases in the past twenty years—every one with electricity.

I am the originator of a new method of treating Varicocele. It is the only method of any kind that has been successful.

THE DR. McLAUGHLIN METHOD.

A soothing current of electricity is applied direct to the parts from my approved body appliance. I have a special method of application which never fails to decompose the congestion. It gives a new impetus to the circulation, restoring the strength and completely reducing all swelling.

It will cure the worst case in two months.

My appliance gives a steady, powerful current of Electricity into the body while you sleep. It has a perfect regulator to control the current. It cannot burn nor blister, and yet you can feel the life-giving power. I guarantee it for one year without any expense after first cost.

It is the cheapest and best electric appliance for body wear on the market today. Call and test it free, or send for my free book.

DR. M. A. McLAUGHLIN, 214 State-st., Cor. Quincy, Chicago.

BAD LUCK AT CAPE NOME.

GOLD SEEKERS RETURN WITH ONLY SMALL TREASURE.

Glad to Get Out of the Country, Where They Say There Is Neither Law, Order, Nor Safety for Property—Killings of Daily Occurrence and Robberies Frequent — Government to Be Turned Over to United States Commissioner—Two Die in Duel.

San Francisco, Cal., July 10.—[Special.]—The steamer St. Paul arrived today direct from Nome with forty passengers and a million and a half dollars of treasure, most of it from Dawson. Only $125,000 came from Nome, as the greater part of the passengers had poor luck and were glad to get out of the country. Ben Langford and his partner from Rampert City brought down $150,000 as the result of one year's clean up. The St. Paul left Nome on June 27.

All the passengers and officers unite in describing the new Arctic Eldorado as a hell on earth. There is no law or order and no safety for property. Killings are of daily occurrence and robberies are frequent. The day before the steamer sailed the Nome Chamber of Commerce met and decided to turn over the government of the city to United States Commissioner Rawson, who, with some soldiers under him, is expected to enforce law and order.

Deadly affrays are constantly occurring over town lots and buildings. Joe Lyne, watchman for the Alaska Commercial company, quarreled with Hank Lewis of St. Louis over property lines and both drew revolvers. Each fell in his tracks, shot through the heart.

For fifteen miles the beach is crowded with tents, so crowded that work is nearly impossible. Few men are taking out enough gold to pay their expenses and fever is claiming hundreds owing to bad water and lack of drainage. Many are striking to Koyukuk, Tanana, and other new districts, but the majority of those camped on the beach have not enough coin to stampede and have no one to leave in charge of their outfits.

Any property left without a guard is stolen in an hour's time. Passengers say that even if some claims prove rich there will be suffering among those who are porly provided with money. They say something should be done to prevent any more prospectors going into Nome.

ACCUSES OFFICERS AT NOME.

Attorney at Gold Beach Says Government Employes Assist in Grabbing Mining Claims.

Tacoma, Wash., July 10.—[Special.]—In a letter from Cape Nome a prominent attorney makes some serious charges. He says one of the military officers at St. Michael's has used 100 powers-of-attorney in locating claims and afterwards used his powers to dispossess other claimants; that the United States Commissioner holds twenty-five claims, and has used the criminal code to maintain possession, claimants being placed under $30,000 bonds and in default committed to jail; that the Deputy United States Marshal is half owner of a saloon, and has his name above the door; that the North American Trading and Transportation company and other big corporations sent out a party of Swedes, who went on several creeks and staked everything from the beginning, some of the men recording 400 claims. It is claimed that this practice has been general, and is a manifest perversion of the mining laws. An effort is being made to have the Attorney General of the United States make an investigation.

Young Deer and Elk in the Zoo.

The deer that was born at Lincoln Park last Monday has been much admired by all the park visitors. The animal weighs as much as a good-sized black and tan dog. Its legs seem hardly capable of supporting its body, so slender are they. The Zoo has also another baby, an elk, which was born the same day. It is about the size of a mastiff dog and is ungainly.

WEDNESDAY, JULY 11, 1900.

A Great American Tenor Dead. Charles R. Adams, in his prime the most accomplished and successful of American operatic tenors, died at Harwich, Mass., on the Fourth of July in the sixty-sixth year of his age. Mr. Adams was born in Charlestown, Mass. His first vocal lessons were taken in Boston, and for a few years during his youthful career he was a favorite choir and concert singer and soloist for the Handel and Haydn society. About the close of the civil war he went to Europe, where his success was immediate. He became one of the principal tenors of the grand opera at Vienna, a position he held for nine years. He also had engagements for three years in the German opera at Pesth and for three years at the Imperial Opera-House in Berlin, and sang two seasons at Covent Garden and one season at La Scala, Milan. His most remarkable performances were in the title rôles of "Lohengrin" and "Tannhäuser," in which he reached a standard of artistic excellence which has rarely been equaled on the operatic stage. He returned to America in 1877, and was heard in German and Italian opera in the principal cities of this country, Chicago among them. For the last twenty years he has been teaching in Boston. Mr. Adams was a robust tenor of large compass, with a sweet and well-controlled voice, and sang in a magnetic and inspiring style. He was unquestionably the greatest tenor this country has yet produced.

To Regulate Billboards. Relief from the billboard nuisance is to be expected now that the City Council has passed the ordinance regulating them. The measure received a unanimous vote, and it is taken for granted that the Mayor will approve it. The ordinance provides that billboards in Chicago shall not contain more than 100 feet superficial area and not be more than ten feet high, which will prevent them from obscuring the view and cut down to a reasonable size some of the most unsightly. It is provided that they must be of incombustible material, which they are not now, and they must be at least three feet from the ground. The provision that they must be twenty-five feet back from the street line will abolish many of those now in existence and prevent the marring of the street front. One of the most sensible provisions is that which requires the consent of the owners of three-quarters of the frontage on both sides of the block before boards can be erected in the boulevards. This will banish the boards altogether from blocks in which houses are, for the disfigurement of the boulevards by their presence can hardly be approved by the necessary frontage. The penalty for violation of these conditions is that the owners must pay a rental of 50 cents a foot a year to the city. This will be practically prohibitive and is therefore to be approved. It would be better if the billboards were to be abolished altogether, but probably the present ordinance will be the most effective way of dealing with them.

British Flags Made in America. One of the best indications of the way in which the United States is invading the markets of the world is to be found in the fact that most of the British flags sold in England nowadays are imported from America. This statement is made on the authority of a dealer in London, who is quoted in the Morning Leader of that city. There are no statistics at hand, but the number of British flags made in America runs into the millions, according to this dealer. He explained the fact by saying that Americans made the flags better and cheaper, and that more flags were made and sold in the United States than anywhere else. He also added that nearly all the British flags used in Canada came from the republic. The demand for flags in England has been increased greatly by the war with the Boers and the celebrations that followed the British victories. The British also imported large quantities of the buttons similar to those used in this country in political campaigns. Some enterprising American sent over an enormous shipment of them, with pictures of Roberts, the Queen, the Prince of Wales, and other people who are popular at the moment, and they have sold with the same rapidity with which such buttons were sold in the United States four years ago. The English dealer said that England could not compete with America in the manufacture of these. This is pleasing to Americans, but it must annoy some Englishmen to know that even for their flags and patriotic buttons they must come to the United States. Every time they look at their flag they are able to appreciate the coming supremacy of the United States in manufactures.

Social Study for Women. The latest annual register of Wellesley College shows how the increasing interest among women in charitable and philanthropic work is to be met by that institution. Among the ten courses offered in economics and sociology are two which are intended for the special training of women for work in this direction. They are naturally mainly academic, being given by books and lectures, but an effort is made to unite study with practical observations of life, secured by visits to institutions, university settlements, tenement-house neighborhoods and the slums. One course is in social pathology, or charities and correction. It affords an opportunity for the study of the defective, delinquent, and dependent classes. It begins with a study of the criminal, then the vicious and intemperate, physically and mentally defective, pauperized and semi-independent, and especially children, thus passing from the abnormal to the normal. The causes of the existence of these classes, their extent, and the history of their treatment and modern aims and methods employed in dealing with them form the theme of lectures by members of the faculty. The second course is called social hygiene, being a study of social needs. In this the student is given an opportunity to learn the growth and composition of population, the laws dealing with the classes, the history of public and private effort for their betterment, the public health laws, and the means by which education and the popularization of culture, higher standards, and esthetic moral and civic improvement may be brought about. Such courses cannot fail to broaden the minds of the girls who take them, and it will be of value in giving them knowledge of conditions of which many college women are in dense ignorance. Its inauguration is as marked an indication of the tendency of the times as is the establishment of commercial courses in the colleges for men.

M'KINLEY'S CHINESE POLICY.

The note setting forth the attitude of the United States concerning the Chinese question, which was sent last week to the different powers interested therein, has just been made public. The summary of its contents, which was printed some days ago, appears to have been accurate. It is the purpose of the President to act concurrently with other powers in rescuing the Americans at Pekin; in affording protection to American life and property everywhere in China; in guarding all legitimate American interests; and in aiding "to prevent a spread of the present disturbances to other provinces of the empire, and also to prevent their recurrence." It is said to be the policy of the American government to seek a preventive—

> Which may bring about permanent safety and peace to China, preserve Chinese territorial and administrative entity, protect all rights guaranteed to friendly powers by treaty and international law, and safeguard for the world the principle of equal and impartial trade with all parts of the Chinese Empire.

Thus the President has let foreign governments understand that the United States does not wish any Chinese territory for itself and will view with regret any attempt to divide up the empire or to take the administrative control of any province out of the hands of the Chinese government.

The Democrats in their national platform "earnestly protest" against what they call "the Republican departure which has involved us in so-called politics, including the diplomacy of Europe, and the intrigue and landgrabbing of Asia." It will be difficult, even for the suspicious Mr. Bryan, to find in this note any evidences of a "landgrabbing" disposition. It does show that the administration is prepared to act concurrently with European powers whose intrigues Mr. Bryan dreads so much to protect the lives and the interests of Americans. Surely that cannot be called an "entangling alliance." It may be, however, that Mr. Bryan would rather that the United States should endeavor to rescue the Americans who are at Pekin "without the aid of any other nation."

The latest news from China is of a nature which gives some ground for hope that the objects which the President has in view may be accomplished. It is reported from Pekin that the Empress has regained the authority it was believed she had lost and that the foreigners in that city are being protected by the government troops. If it be true that the anarchy which obtained for a time has ended, and if the Europeans and Americans in Pekin escape unharmed, then the other powers will be much more likely to consent "to preserve Chinese territorial and administrative entity." In that event it is certain that the principle of the "open door," of so much importance to the commercial interests of this country, will be maintained.

WISDOM IN WIVES.

David Starr Jordan does not think that a college training unfits a woman for the severer discipline and humbler duties of matrimony, and he says that the half-educated woman is exposed to more dangers and is more susceptible to the "higher foolishness" than is her better balanced and more brainy sister. These, of course, are truisms, but they are truisms that have to be driven home at regular intervals. For there still prevails a popular superstition that the college-bred wife will have her head in a book when her hands ought to be in the dough, and that she will permit the dust to gather on the whatnot while she is putting whatnots into her brain. But the truth is that it is often the untrained mind that is most squeamish about touching dust and dough and thinks both of these beneath the dignity of a ladylike wife.

And is it the college women who make up the audiences at the sensational melodrama of the day, and are they the ones to be caught by the chaff that fills many of the modern novels? The advantage that the college woman possesses over her untrained sister is that she may have her hands in dough while her mind is still pursuing the "flying perfect," and under such conditions neither her spirits nor her bread are apt to grow heavy. Of course, in the matter of right living, common sense is the best of advisers, and this may be the glorious possession of both the trained and the untrained mind. But if there is one thing more than another that mental discipline is supposed to insure it is that good thing, common sense.

THE RIGHT OF PETITION.

North Side business-men worked for several weeks to secure an imposing array of signatures to a petition asking the City Council to do certain things for them. Finally, when they had secured 21,000 signatures, covering a roll of paper five hundred feet long, they sent it down to the Council Chamber in an express wagon. They also appointed a committee to attend the Council meeting and observe the effect of the big petition on the municipal statesmen.

When the committee reached the City Hall it found the city fathers had already trampled the sacred right of petition as well as the petition itself under foot. The huge roll of paper with its more than twenty-thousand signatures was already torn in pieces and athletic Aldermen were busily engaged in kicking them about the sacred chamber devoted to their deliberations. When the ill-fated petition had been kicked into so many fragments that football was no longer possible, the playful statesmen took long strips of paper and indulged in a game of blindman's buff.

When the game was over the Council Chamber was a sight. Strips of torn paper hung from the chandeliers and still clung in some instances to Aldermanic ears, while the seats occupied by the grave and reverend fathers of the city were inclosed in a tangled web of what was once the largest petition ever presented to the City Council. There were bits of the petition still hanging over the edges of the Mayor's desk and the whole room looked like a paper mill struck by lightning.

Aldermanic dignity shared the fate of the petition. It, too, is now a thing of shreds and patches. And citizens who may hereafter wish to influence the City Council will know better than to waste their time in securing signatures to petitions.

REMOVE THE GARBAGE.

When the Council made up the appropriation bill last March, it set apart nearly $1,200,000 to be used for street and alley cleaning, for street repairs, and sprinkling, and for the removal and disposal of garbage. Presumably about half that amount has been expended. If so, a 40 per cent reduction of expenses will not permit of the doing of much work between now and the close of the year.

It would be interesting to know just how much of the appropriation has been expended and to what purpose. The appropriation bill directs that in expending the money none of the work shall be done by contractors, but shall all be done by employés of the Board of Public Works "under the system known as that of direct labor." That is why the Street Cleaning department had in its employ the 1,000 men who may be laid off. Has the direct labor system been a success? Property-owners whose garbage has been removed only occasionally and the people who have had frequent occasion to notice the filthy condition of the streets, will say it has not been.

But what has been done in the way of garbage removal is better than nothing. The proposition to decrease the amount of work done cannot be entertained. The warm season is just beginning. Regard for public decency and the public health demands that the daily garbage output of a great city like this be not allowed to remain in streets and alleys to breed disease. If the city neglects its duty not many private citizens will pay for having that work done which the municipal authorities should look after and the condition of Chicago will be filthy and unwholesome beyond description.

It is proper that the city officers should not run the municipality into debt—should not expend taxes which it is feared may not be collected. But if a great reduction of expenses is necessary the more important functions of government should not suffer equally with the less important. For instance, it will not do to weaken the Fire department, nor will it do to stop the collection of garbage, especially during the summer months.

LABOR'S MISSING LINK.

It is strange, even astonishing, that the simple principle upon which our whole system of civil courts rests—namely: That there must be some tribunal to pass upon contracts—has been so haltingly and sparingly applied to contracts of employment. Not only do these latter comprise the most extensive and important class of all contracts, but disputes over their interpretation or non-observance are constantly arising and are leading to the most serious consequences from sheer lack of tribunals to resolve them.

The most conspicuous recent instance of such lack is furnished in connection with the St. Louis street railway strike. On Monday of last week this was jubilantly announced as settled on the basis of a written agreement, and on Monday of this week it was declared on again. The reason for this event is that the men declare that the company has already violated the provisions of the agreement, the company denies such violations, and there is no tribunal to decide the issue between them.

The folly of not providing in the new agreement for a conciliation or arbitration committee to determine questions certain to arise under it is made the more glaring by the fact that the strike was originally precipitated on May 8 by precisely such a question. The men claimed that the agreement of March 10, under which they were then working, was being violated by the company, the latter denied this claim, there was no third party authorized to pass upon the question of fact thus raised, and the strike followed. So far, then, as ways of avoiding strikes are concerned, little wisdom seems to have been derived from the pregnant experiences of the last two months. The vital defect in the former agreement was repeated in the latter one. The parties ended where they began.

Since the essential and permanent advance made in such an industrial conflict consists not in the victory or defeat, the gain or loss of either side, but in some better industrial method hit upon, it was impossible to regard the announced settlement of last week with any profound confidence or satisfaction. If, however, as a result of renewed hostilities the inevitableness of disputes under any such agreement shall be squarely faced, and it shall be honestly amended so as to provide for a joint committee, with an umpire to determine such disputes peacefully and without cessation of employment, there will be at least that much to show as a definite gain through the disastrous struggle now unfortunately resumed.

A CRANK FROM CHICAGO.

When Peter Nissen of Chicago, whose stage name is to be F. M. Bowser, attempted to put his boat into the water above the rapids of Niagara the police should have arrested him and locked him up either as a lunatic or an attempted suicide.

The world is ready to applaud deeds of daring when they are done with some worthy object in view. It even rewards with honor men who risk their lives in attempting to find an imaginary north pole, the location of which could have no great results except in a purely scientific way. But when with no higher ambition than to get a job in a dime museum along with the bearded lady and the other freaks a man deliberately risks his life and goes to what is almost certain death, the state has a right to stop him and if necessary lock him up until he learns to control his ambitions.

The fact that Bowser or Nissen has come through the Niagara rapids alive is of no earthly value and aids no good purpose. Along with the other foolish people who have jumped from the Brooklyn bridge or performed some other equally idiotic feat, he may be able to secure a few weeks' employment in a cheap museum where the sole aim is to pander to vulgar and sensational curiosity. But his act and his example cannot but have a bad influence not only upon the people who pay to look at him but as well upon other weak-minded folk who may be moved to emulate his feat.

After one man has successfully performed a sensational and idle trick of this kind there are usually a number of people ready to imitate him. Many of these imitators are not likely to be as lucky as the originator, and he may in the end be the indirect cause of several deaths. The death of such people, it may be said, is not likely to seriously affect the state, and yet at the same time it is the place of the state to protect its degenerate and deficient citizens against the consequences of their own folly.

THE PASSING OF WILLIAM WALDORF.

Mr. William Waldorf Astor, late of the United States, now of Cliveden, England, is rapidly getting himself disliked in his adopted country. His latest offense is an insulting publication of a paragraph in his paper, stating that an English gentleman, Captain Milne, was present at a reception at Cliveden without invitation. Captain Milne had explained that he was there by a misapprehension and apologized, which was all that a gentleman could do under the circumstances.

Some time ago the Prince of Wales remarked, "That man Astor makes me tired." Now it appears that others who control admission to high society much more rigidly than the Prince are also getting tired. The Queen is tired of William Waldorf Astor. She gives a garden party, invites Captain Milne, and runs her blue pencil through the former's name. The Princess of Wales gave a party at the opera the other night and William Waldorf from his box was compelled to see Captain Milne in the Princess' box. The Marlborough club, of which Astor and Milne are both members, is getting tired of William Waldorf, and may, it is said, pass a resolution sufficiently significant to warrant him in sending in his resignation. William Waldorf out of society would be more lonesome than a fish out of water. He has spent much money and made himself ridiculous in many ways to get into society, but now that the Queen and Prince and Princess of Wales have marked him off their visiting lists it is not unlikely all the society doors will begin slamming in his face and he will find himself out on the walk and Captain Milne the favored guest.

Should such a calamity overtake William Waldorf he will have only himself to blame. If the entire court and society should sit down on him his fate will not invite any sympathy this side of the water. If he is ambitious to marry his daughter to a duke or earl it would have been more decorous and certainly more business-like for him to have advertised for proposals, stating the dot and future prospects. He would have had plenty of candidates to choose from and it would have been much better than needlessly seeking to humiliate an amiable and mistaken gentleman. If London society should close its doors to him, however, he still has Paris as a last resort. The Parisians love to be entertained and William Waldorf has gifts in that direction.

WEALTH DUE TO INVENTIONS.

Patents on inventions are sometimes objected to as tending to create monopolies, but there can be little doubt that the American patent system has had a remarkable influence in stimulating the inventive faculty of the people and in giving the nation its present supremacy in the industrial world. A writer in the July number of Cassier's Magazine brings together some interesting statistics on this subject. He shows that our inventions and our manufactures have increased on parallel lines, and that labor and capital have alike shared in the vast wealth produced by improved machinery.

In the third decade of the present century American manufactured products amounted to only $80,000,000 a year, and in 1836 less than 10,000 patents had been issued. In 1850 the manufactures had increased to $1,015,000,000, and from 1836 to 1850 45,333 patents were issued. In every decade since then American manufactures have nearly doubled, until in 1890 they represented about $9,250,000,000, while the total number of patents issued since 1836 had increased to 418,665. The nation is now able to export a large proportion of its manufactures, thus annually increasing the total wealth of the people by many millions of dollars. During 1899 the exports of manufactures amounted to $380,787,891, while in the fiscal year of 1900, which will end with this month, the total of manufactured exports will exceed $400,000,000, which is one-fifth of the grand total of all our exports and imports combined. It is not strange that Europe is becoming alarmed over the American invasion of its markets.

The full significance of the improvement in machinery for the individual American is seen in the fact that between 1836 and 1890 the hours of labor were reduced 25 per cent, the product per hand had increased 40 per cent, and the wages had increased 48 per cent, or, if measured by the purchasing power of the dollar, 68 per cent. What is it that enables the operative, in three-fourths of the time, to produce one and a half times as much as the workman of forty years ago? Simply the use of new inventions embodied in improved tools and machines. Ten years ago our imports of manufactures were double the exports; now the exports are double the imports. All that the nation needs to continue its career of increasing wealth is the possession of foreign markets for its surplus manufactures.

STUBBS AND CHICAGO.

The Very Rev. and Very Silly Dean Stubbs, Dean of Ely, has been expressing his opinion of Chicago, which now will have its opinion of him. The dean says many things which are true, and "pity 'tis 'tis true." He says some things which are untrue, which is not becoming in a dean.

When Dean Stubbs excoriates Chicago for its smoke and its dirt he does not exceed the bounds of truth. He does not overstate the case. He might have added, had he known it, that our streets are not only filthy but that after two months of alleged cleaning the work has been dropped, and that they will now grow still filthier, if that be possible. There is no truthful citizen of Chicago who will not indorse every word he says about the foulness of the streets and alleys, and add several more items to his list of "refuse heaps, old newspapers, broken bottles, and tin cans" which ornament our "unkempt streets."

The city is "untidy and dirty." That it is "monotonous and unpicturesque," as the dean claims, is a matter of opinion. Not all English tourists have agreed with him there. That he could not see the lake is because he did not go where he could see it. He made but one excursion while here, and that was to the university. The route to the university does not offer an opportunity to see the lake. His statement that he failed to see the officials of the university because they had violated the Sabbath by going to a football game at Madison is of course an untruth. His fling at "the artist of desiccated pork" is superfluous. If we have artists of that kind it is because of the fact that the first desire of Englishmen who come here is to go to the Stock-Yards. Mr. Kipling went there and then abused Chicago, but he abused us entertainingly, which Dean Stubbs does not.

Dean Stubbs is a silly dean because he has let a personal unpleasantness run away with his judgment. It is the spirit of his diatribe, rather than the matter of it, which is unfortunate. The dean was in a certain sense the guest of the Twentieth Century club. He was also its paid entertainer. It was because the club, by its action, intimated it was not getting the worth of its money that the dean was offended. It did not applaud nor laugh at his witticisms. It failed to recognize the beauty of some of his cathedral views. He resented it at once and informed the lion hunters of the club that he was disappointed with their attitude. He had shown the views to London costermongers and they had applauded them heartily. The club, however, was good-natured. It did not even resent being classed below London costermongers in artistic appreciation, but the slight rankled in the breast of the dean, and he has taken this occasion to get even.

It is not likely that Dean Stubbs' criticism will cause concern in Chicago. It is certain that his characterization of the city's filthy streets and alleys will not, for all sense of shame on the part of the city administration and among most of the people seems to have been lost. Chicago deserves his reproaches on this point. But in general Americans have ceased to be sensitive to the unfavorable criticisms made by foreigners. Half a century ago it was different. When Mr. Dickens ridiculed this country it rose so unanimously in its wrath that the great novelist was glad to modify his statements. When Mrs. Trollope lashed Americans for their bad manners, although her statements were mainly true, they poured out the vials of their indignation upon her. Things have changed, however. Mr. Kipling a few years ago said all manner of vitriolic things about us, and yet he has a multitude of admirers in Chicago. As we have grown older we may not have grown any cleaner, but we have grown indifferent to what is said of us. We do not even care what a man with the "monotonous, unpicturesque, and unkempt" name of Stubbs thinks of us.

PERSONALS.

The German Emperor has ordered that three forts near Metz be named after the Crown Prince, the Empress, and Lothringen, respectively.

Although Senator Morgan of Alabama and both the Connecticut Senators are older in years than Senator Allison, the last named holds the record for thirty-six years of service, and may be called the father of the Senate.

When John G. Gowdy, Consul General at Paris, was about to depart to enter on his duties, he asked Senator Hanna for some advice. "Shave off that goatee," was the Senator's reply, and Mr. Gowdy now wears a smooth chin.

President Eliot of Harvard refused to grant permission for the Cuban teachers in his charge to attend a temperance meeting last week, on the ground that they had no tendency to drink to excess, and that the meeting would be useless to them.

King George of Greece as the father of a family may serve as a model. The first thing he thinks of is the education and welfare of his children. At the time of the departure of Prince George for Crete, about a year ago, there was a painful scene at the palace. The King, notwithstanding the efforts he made to hide his emotion, could not withhold his tears, and when his son threw himself into his arms, asking if he had any orders to give him, King George replied, in a voice full of affection: "I have no orders to give you, my child. Providence will guide you. Go, and rely on the grace of God."

NAILING CAMPAIGN LIES.

Nailing lies constitutes an important feature of the business of candidates and campaign managers in every political campaign. The "good-enough-Morgan-until-after-election" method of influencing voters is hoary with age, but never a campaign is waged without the employment of this ancient device. Mark Hanna for the Republicans and Senator Jones, or whoever may be chosen to conduct the Democratic campaign, will deny some of the campaign lies, but they can't find time to deny all of them. The safe rule for the average newspaper reader is to believe no campaign yarn that is improbable. Fifty-thousand-dollar contributions from Utah or other mine owners to the campaign fund of either party will be as scarce as hen's teeth, and any story of this sort from any source may be placed in the category of campaign lies without waiting for denial or refutations.

So of the stories affecting the personal character of candidates or reciting alleged corrupt deals to promote their success. The candidates of the Republican party are in personal character above reproach and their public records are without stain, so far as their personal integrity is concerned. The Democratic candidates will be men of like character, and any sensational stories affecting either may be nailed as campaign lies as soon as they appear. Men big enough to be candidates for President and Vice President have lived too long in the fierce sunlight of publicity not to have had all of their personal foibles and weaknesses, if they have any, fully exposed.

The reading public should begin early to nail the campaign lies by refusing to believe any of the sensational and improbable tales that will be put in circulation during the campaign. The coming Presidential campaign will be a contest waged upon divergent political principles and policies, and the result ought not, cannot, and will not be affected to the extent of a dozen votes by sensational campaign lies.—Philadelphia Times.

HE WANTED TIME TO THINK.

"Anything wrong?" asked the hotel clerk of the New York drummer who had just got home from the West.

"I was thinking," was the reply, "I rode from Toledo to Buffalo with the prettiest girl I ever saw."

"But that didn't hurt you. Who was she?"

"Can't tell."

"You didn't introduce yourself and get her card in return?"

"No."

"No particular trouble, eh?" solicitously insisted the clerk.

"Well, it was this way," replied the traveler, as he braced himself for the explanation. "She sat opposite me, you know, and I tried for an hour to catch her eye. She simply ignored me and gazed out of the window. Then I rose and handed her a magazine, which she declined with thanks. Ten minutes later I bought the latest novel out, but she said she didn't care to read. Then I bought some fruit, but she would accept none. She also ignored me when I tried to draw her out on music."

"But you persisted?"

"O, yes. That is, I was about to make another attempt to enter into conversation when the train came to a halt at a town and the girl beckoned me over. I was there in an instant, and with the sweetest smile you ever saw she asked me if I would do her a slight favor.

"'With all my heart,' I hastened to say.

"'Well,' she said, smiling even more sweetly, 'suppose you leave the train here and take the next one that follows, for you have made me dead tired, and I feel like taking a nap.'"

"Good gracious!" whispered the clerk.

"Yes, sir," said the drummer, as he reached for a cigar, "and I want to go up to my room and sit and think, and try to figure it out. Perhaps it's time I left the road and settled down at home."—Buffalo Courier.

How to Keep Cool.

Fat in the Fire.

When Lord Charles Beresford was in China one of the best servants it was his lot to have was a certain Chinaman named Tom Fat. Unfortunately, Tom Fat did not always devote his undoubted intellect to worthy objects; he learned to imitate his master's handwriting so cleverly that he forged checks amounting to over £2,000 in two years. And on one occasion, when Lord Charles was professing a spirit of broad toleration toward the heathen of all denominations, one of his friends ventured to inquire what he thought would be the ultimate fate of his Chinese servant, whereupon Lord Charles instantly replied: "That fat will certainly be in the fire!"—New York Tribune.

SOME AMAZING MARRIAGES

OLDEST BRIDE IN THE WORLD.

For the third time, at the mature if not venerable age of 98, Mrs. Samuel Decker is a blushing bride. Like some other elderly women she has pledged her heart and hand to a bridegroom much younger than herself. Samuel is, in fact, a mere boy of 75, twenty-three younger than his wife.

Samuel Decker.

Mrs. Decker, who was then the Widow Brainerd, was working one day in her garden on the road between Waterloo and Clyde, N. Y. She has lived in a pretty little brown cottage there for more than forty years, with an apple orchard and an acre of ground which she called her own about the house. Along then came Samuel Decker, striding along the country road in all the vigor of his 75 years. He looked over the garden paling and caught the coquettish eye of Mrs. Brainerd. It was a case of love at first sight. A few days later the Rev. Pulaski Smith of the Magee Baptist Church was called in to perform the marriage ceremony. It was a simple wedding, only a few of the great-grandchildren of the contracting parties being present. There was no wedding trip. As soon as the minister had gone Samuel took off his coat and went out to work in the garden. He says his bride may sit in the doorway now and wave her hand to him as he works. And they both declare that they are perfectly happy, and "purty smart," as well.

A COURTSHIP FORTY YEARS LONG.

Out in the country, near Marshalltown, Pa., a wedding was celebrated the other day. Thomas Cope and Hannah Carpenter were the contracting parties. They had known each other for fifty-five years. For more than forty years they had been betrothed lovers. During all that time they lived within a few miles of each other, and the courting went on each Sunday and Wednesday night of every week for close to a half century.

Thomas Cope.

When they first met they were children. Hannah was a Quaker maiden, demure and dainty, and Thomas was himself of Quaker stock. When he asked her first to marry him she told him to wait until they were both older and better fitted for marriage. Thomas waited seven years. All those years he worked hard and saved his money. Then he was able to offer the girl he loved a big farm, a comfortable home, and plenty of ready money in the bank. Then Hannah's father died and her younger sister married and moved away. Her old mother begged Hannah not to leave her, and she gave her promise not to do so. She offered to release Thomas then, but he would not hear of it. He could wait.

"But I have given my word not to leave mother as long as she lives," said the girl.

"I will wait," said Thomas.

The mother lived on and on. She passed her seventieth birthday, her eightieth, and her ninetieth, and it was not until she was over 100 that she finally passed away.

All these forty years thrifty Thomas has been hard at work. His lands have grown and his modest house has become a mansion. And so, only two weeks ago, he went, an old, white-haired, and wealthy man, to claim his bride at last.

HE MARRIES HIS MOTHER-IN-LAW.

Though Louis Hirsch of Milwaukee is but 30 years old, he sees no reason why people should be surprised at his marriage to Mrs. Albertine Abrahams, who blushingly admits to a half century. He is even more astonished that the mere fact that Mrs. Abrahams is his mother-in-law should create so much comment.

Louis Hirsch.

Mr. Hirsch first met Mrs. Abrahams two years ago. At that time she was a tall and stately matron, and was chiefly prominent as the mother of a beautiful daughter. Mr. Hirsch fell in love with the daughter and won her hand. They were married, and Mrs. Abrahams came to live with them. For six months the family was happy. Then Mrs. Hirsch was taken sick with a malignant fever, which carried her off in a few days in spite of all that medical attendance could do.

The broken-hearted Mr. Hirsch and the equally stricken mother-in-law mourned her for the period of ten months. Then one day Mrs. Abrahams surprised her friends by announcing her approaching marriage to Mr. Hirsch. Some of them ventured to remonstrate with her, but she answered them all in the same way.

"Louis and I love each other," she said, "and he needs somebody to look after him. That is all there is to it."

"It is nobody's business but our own," says Mr. Hirsch, even more emphatically. "I don't see why it should attract so much attention."

But the opportunity to ring a new change on the old mother-in-law joke is too good to be lost, and the newspaper paragraphers are hard at work in their efforts to do justice to the case.

CHINESE MANDARIN'S AMERICAN WIFE.

The bride is a beautiful St. Louis girl, and her father is Professor John S. Collins of the Divoll School in that city. The groom holds rank and title as a Mandarin in the service of the Chinese Emperor, but fortunately he is by birth an American of pure Caucasian blood. His name is Frank Carl, and he has been in China for the last twenty years. The marriage was a result of a childish romance. When the present Mandarin was a little boy his mother was a teacher of drawing in the State Female College at Memphis, Tenn., where at the same time the father of Miss Collins held a chair. In 1878 yellow fever broke out in Memphis, and the college was almost broken up. Mrs. Carl went to Paris with her family. There young Frank attracted the attention of his kinsman, Sir Robert Hart, the English collector, who was then and still is Inspector General of the customs service of China. He offered the American boy work in his department of the Chinese government and the offer was accepted. Carl rose rapidly in rank and importance, and when he came to this country on a two years' leave of absence, something more than a year ago, he was already a Mandarin. He stopped in this country to call on his old friend Professor Collins, and there renewed the acquaintance of his early playmate, Miss Mary, now grown to be a blue-eyed and yellow-haired beauty. They were married, and after a honeymoon spent in Europe went back to China, where they are now living at Macao, remote from the seat of the Boxer disturbances.

GAVE HER $60,000 FOR SPENDING MONEY.

A little more than a year ago Miss Lillian Green, a vaudeville actress of some reputation, went up to the Klondike with a theatrical company. The party was bound for Dawson City, but the steamer was wrecked on the Yukon, and Miss Green, among others, was thrown out into the icy river. With her clothing frozen on her back she managed finally to reach a mining camp, where she told her story. The tale touched the tender heart of big "Jim" Hall, an old Klondike miner, who is the owner of claim 17 on El Dorado Creek, one of the richest in the whole region. Within a few weeks Miss Green became Mrs. Hall, with a fortune of a million at her back. But she was not able to stand the continued cold of the Klondike, and now her husband has sent her over to Paris for a little pleasure trip. Before she left he handed her $60,000 for her expenses on the trip.

Mrs. "Jim" Hall.

"If I were you," he said, "I'd put $50,000 of this money into government bonds, and try not to spend more than $10,000 on my jaunt. But if you need it, let it go. There is plenty more where this came from."

Last year Mr. Hall's claim yielded $250,000 in gold, and during the present season it is expected that the yield will reach a half million. As soon as the season's work is over Mr. Hall is coming down to join his bride in San Francisco on her return from the gay French capital.

$450,000 WORTH OF BREACH OF PROMISE SUITS.

Sam Strong, a millionaire mine owner of Cripple Creek, was married the other day to Miss Regina Neville, a mountain maiden, whom he fell in love with while she was standing in front of her father's cabin. Among his wedding presents were two notices that breach of promise suits had been filed against him. Miss Vance, one of the young women in question, wants $250,000 as salve for her shattered heart. The other, Miss Lewis, is more modest. She would be satisfied with a trifle of $200,000.

Sam Strong.

As Sam Strong's mines in and about Cripple Creek are said to be worth between five and ten million dollars, he is not worried about the financial end of the suits. He does hate to be bothered about such things when he is on his wedding trip, however, and he said as much the other day as he was sailing from New York with his bride to spend their honeymoon in Europe.

"It isn't the money that bothers me," he said, "but I do hate to get an undeserved reputation as a masher. Why I'm just a plain old miner. Every dollar I've got I've worked hard for, but I never went around proposing to every girl I met, as one might conclude after reading about these suits. Well, Regina and I are going to Europe now for four or five months, and we'll try to forget all about it. When we get back it will be time to take the matter up seriously."

Three Men in a Boat.

Three men went in a mighty hurry last night from the rotunda of the Walton into a side room and slammed the door. They looked ferociously at one another. Then one said: "I ain't been with anybody but you two fellows all day, and my pocketbook's gone. Well, one of you's got it. Hand it over now, or by the powers——!" He shook his fists and swore dreadfully. "Now it's my turn to talk," sneered the second man. "My pocketbook's been swiped, and that's the truth. You're a pair of swindlers, but I'll have that pocketbook back or——" and he, too, let out all the bad words he could remember. The third man said: "You're pretty good bluffers, you two. Blamed well you know you've swiped my pocketbook. Cough up, now! Cough up!" Then the three raged about the room like wild beasts. They stripped off their coats finally, and sent for a policeman to search them. He came, his search was thorough, but not one of the men had a pocketbook or a single cent."—Philadelphia Record.

Touched His Heart.

The burglar had entered the house as quietly as possible, but his shoes were not padded, and they made some noise.

He had just reached the door of the bedroom when he heard some one moving in the bed as if about to get up, and he paused.

The sound of a woman's voice floated to his ears.

"If you don't take off your boots when you come into this house," it said, "there's going to be trouble, and a whole lot of it. Here it's been raining for three hours, and you dare tramp over my carpets with your muddy boots on. Go down-stairs and take them off this minute."

He went down-stairs without a word, but he didn't take off his boots. Instead he went straight out into the night again, and the "pal" who was waiting for him saw a tear glisten in his eye.

"I can't rob that house," he said. "It reminds me of home."—New York Journal.

Queer Street Music.

Some of the hand organs and street pianos this year are turning out religious music. Familiar hymn tunes which have not ordinarily been heard in the streets from these instruments now seem to hold a crowd of listeners as well as the Coney Island songs and rag-time dances. One of the street pianos which make the circuit of the central part of the town just now is playing as sober an air as that to which is sung the hymn: "It is well, it is well with my soul."—New York Sun.

Proud of His Promotion.

A West Virginia girl writes to a friend about her hero, who is a soldier in the Philippines. She says: "I got a letter from ——. He is getting along splendid. He has been assigned to the guardhouse for five days. Says it is a pretty hot place, but then, you know, he never shirks from his duty. Ma and I are naturally proud to hear of his promotion."—Wheeling Intelligencer.

PLANS SHIFTED BY DEMOCRATS.

Candidates to Be Notified in Indianapolis Instead of at Lincoln.

TOWNE OUT OF THE RACE.

Will Withdraw from the Populist Ticket in the Interest of Stevenson.

RATIFICATION OF TICKET.

Lincoln, Neb., July 10.—[Special.]—Two things were brought out today as definitely as they can be in advance.

One is that Charles A. Towne will not be a candidate for Vice President more than two weeks longer, but will retire in favor of Adlai Stevenson.

The second is that Bryan and Stevenson will receive the notification of their nominations by the Democrats, not at Lincoln, as has heretofore been announced, but at Indianapolis, either the first or second week in August, at which time Mr. Bryan will sound the keynote of the campaign.

The original program was to have Mr. Stevenson come to Lincoln for notification along with his running mate. Then this was amended to have them both go to Bloomington. Later it was definitely decided that the notification to both candidates would be at Indianapolis, in the heart of what is regarded as the fighting country.

Mr. Towne's withdrawal will come at the time he is notified of his nomination, which will probably be at Duluth within ten days.

Three Parties Ratify Bryan.

Private political conferences today gave way to public pyrotechnics in the shape of a State ratification of the action at Kansas City. The three parties representing the fusion in Nebraska—Democrats, Populists, and Free Silver Republicans—took an equally active part in the demonstrations, but the sentiment of the speeches was all Democratic.

Chairman Jones when he left for Chicago last night took with him party secrets and control, but he left all three candidates, and it was to see and hear them that the crowd came.

The ratification and the fusion State conventions tomorrow brought to the city the largest crowd seen here for four years, and Mr. Bryan found much to do in the way of pacifying the Populist majority and encouraging the Democratic minority.

A conference between politicians was in progress for several hours. Those present were W. J. Bryan, Adlai Stevenson, C. A. Towne, Webster Davis, "Cyclone" Davis, Senator Allen, J. H. Edmiston, Congressman Shafroth, General Weaver of Iowa, Colonel Montgomery, Democratic National committeeman of Colorado, and James Dahlman, Nebraska's committeeman.

The question before the conference was the effect the withdrawal of Mr. Towne would have on fusion in the States of Nebraska, Kansas, and South Dakota. The majority seem to favor having him decline the Populist nomination, but a number of leading Nebraska Populists fear this plan, and insist that he stay on the ticket. If any conclusion was reached it was not announced.

The conference lasted until 1:30. Bryan, Stevenson, and Towne postponed luncheon long enough to step to the north veranda of the Lincoln Hotel and pose before a large American flag while they were photographed.

It was nearly 3 o'clock when the ratification meeting at the auditorium began, the program being delayed on account of the late arrival of Webster Davis, the "converted one."

Mr. Davis was given the place of honor and made the principal speech of the afternoon. The hall was prettily decorated and well filled when Vice Chairman J. H. Edmiston of the Populist National committee introduced Mayor Winnett, who welcomed the visitors. Eugene Smith of Illinois responded. The crowd, aside from the speakers, was limited to Nebraska men and women.

Adlai Stevenson was not present, and his absence served to recall the fact that the members of the National committee yesterday were unfavorably impressed with the reception accorded Mr. Stevenson. They were of the opinion that a much larger crowd should have been present on such an occasion, and Chairman Jones said that if the Democrats were to receive such treatment from the citizens of Lincoln the committee would hardly feel like bringing visiting delegations here to be wet blanketed.

Congressman Shafroth of Colorado made the first set speech. He eulogized Mr. Bryan, and entered into a discussion of the silver question, denying that it was dead. "Cyclone" Davis occupied about twenty minutes and was followed by Webster Davis.

Davis Makes a Speech.

Mr. Davis was loudly cheered. He said, in part:

"Several years ago I visited this city as a Republican, for the purpose of making a speech under the auspices of the Republican National committee. I now visit it as a Democrat, for the purpose of assisting the people in ratifying the nomination of their favorite son, a Democrat, for the exalted position of President of the republic. For this change I have no apology to offer and no excuse to make.

"On this occasion we have not sufficient time to discuss the many excellent planks in the Democratic platform, but I do wish to say a few words in commendation of that declaration pertaining to the Boers in south Africa. The liberty-loving Boers are just as good people as our American people, the British subsidized press to the contrary notwithstanding. And I rejoice to know that every political party except the Republican party has had the nerve and courage to sympathize with the people of the two republics as against a selfish, grasping monarchy.

"The recent conduct of our government in permitting British warships to seize a shipload of foodstuffs consigned to the Boers and make no complaint should bring the blush of shame to the cheek of every American patriot."

Mr. Davis was followed, in turn, by General Weaver of Iowa, ex-Congressman Towne, and W. J. Bryan. They occupied but a few moments, Mr. Towne reserving his main effort for the outdoor meeting tonight.

Mr. Bryan, after declaring the campaign now on, with perfect understanding among candidates and harmony on the platform, called attention to the outdoor meeting tonight and stepped from the stage.

The continuation of the ratification was held tonight at the State Capitol grounds. Mr. Towne spoke principally on the silver question. He was followed by Mr. Bryan, who spoke briefly.

GOLD TICKET, SAYS PALMER.

Illinois Man Declares That the Sound Money Wing Will Repudiate Bryan.

Springfield, Ill., July 10.—[Special.]—A statement was issued today by General John M. Palmer, candidate for President four years ago of the sound money wing of the Democratic party, in which he declares against Bryan and the Kansas City platform and announces that the Gold Democrats will again be in the field with a national ticket. His statement follows:

"Mr. Bryan, it is reported, insisted upon the convention at Kansas City committing itself to the 16 to 1 folly, in order to satisfy the silver States. By the term 'silver States' I mean those which have silver bullion to sell and desire its value to be enhanced.

"If Mr. Bryan succeeds at all it will be by debauching the Democratic party and persuading them that silver bullion can be advanced to the price of gold and converting the party to Populism.

"The Democrats will call a convention and have a ticket in the field."

JONES PLANS FOR WORK.

DEMOCRATIC CHAIRMAN IS HERE FOR A CONFERENCE.

Seeks Location for Headquarters, but Is Not Ready to Announce the Executive Committee Membership—Bryan Probably Will Not Undertake So Much Traveling as Four Years Ago, but May Visit Several of the Larger Cities—Silver Issue Secondary.

Senator James K. Jones of Arkansas, chairman of the Democratic National committee, arrived in Chicago yesterday morning from Lincoln, Neb., along with several other leaders of that party and registered at the Auditorium Annex. They spent most of the day seeking a location for headquarters, J. G. Johnson of Kansas, Secretary Charles Walsh of Iowa, and D. J. Campau of Michigan constituting the hunting party. They visited several of the leading hotels, as well as quarters apart from them, notably the rooms which have been occupied by the Paris Exposition commission. While much figuring was done, it was declared that no decision had been reached. A decision probably will be reached in a few days.

It was given out a few days ago that Senator Jones, on his arrival here, would announce the composition of the Executive committee, but he stated that he had the matter still under consideration. He was equally non-committal regarding the make-up of the Campaign committee, and even said such a committee might not be appointed.

Campaign Plans Still Unformed.

When asked whether a long or a short campaign would be made, he replied:

"For my part I don't know just when a campaign begins and when it ends. In one sense it can be said the campaign has been going on for the last three years and a half, and again it may be said to have opened with the nominations. As to any definite plans of work on the part of the committee, they have not yet been decided upon."

He was asked if it was true that Mr. Bryan would make a "porch" campaign and not travel much.

"I don't think Mr. Bryan has yet decided upon his course," he said, "although I think it probable he will not undertake to repeat his wonderful performance of 1896. He will visit several of the larger cities, but in a general way he will not undertake to do what he did four years ago."

"There seems to be a disposition on the part of the Republican press and speakers," continued the Senator, "to force the issue on the silver question. Of course this is a palpable attempt to evade the great, living issues of the campaign, which are the questions of imperialism and trusts. The administration of President McKinley is anxious to have these eliminated if possible, but we do not propose to permit this to be done."

He thought the specific declaration in favor of 16 to 1 was not likely to alienate the Germans.

His attention was called to the reported purpose of the Gold Democratic conference at Indianapolis on the 25th of this month to advise Gold Democrats to vote for McKinley.

A contemptuous smile was his only reply for a moment, and then he said: "The Republican party is the proper place for those people. They are not Democrats, and then, who cares what they do? They are too few to worry about."

Senator Jones will remain in Chicago for several days, when he will go to one of the Northern resorts for a few weeks.

Ex-Senator White of California and ex-Congressman James Hamilton Lewis of Washington were in the city. Mr. White thought the Democrats had an excellent chance of carrying California and other of the Pacific coast States. Mr. Lewis was not so confident regarding the outlook there.

County Committee Meeting Today.

There will be a meeting of the Democratic County Central committee at headquarters today, when the work of organizing for the campaign will be begun. It is said to be the purpose to start in now and make a long campaign. Samuel Alschuler, Democratic candidate for Governor, is expected in Chicago along with several other candidates on the State ticket for a conference.

ADVISE VOTES FOR M'KINLEY.

Chicago Gold Democrats Generally Approve Recommendation to Have No Partisan Ticket.

Chicago Gold Democrats generally approve of the reported purpose of the conference of Gold Democrats at Indianapolis to recommend placing no ticket in the field, but simply to declare against the Kansas City platform and advise the members of the party to vote for McKinley.

Arthur J. Eddy said yesterday: "I have not been advised as to the purpose of the conference, but I heartily approve of the reported recommendation. I think it would be unwise for the Gold Democrats to place a ticket in the field, as votes cast for it would simply be thrown away. So far as I am concerned, and I think it is true of many others, it is simply a choice of evils, and I regard the continuance of the McKinley administration as a less evil than a Bryan administration. I regard the defeat of Bryan an absolute necessity if the Democratic party is to get back to its original principles, and for this reason I shall vote for McKinley."

James H. Eckels said: "I certainly approve of the reported purpose of the Indianapolis conference, because I believe it to be the duty of every true Democrat to make every effort to bring about the defeat of Bryan, and in no other way can he contribute so effectively to this desired end as by voting for McKinley. I do not consider that in so doing he is departing from Democratic principles. I am convinced in my own mind that Bryan was not the choice of the majority of the delegates to the Kansas City convention."

FINISHES NOTIFICATION PLANS.

Senator Hanna Completes Arrangements for the Committee's Visit to President McKinley Tomorrow.

Cleveland, O., July 10.—Final preparations have been completed by Senator Hanna for the trip of the Notification committee from this city to Canton next Thursday. The special train of five cars will leave Cleveland at 9:30 a. m. In addition to the Notification committee the train will carry the Tippecanoe club of this city and a band. There will also be a number of invited guests of Senator Hanna, making the total number of persons in the party about 300.

PROBABLE CAMPAIGN MANAGER SEEKS HEADQUARTERS.

Admits They Doubtless Will Be Located in Chicago—On the Way to Cleveland, Where Today the Executive Committee Is to Be Chosen and Time of Beginning Active Work Fixed—Gov. Nash of Ohio, W. T. Durbin of Indiana, and Others in Town.

Henry C. Payne of Wisconsin, who is regarded as almost certain to be named as chairman of the National Republican Executive committee, was in Chicago several hours yesterday. His time was devoted for the greater part to looking for headquarters for the Republican committee, and in the evening he left for Cleveland with Graeme Stewart, National committeeman for Illinois, to attend a meeting of the committee called by Senator Hanna there today.

"The Executive committee will be named at the meeting," said Mr. Payne, "and it is possible the location of the national headquarters also will be decided on. I don't think there is much doubt of its coming to Chicago. I have been looking over some places here and have several eligible ones in mind, but the owners want rather more rent than we want to pay. We have examined quarters in the Auditorium Hotel, the Grand Pacific, the Great Northern, and some in outside buildings. The noise of the elevated trains is a great objection to the headquarters we had four years ago.

"I am of the opinion that some of the appointees to the Executive committee are likely to be Mr. Stewart, Mr. Manley of Maine, R. C. Kerens of St. Louis, and Senator Scott of West Virginia. The last probably will be in charge of the headquarters at New York. I presume tomorrow's conference will decide as to the time for the opening of the campaign, but I do not look for an especially early opening.

"The Kansas City convention has made our work much easier. While it has been thoroughly understood that Mr. Bryan's nomination would be equivalent to raising the free silver issue, the platform of the Kansas City convention has left no doubt on this subject. Speaking of my knowledge of the situation, I can say that 16 to 1 plank is going to keep the Germans solidly in line with the Republican party. Altogether, the Kansas City convention could not possibly have been managed better for the Republicans if they had had its ordering."

Gov. Nash and Gen. Ashton Talk.

Governor George K. Nash of Ohio was among the arrivals at the Auditorium Hotel.

"Republicans in Ohio, as everywhere, are greatly pleased with the outcome of the Kansas City convention," he said. "While it was not needed to assure our State to the Republicans, it has eliminated all doubt as to the result."

General J. M. Ashton of Tacoma, one of the delegates to the Philadelphia convention, was among the arrivals at the Annex.

"There is no doubt about Washington or any of the Pacific coast States," he said. "All the people practically are for expansion, and they are going to vote for it next November."

W. T. Durbin, Republican candidate for Governor of Indiana, was at the Auditorium Annex.

"There is no doubt of my election," he said. "Indiana was safely Republican before the Kansas City convention, and it is doubly so now. That 16 to 1 plank did the business. Our people have no use for it."

County Committee Meeting.

The Republican County committee and the subcommittees of the Executive committee will meet at headquarters today to begin active work on the campaign. The subcommittees which were appointed last Saturday are expected to submit reports today, and a definite line of work will be decided upon.

TELESCOPE FINDS A THIEF.

Party of Scientists Testing Instrument Sees Man Two Miles Away Steal Tub of Butter and Causes Arrest.

Rochester, N. Y., July 10.—[Special.]—While testing a powerful telescope on the roof of an optical factory in this city a party of scientists discovered a thief at work over two miles away, and informed the police and had him placed under arrest.

Lorenzo Hanlan, 17 years old, abstracted a tub of butter from the rear of a farmer's wagon, and, carrying it across the Vincent street bridge, concealed it under the structure, all of which was plainly witnessed by the party of scientists testing the big instrument.

The police lay in wait for Hanlan, and when he came to secure his booty effected his capture. After all this had happened an excited farmer appeared at the police headquarters and reported that he had been robbed of a tub of butter.

The farmer is still mystified as to how the butter reached the police station before he did.

GOEBEL TRIAL GOES OVER.

Powers' Attorneys Ask for a Continuance and Present Affidavit—Arguments Will Be Made Today.

Georgetown, Ky., July 10.—The defense in the Powers case today filed a motion and grounds for a continuance. The motion is based on the absence of ninety witnesses. The commonwealth objected to a continuance, and the defense, through ex-Governor Brown, asked an adjournment of the morning session of the court in order to prepare affidavits in support of the motion. The affidavit was filed their afternoon, and purports to state the character of the testimony expected to be proved by the absent witnesses. Under the criminal code this is cause for a continuance unless the prosecution shall admit the affidavits as evidence. The defense decided to object to the affidavit and court adjourned to give the attorneys for that side time to prepare the objections, and the case will be resumed at 9 o'clock tomorrow.

Philadelphia, Pa., July 10.—Judge Gary today filed an opinion in the United States Circuit Court of Appeals sustaining the decision of the Circuit Court at Pittsburg which dismissed the bill of complaint under which a winding up of the affairs of the Harmony society at Economy, Pa., was attempted. The proceeding had for its purpose the distribution of the assets of the community, amounting to $2,000,000.

HARD WORK FOR LEAGUE CLUBS.

Republicans at Decatur Pave the Way for Their Campaign Efforts.

HARMONY ALONG LINE.

Differences Smoothed Away and United Party Endeavor Made Possible.

COMMITTEES ARE SELECTED.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Decatur, Ill., July 10.—[Special.]—Determination to do greater work in the coming campaign than ever before was a marked feature of the State convention of Republican League clubs held in this city today. One of the resolutions adopted pledges the formation of a club in every township.

All differences heretofore existing between the league and regular party organization have, so it was stated, been adjusted. Henceforth this body of Republicans will coöperate with the State Central committee in campaign battles.

It was 11 o'clock when Isaac Miller Hamilton, the retiring President, called the convention to order in Decatur's Grand Opera-House. While every district was well represented, the attendance fell considerably below expectation.

On behalf of the citizens, Dr. W. F. Calhoun extended to the delegates a warm welcome. He told them that they were here to act for the young element, which is full of hope, business, and fight. Dr. Calhoun said that the Bryan Democracy would preach the gospel of hate and endeavor to array employé against employer; that it would appeal to race prejudices and try to stir up opposition to progress, prosperity, and loyalty to the government.

The appointment of committees on credentials, resolutions, and permanent organization for the ensuing year and a stirring speech by W. A. Northcott completed the first session.

Officers of the League.

The officers elected by acclamation are:

President—John W. Parker of Watertown.
Secretary—Clarence F. Bush, Monmouth.
Treasurer—J. R. Robertson, Jacksonville.

Each Congressional district is entitled to a Vice President.

Next to the election of officers and the adoption of resolutions a committee of five to prepare amendments for the constitution, which will bring the league into harmony with the regular State organization, was appointed. That committee will make its report to the National committee next week. The change in constitutions must be made by the National league before anything of that nature can be done in the State league.

The members of this committee are:

L. D. Thomason, Aledo.
W. F. Calhoun, Decatur.
R. M. Patterson, Chicago.
L. Y. Sherman, Macomb.
J. R. Robertson, Jacksonville.

Ten delegates and alternates-at-large and four delegates from each Congressional district to the national convention were selected.

The big ten are:

C. U. Gordon, Chicago.
George Pabyjan, Chicago.
J. R. B. Van Cleave, Springfield.
J. Otis Humphrey, Springfield.
L. A. Constantine, Aurora.
James R. Howe, Galesburg.
Charles W. Raymond, Watseka.
John J. Lane, Chicago.
O. T. Merkel, Paris.
W. A. Rodenberg, East St. Louis.

The alternates are:

B. F. Shadley, Galesburg.
W. T. Ireland, Gilman.
James H. Paddock, Springfield.
Fred White, Pontiac.
W. E. Hull, Peoria.
A. C. Bollinger, Waterloo.
J. R. Cowley, Freeport.
W. M. Butler, Cairo.
Harry Magill, Clinton.
S. B. Turner, Chicago.

Subjoined are the delegates named for the Chicago districts:

First District—James R. Mann, Martin B. Madden, Lynn Young, and W. Foster Burns.

Second—William Lorimer, Roy O. West, William Webb, and E. M. Craig.

Third—D. E. Shanahan, R. M. Patterson, J. Arthur Webb, and H. D. Ickes.

Fourth—Joseph E. Bidwill, Chris Mamer, D. W. Mills, and E. J. Dwyer.

Fifth—C. C. Carnahan, Fred Erickson, D. A. Campbell, and John F. Smulski.

Sixth—Fred A. Busse, Graeme Stewart, Carl Mueller, and John A. Lynn.

Seventh—D. A. Holmes, Evanston; Ernst E. Schubert and Edward S. Taylor, Chicago; and E. H. Alling, Rogers Park.

Eighth—Robert Burke, Aurora; J. O. Rogers, Downer's Grove; Robert A. Early, Elgin; and George Lesley, Genoa.

The resolutions were prepared and reported by Charles E. Selby, W. F. Calhoun, C. W. Raymond, C. T. Buck, and N. H. Moss.

After reaffirming the principles adopted at Philadelphia and at Peoria, stating that every pledge made by the party has been faithfully kept; after reciting that the present prosperous condition of the American people is the result of wise Republican administration; that these conditions have been brought about by the patriotic and business-like conduct of governmental affairs by President McKinley; that instead of a deficit, which was one of the chief features of the Democratic administration, there is a great surplus; the report expresses pride in the heroism of the American soldier; declares that his courage has added dignity to the flag, brought honor to the people, and taught the nations of the earth to realize the greatness of the American republic.

The report sends greetings to the soldiers who are now fighting for the extension of civilization in foreign lands, pledging to them that the American people can be relied upon to keep the flag where they have placed it; indorses the policy of liberal pensions for patriots of the civil war; indorses every effort of the Illinois Senators and Representatives to expand the opportunities of trade which will be helpful to the farmer and every interest in the land, and increase the wages of American labor.

Trusts Are Denounced.

The report concludes as follows:

We denounce any illegal combination, organization, or trust, formed for the purpose of thwarting competition, increasing prices to consumers, and controlling markets, including combination formed for the purpose of checking the development of small enterprises, which is hurtful to the American laborer, whose cause the Republican party has ever championed and ever stands ready to uphold.

We denounce the recent attempt of the National Democratic convention to advance the free and unlimited coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1, covered up with other issues, as a surreptitious attempt to destroy the vested rights of our citizens. We denounce Bryanism in every form.

We congratulate the nation upon the selection by the National Republican convention of William McKinley to succeed himself and nominating Theodore Roosevelt for Vice President.

We heartily indorse the action of the State convention in its selection of Richard Yates as the Republican candidate for Governor, and we pledge ourselves to work enthusiastically, not only for these but for all the candidates upon the Republican ticket.

We recommend the formation of a Republican club in every township in Illinois, believing that the inculcation of such teachings are necessary to the perpetuity of our institutions and the happiness and prosperity of the American people.

We heartily indorse the candidacy of Isaac Miller Hamilton for President of the National Republican league and hereby pledge the delegates from Illinois to vote for and use all honorable means to secure his election.

In addition a resolution was adopted by standing vote extending sympathy to Martin B. Madden because of the sudden and unexpected death of his mother. Mr. Madden came here yesterday upon the invitation of Mr. Hamilton to address the convention. Early this morning he received a message stating that his mother had suddenly died. He left for Chicago on the 11 o'clock train.

Lieutenant Governor Northcott and Speaker Sherman made stirring addresses.

TO FORM AN ODD VILLAGE

SALOONKEEPERS TALK OF A NEW THORNTON.

They Propose to Get Around the Supreme Court's Decision by Incorporating a Town That Will Be a Circular Strip a Mile Wide—Supervisors Decline to Issue Licenses—Harvey Residents Regard Recent Events as Victories for Temperance.

The Town board of Thornton yesterday voted to abide by the decision of the Supreme Court and not issue licenses to any saloons. The temperance people of the City of Harvey claim that action, with the decision of the Supreme Court that saloons could not be operated in the township, as a victory. The saloonkeepers say that in order not to violate the court's decision, and at the same time to maintain their saloons, they will incorporate the strangest shaped village in the United States. They propose to use a strip of land a mile wide, and in general shape circular, but with projections and indentations that make a zigzag strip. All this circular strip, when incorporated, will be a place in which saloons can be maintained legally. All the vast area within the circle will be outside the incorporated village, but the people living there will not have to go far in any direction to reach territory in which liquor is sold. This announcement was made yesterday by Henry Schultz, a saloonkeeper.

But the residents of Thornton Village threaten to defeat this. The village never has been incorporated and a movement has been started to incorporate it, extended the village line to within one mile of the City of Harvey. This would make a village four miles long and a mile or so wide. If the Thornton villagers' plan succeeds the temperance people of Harvey say the result will be a victory for them, as there would be no territory in the Township of Thornton that is more than two miles from an incorporated village, and therefore under the Harper high license law no saloon can be licensed. The sentiment in the Village of Thornton is for high license, and their citizens' action, Harvey people say, would be a blow against the saloonkeepers in Harvey's border, against whom a fight was made.

The people of Harvey say, too, that the saloonkeepers' plan to form a town of the shape described will be a failure, as they will not be able to find a large enough population in the territory.

Supervisor George Dalton made the motion that the board abide by the Supreme Court's decision. It was brought out at the meeting that Dr. N. E. Oliver, one of the supervisors, had issued four licenses, but these were ordered revoked and the money paid for licenses returned. Dr. Oliver and Supervisor De Young voted in favor of license issues.

The temperance people say that if the licenses should not be revoked action for contempt of court will be brought.

Supervisor Oliver was indignant that the Supreme Court should give the decision it did. He said it meant $5,000 in license fees to the village.

"I do not believe the saloonkeepers can form this circular village of which there is some talk," said Lucy Page Gaston last night. "There is not enough population. The temperance people of Harvey have driven the Thornton Township saloon from Harvey's borders. I understand the people of Thornton Village will incorporate a village extending to a point within a mile of Harvey. That still keeps out the border saloon."

IS EVANSTON'S PRIZE "CABBY."

"Joe" Ivester Wins Volney W. Foster Medal for Politeness and a Clean Hack in Year's Contest.

Volney W. Foster's medal to the most polite cabman of Evanston was given to "Joe" Ivester at the City Council meeting in Evanston last night. A year ago Mr. Foster announced that he would give a medal to the cabman who in the next twelve months should make the best record for politeness and for keeping his carriage in the best condition. The award was made by Mayor Bates and Chief of Police Bartram. Mr. Foster thought it was necessary to take some steps to induce the dozen colored hack drivers who swarm around the Evanston depot to be respectful and orderly, and is so pleased with the success of his scheme that he proposes to offer another more valuable medal for next year. "Joe" Ivester is 31 years of age, has a wife and three children, and lives at 329 Dempster street. He has driven a hack to the Evanston depot for the last six years, and has made many friends among his patrons. He was proud to have won the medal, and when it was presented he received it with thanks and a beaming smile. "Joe" received many congratulations.

"Joe" Ivester.

WILL REPORT ON CANAL AUG. 15

Isaac Taylor of Governor's Commission Agrees to Be Ready Then—Several Drainage Trustees Agree to This.

Isaac Taylor informed the Drainage board yesterday that the special commission appointed by Governor Tanner to inspect the sanitary canal would be ready to report on Aug. 15. The resolution introduced in the board recently demanding that the commission refund the money expended since the legal opening of the channel on Jan. 15 has caused the inspectors to hurry their work. Trustees Wenter and Boldenweck are in favor of granting the extension of time to Aug. 15. Trustee Jones will oppose the extension.

FRESH AIR CAMP IS OPENED.

Bureau of Associated Charities Sends Children to Buena Park and Barrington.

The Bureau of Associated Charities opened its fresh air camp in Buena Park yesterday. The camp is in a grove at Graceland and Pine Grove avenues. It has accommodations for fifty children. The camp will be open for five weeks or more. Mrs. Caroline Catlin and Mrs. S. E. Gregory are in charge. The bureau sent forty-five boys and girls to farms near Barrington for a week's outing yesterday afternoon.

JANITOR RUNS A "BLIND PIG."

Isaac Robinson Fined $100 and Costs for Selling Liquor Illegally at 44 North Clark Street.

Isaac Robinson, janitor of the building at 44 North Clark street, was fined $100 and costs by Justice Harris yesterday for running a "blind pig" in the block of which he has charge. The complaint against Robinson was made by William Perlman, a saloonkeeper in the block, who said the janitor was ruining his business. The police seized a large quantity of liquors of various kinds.

Death of Captain D. R. Crowley.

Captain Daniel R. Crowley died suddenly on Monday night, aged 61 years. He formerly had been a member of the Chicago Fire department, but for nineteen years had been in charge of the fire-fighting force at the McCormick Harvesting Machine company's plant. It was at the door of his office at the plant that he fell dead from heart disease at 10 p. m. A few hours earlier Chief Swenie of the City Fire department had congratulated him upon his good health. He left a widow and two sons—Daniel, a member of the City Fire department, and James, an operator in the city fire alarm service. The family resides at 1151 South Western avenue. The funeral will be at 11 a. m. tomorrow.

HOT FIGHT WITH BANDITS.

MARSHAL AND OUTLAW KILLED AT BLACK DOG FORD.

Officers Overtake Three Desperadoes in Oklahoma Who Had Stolen a Herd of Cattle and Fatal Encounter Follows—Two Remaining Thieves Are Mortally Wounded and Captured—Comrades of the Dead Marshal Come Out of the Battle Unhurt.

Glencoe, Ok. T., July 10.—[Special.]—Probably the worst fight with outlaws in this country that has occurred since the killing of the famous Dalton gang at Coffeyville, Kas., some years ago, took place forty miles east of this city last night on the Arkansas River at a point known as the Black Dog ford. One United States Marshal and one bandit were killed and two bandits were fatally wounded.

That part of the country known as the Osage Nation has been infested for a long time with an organized band of horse thieves and murderers. On Sunday night a herd of cattle was stolen, and three United States Marshals who were after the desperadoes for other crimes overtook them at Black Dog ford and a pitched battle followed. All the participants were armed with Winchesters and pistols. The fighting is said to have lasted an hour. None of the officers' or desperadoes' names has yet been ascertained here.

At the beginning of the fight one of the United States Marshals was instantly killed. In a few minutes one of the desperadoes had fallen mortally wounded. The remaining two desperadoes then retreated while fighting for a short distance, when another of the outlaws fell mortally wounded in the right side.

By this time all the ammunition on both sides had been exhausted and the remaining bandit started to run, but by some means unknown the Marshals had failed to explode one cartridge, and when the bandit started to run the two remaining Marshals started after him, snapping their pistols, supposing there were no loads in them, but the one that had heretofore failed to explode was discharged and the bandit fell mortally wounded with a ball through the lower part of the abdomen.

Persons who arrived today from the scene of the fight say that neither of the wounded bandits will likely recover. Neither of the other two Marshals was hit. If the desperadoes recover they will be taken to the jail at Pawnee.

Bartlesville, Ind. Ter., July 10.—The body of James Pool, President of the Anti-Horse Thief association of Indian Territory, reached here today on the way to Vinita. He was killed in a battle with the Barker band of horse thieves thirty miles southwest. Pool and two companions had followed the outlaws 100 miles. Barker, leader of the gang, shot Pool through the heart. Pool's companions, after a desperate fight, succeeded in wounding and capturing the men, three in number.

TALK OF GOLD EXPORTS.

POSSIBILITY OF FURTHER SHIPMENTS TO EUROPE.

Stockholders of Schoenhofen Brewing Company to Meet in London on July 24 to Act on the Proposition to Convert It Into American Corporation—Railroad Earnings—Book Values of State Banks—Sales on the Local Exchange.

There is a possibility of a further gold export movement this week. An international banking house, which has made shipments before, has been considering the shipment of a small amount of gold, but there was no definite announcement to make. If gold is shipped abroad again the transaction will be a special one, like the previous exports which have been made so far this year. The exchange market is not near the exporting point, though its position has had no bearing on the preceding shipments that have been made. Foreign exchange experts have believed that the next movement of gold would be in the direction of this country from abroad. It is expected that whatever gold is sent abroad as loans to foreign bankers will be returned to this country in the fall, and it may be accompanied by much more than is represented by the recent loans to European banks.

For Change in Schoenhofen Charter.

The meeting of shareholders of the Schoenhofen Brewing company for the purpose of considering the proposition to convert it into an American corporation will be held in London on July 24. The idea in changing it back to an American company is to escape the taxation under the English law which demands 1 per cent on the gross earnings. It will be recalled that the company brought a suit to test the legality of the law, and a decision was rendered against the company. The American shareholders control about 90 per cent of the stock and say they do not want to be taxed in England as well as here. The plan to convert the company into an American corporation involves an exchange of the outstanding stock held in England share for share in the new company. The English shareholders own a large proportion of the common stock and some of them are objecting on the ground that their interests can be served better by continuing the foreign company under their jurisdiction. Less than 10 per cent of the preferred stock is owned by the English shareholders. Representatives of the American interests have gone to London for the purpose of placing the proposition before the English stockholders.

Railroad earnings are reported as follows:

As intimated some time ago in "The Tribune," the plan for combining the Calumet Electric Street railway, the South Chicago Street railway, and the Chicago Electric Traction company has been revived. It is presumed that the application recently made for the appointment of a receiver for the Chicago Electric Traction company is preliminary to the consolidation. Persons who are interested in the plan decline to say anything about it, but that negotiations are under way for the combination of the three properties is admitted. The combined roads operate nearly 150 miles, and represent an investment of $7,000,000 to $8,000,000.

STOCK MARKET GAINS AGAIN.

Improvement on Prices in Wall Street Is Both Widespread and Important.

[BY E. W. HARDEN.]

NEW YORK, July 10.—[Special.]—The stock market today enjoyed a satisfactory increase in business and improvement in prices that was both widespread and important.

Brooklyn Rapid Transit was expected to cut another sorry figure in the doings of the day, but instead it led the market in the upward movement. Sugar was almost as strong, while the iron and steel stocks were bid up sharply in the face of the unsettled condition of the trade. There was not a weak feature in the railroad list, either, there being many circumstances to create bullishness in that department and hardly anything of an adverse character to conflict with the good influences of the day.

London went quotations so close to New York parity that they attracted little or no attention. The London market continued strong the remainder of the day, though business on the other side was reported to be still in small volume. Sentiment there, however, continued to be improved, largely because of the news from China showing that the situation there is by no means so hopeless as it has hitherto appeared to be.

Berlin was much encouraged by the Chinese dispatches to the extent that Chinese bonds there recovered a good portion of the severe loss that was sustained in last week's smash. Consols declined nearly ¼d in London, but the reason for that was peculiar to those securities and was to be found in fresh borrowing by the British government.

It was not until the last hour that the local market exhibited its best strength. There was then a noteworthy increase in commission-house business, the outside public apparently being attracted to the market at last by the sustained advance of nearly three weeks. The recovery in Brooklyn Rapid Transit was due almost wholly to short covering. Nothing developed to account for the rally.

Sugar's strength was due to the further advance of 10 points in the price of refined grades, which now puts it up to a higher figure than in almost a decade.

In the industrial list net gains of more than one point were made by Chicago Gas, Tennessee Coal and Iron, the Wire and Federal Steel issues, Colorado Fuel, International Paper, Republic Iron and Steel, and General Electric.

IN THE NEW YORK MONEY MARKET.

General Tendency of Cash and Securities in Wall Street.

NEW YORK, July 10.—The stock market was rather dull today, but compared with yesterday's semi-stagnation it had an appearance of considerable animation. The bond market was slightly more active than yesterday, but was irregular. Total sales, par value, $909,000.

Money on call easy at 1¼@1½ per cent, last loan 1½ per cent; prime mercantile paper, 3¾@4½ per cent; sterling exchange firm, with actual business in bankers' bills at 486¼@486½ for demand and at 484 for sixty days; posted rates, 485@487½; commercial bills, 483¼@483½.

Silver certificates, 61½@62½; bar silver, 61¾; Mexican dollars, 48¼.

Government bonds steady; State bonds inactive; railroad bonds irregular.

IN THE FOREIGN MONEY MARKET.

Tendency of Cash and Securities in London, Paris, and Berlin.

NEW YORK, July 10.—The Commercial Advertiser's London financial cablegram says: The markets here were quiet today, hardening on the news from China and later relapsing somewhat in the investment list on the announcement of a County Council stock issue of £3,000,000 at 3 per cent, offered at a minimum of 99. London bought Americans moderately, particularly Louisville and Nashville, on the current rumors about the dividend, and also Illinois Central. The general contango was 3¼@4. Call money was up nearly 1 per cent on the payment of another war loan installment, but by the close of the day call money was practically unlendable. The bank sold £211,000 gold in French coin and lost £14,000 to South America.

LONDON, July 10.—American securities were in moderate demand and rather firmer today in response to better overnight prices from New York. The strength was well maintained throughout and the market closed firm. The feature of the trading was Louisville and Nashville. Amount of bullion withdrawn from the Bank of England on balance today was £225,000.

Consols for money, 99 9-16; do for the account, 99 11-16; Atchison, 26¾; Canadian Pacific, 91¾; St. Paul, 114¾; Illinois Central, 121¾; Louisville, 75¾; Union Pacific preferred, 74¾; New York Central, 132¾; Reading, 8¾; Erie, 11¾; Pennsylvania, 65¾; Erie first pfd, 33¾; Northern Pacific pfd, 72¾; Grand Trunk, 6¾; Anaconda, 7⅛; Rand Mines, 40¼. Bar silver steady, 28⅛d per ounce. Money, 1½@2 per cent. The rate of discount in the open market for short bills is 2⅝ per cent; 3 months' bills, 2⅝@2¾ per cent.

BERLIN, July 10.—Prices were firm on the boerse today, being influenced by the more reassuring news from China. Bank and industrial shares improved sensibly. Foreigners hardened, Spanish 4s and Italian securities being principally in demand. Chinese showed a good rise. Americans finished with a moderate advance.

The weekly statement of the Imperial Bank of Germany shows the following changes: Cash in hand, increased, 18,800,000 marks; Treasury notes, increased, 420,000 marks; other securities, decreased, 90,940,000 marks; notes in circulation, decreased, 97,760,000 marks.

PARIS, July 10.—On the bourse today prices opened higher, the more hopeful political view inducing purchases. Later, however, owing to the absence of demand, they eased. Spanish securities were particularly strong. Rio Tintos were firm. Kaffirs were quiet but firm.

PRODUCE MARKETS EAST AND WEST.

Closing Quotations in the Trading Centers of the Country.

NEW YORK, July 10.—Flour—Receipts, 21,474 brls; exports, 10,995 brls; sales, 7,150 pkgs. Quiet and easier, buyers being restrained by the government report due late in the day. Rye flour—Quiet; sales, 300 brls; fair to good, $3.15@3.30; choice to fancy, $3.35@3.75. Cornmeal—Steady; yellow Western, 97c; city, 96c; Brandywine, $2.60@2.70. Rye—Dull; No. 2 Western, 65c f. o. b. afloat; State, 61@62c c. i. f., New York carlots. Barley—Dull; feeding, 48c c. i. f., New York; malting, 49@53c c. i. f., New York. Barley malt—Nominal.

Wheat—Receipts, 725 bu; exports, 8,000 bu; sales, 3,475,000 bu futures, 200,000 bu export. Spot weak; No. 2 red, 87⅝c f. o. b. afloat; No. 2 red, 87⅝c elevator; No. 1 Northern, Duluth, 89⅝c f. o. b. afloat, to arrive; No. 1 hard, Duluth, 91⅝c f. o. b. afloat, to arrive. Options were generally weak all day and slow. In addition to weak cables, more favorable crop news from the Northwest, and a little foreign selling, the market was influenced by fears that the government report might not verify recent sensational private crop estimates on spring wheat. Closed weak, ⅜@⅝c net decline. July, 86@86⅞c, closed 86¼c; September, 84¼@84⅞c, closed 84⅝c; October, 84⅝c; December, 85¼@85⅞c, closed 85¼c.

Corn—Receipts, 127,075 bu; exports, 233,159 bu; sales, 65,000 bu futures, 1,400,000 bu export. Spot weak; No. 2, 49⅝c f. o. b. afloat and 49c elevator. Option market sold off all day under bearish cables, predictions of rain in the West, and local unloading, despite a big cash demand; closed weak, at 1¼c net loss. July, 48¼@48⅞c, closed 48⅛c; September, 48⅜@49⅛c, closed 48⅛c.

Oats—Receipts, 128,800 bu; exports, 28,505 bu; sales, 150,000 bu spot. Spot weaker; No. 2, 28⅛c; No. 3, 28c; No. 2 white, 30¼c; No. 3 white, 30c; track mixed Western, 28¼@29c; track white Western, 30@34c; track white State, 30@34c. Options were inactive and lower with corn.

Hay — Steady. Hops — Quiet. Hides — Firm. Leather—Firm. Wool—Steady. Beef—Quiet. Cut meats—Steady; pickled bellies, 8½@10c. Pork—Quiet, firm; family, $14@14.50; short clear, $13.25@15.25; mess, $13.25@14.00. Tallow—Dull; city, $2.00 per pkg, 4⅝c bid, 4¾c asked; country, pkgs 4⅝@4¾c. Coffee—Spot Rio weak; No. 7 invoice, 9⅛c; mild quiet; Cordova, 9½@13¼c.

Sugar—Raw firm; fair refining, 4¼c; centrifugal, 96 test, 4⅝c; molasses sugar, 4c; refined firm.

Cotton—The opening call was steady, with prices 1 point higher to 5 lower. At noon the official crop report made its appearance. It pointed to an average condition of 75.8 for June. This was about the lowest condition ever recorded. But, as poor as the showing was, it was not as poor as some had predicted. The market failed to advance. The market closed steady at a net rise of 1 to 8 points. Closed: July, 10.15c; August, 9.81c; September, 8.96c; October, 8.55c; November, 8.36c; December, 8.34c; January, 8.36c; February, 8.36c; March, 8.38c; April, 8.41c; May, 8.44c.

Metals—In sympathy with an advance of 10s for spot tin in London the market jumped 45 points today, closing firmer in tone, at $32.00; the tin markets continue in much the same unsatisfactory condition as heretofore. Philadelphia reports the nominal quotation from 50 to 100 down. There is hardly any business doing. Pig iron warrants were quoted at $12.50 nominal. Copper ruled dull and unchanged at $16.50. Lead was dull and unsettled on the basis of $3.97½@4.02½, and spelter was also dull and unchanged at $4.20@4.25.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., July 10.—Wheat—There was a lower opening this morning and a marked depression throughout. September opened ⅜c lower at 80⅜c. During the session there was little excitement, and trading on the whole was light. The close was without reaction, September closing 79⅝c and July 79¼c. In the cash wheat market the millers were good buyers, but there was not anywhere enough wheat offered. No. 1 Northern sold from ¾c to 1¼c over September; No. 2, 3c below No. 1; No. 3, 74@74½c. Flour—Lower; first patents, $4.45; second patents, $4.25; first clears, $3.15; second clears, $2.50. Bran in bulk, $13.00@13.50.

Changes in Available Supplies.

NEW YORK, July 10.—Special cable and telegraphic communications to Bradstreet's show the following changes in the available supplies from the last account: Wheat—United States and Canada, east Rockies, increase 540,000 bu. Afloat for and in Europe, decrease 6,700,000 bu. Total supply, decrease 6,160,000 bu. Corn—United States and Canada, east Rockies, increase 2,339,000 bu. Oats—United States and Canada, east Rockies, decrease 71,000 bu. The immense decrease is due to monthly revisions. Broomhall cables that stocks on July 1 came out smaller than expected nearly everywhere. Among the more important increases reported to Bradstreet's, not given in the official visible supply statement are those of 704,000 bu at Chicago private elevators and 52,000 bu at depot harbor. The principal decreases are those of 140,000 bu at Manitoba storage points and 100,000 bu at Northwestern interior elevators. The aggregate stock of wheat held at Portland, and Tacoma, and Seattle decreased 78,000 bu last week.

Condition of the Treasury.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 10.—Today's statement of the Treasury balances in the general fund exclusive of the $150,000,000 gold reserve in the division of redemption shows: Available cash balance, $154,243,003; gold, $70,340,482.

Oil and Oil Certificates.

OIL CITY, Pa., July 10.—Credit balances, $1.25. Certificates, no bids. Shipments, 134,536 brls, average 60,655 brls; runs, 112,926 brls, average, 80,907 brls.

REPORT SHOWS DAMAGE.

CONDITION OF WHEAT IN NORTHWEST IS BAD.

Total Yield of 486,000,000 Bushels Indicated, with Small Farm Reserves of 51,000,000 Bushels—Dakotas and Minnesota to Have Only 80,000,000 Bushels—Curb Prices Go Up 2 to 3 Cents—Regular Markets Were Weak in Anticipation of Report.

The government crop report for June, issued yesterday, confirmed the reports of serious damage to spring wheat and gave figures of conditions which suggest a yield of only 486,862,399 bu, the smallest since 1896, over 60,000,000 bu less than 1899 and nearly 200,000,000 bu less than 1898. The condition of spring wheat as a whole has deteriorated from 87.3 per cent of the average, June 1, to 55.2 per cent July 1, and, taking 16 bu as the average, the indicated yield on 18,668,366 acres would be 164,835,008 bu. The Minnesota condition is given as 48, South Dakota 44, and North Dakota 30, indicating yields respectively of 38,004,226 bu, 25,071,361 bu, and 18,439,012 bu, a total of 81,514,599 bu. Distrusting these reports, apparently, the department sent special agents into the Northwest in the last ten days, who confirmed the reports of the regular correspondents, indicating that the recent rains had not materially improved prospects. The winter wheat condition declined from 82.7 June 1 to 80.8 July 1, suggesting a yield, on the acreage shown in June, 24,909,297 acres, of 322,027,391 bu. Farm reserves were estimated at 51,000,000 bu, compared with 64,000,000 bu a year ago, another bullish feature of the report. With a visible supply of less than 45,000,000 bu the total stocks visible and invisible and the new crop will amount to about 580,000,000 bu, of which perhaps 100,000,000 bu in new crop reserves are west of the Rockies. According to some authorities this would not leave anything available east of the Rockies for export the next twelve months except the present visible supply. The report had a bullish effect on curb prices, which advanced over 2c. One heavy operator offered 83c for 250,000 bu September, an advance of 2⅞c over the regular close, but found no sellers.

The report on corn was less bearish than expected, showing a condition of 89.5, 3 points higher than last year, and an increase of about 1,200,000 acres, or 1.5 per cent, over last year, making a total of 83,308,587 acres. Taking 28.8 bu to the acre as the average, the condition suggests a yield of 2,147,362,138 bu, compared with a harvested crop of 2,078,143,933 bu last year. But considerable damage is claimed to have been done to the crop since July 1 in the Western States. Curb prices rallied ½c over the regular close after the report came out.

The Report in Detail.

Following is the text of the government report on corn and wheat:

"Preliminary returns to the statisticians of the Department of Agriculture on the acreage of corn planted indicate an increase of about 1,200,000 acres, or 1 5-10 per cent over the acreage harvested last year. Of twenty-two States having 1,000,000 acres or upward in corn in 1899 all but Alabama, Mississippi, Arkansas, Tennessee, and Kansas show an increased acreage, and the total decrease in the five States is less than 500,000 acres. The increase in acreage is in the main well distributed, there being only ten States and Territories of forty-five reporting that have not a larger acreage planted than was harvested last year. The average condition of the growing crop is 89.5, as compared with 86.5 on July 1, 1899, 90.5 at the corresponding date in 1898, and a ten-year average of 90.7. The condition in Iowa is 102, in Missouri 101, in Kansas and Nebraska 93, Illinois 92, Indiana 89, Iowa being 10, Missouri 12, Kansas and Nebraska 1, and Illinois 2 points above their respective ten-year averages.

"The condition of winter wheat shows a further decline during June, being 80.8 on July 1, as compared with 82.7 on June 1, 65.6 on July 1, 1899, 85.7 at the corresponding date in 1898, and a ten-year average of 79.8. All important winter wheat States, except Pennsylvania, Texas, and Tennessee, share in this impairment of condition, Ohio and Indiana falling to 25 and Michigan to 40.

"The average condition of spring wheat is 55.2, as compared with 87.3 one month ago, 91.7 on July 1, 1899, 95 at the corresponding date in 1898, and a ten-year average of 89.5. The condition in Minnesota has fallen to 48, in South Dakota to 44, and in North Dakota to 30, these figures being 44, 45, and 60 points, respectively, below the ten-year averages for the States named. The Northwestern States have been visited by a special agent of the department within the last ten days, and reports of the department's regular correspondents are fully confirmed.

"In Minnesota and North Dakota the condition of oats, barley, rye, pastures, and meadow lands is, like that of spring wheat, the lowest on record.

"The condition of spring and winter wheat combined on July 1 was 69.8, against 76.2 on July 1, 1899, and 89.4 at the corresponding date in 1898.

"The amount of wheat remaining in the hands of farmers on July 1 is estimated at about 51,000,000 bu, or the equivalent of 9.3 per cent of the crop of 1899.

Dull Day in Wheat Pit.

August Wheat Range.

The mental attitude of the wheat trade yesterday was that of waiting for the government report, and business transacted was small and largely local. Unexpected lower cables from Liverpool disturbed the market greatly. Before the opening September in that market was ⅜d lower, and initial prices here were ⅛c to 1⅛c off. There was a partial rally, not much appearing for sale at bottom prices, and some of the local operators having the temerity to take on small lines in the hope of a bullish government report. Closing Liverpool cables, ⅞d to 1¼d off, gave the market another setback, and a still lower range of prices seemed likely, when Bradstreet's bullish report of a decrease of 6,160,000 bu in the world's visible supply for the week turned prices upward for another rally, most of which was lost at the close on evening up trades, the day's loss being ⅞c. The range was comparatively narrow, ⅝-¾c. August sold at 79c to 79¾c at the opening, ranged between 79⅛c and 78⅞c, and closed at 79¼c. September sold from 79⅝c to 80⅜-½c, closing at 80⅛c. July closed at 78⅞c. Statistics and the cash demand gave encouragement to holders. Sales for shipment here were 250,000 bu, and 96,000 bu at the seaboard. The decrease of 6,160,000 bu in the world's visible, made up of an increase of 540,000 bu east of the Rockies and 6,700,000 bu in Europe and afloat, compared with an increase of 604,000 bu the week before and a decrease of 178,000 bu last year. On July 1 world's stocks were about 9,000,000 bu greater than last year, and the excess has therefore been reduced to 3,000,000 bu. On Nov. 1, 1899, the visible supply was 85,000,000 bu greater than the year before, and the difference has been wiped out at the rate of nearly 11,000,000 bu per month. Northwestern receipts grew still smaller by comparison, 104 cars yesterday, to 657 cars last year. Total primary receipts were only 379,446 bu, to 884,989 bu last year, and shipments 671,884 bu to 703,361 bu. Atlantic clearances were small at 188,232 bu. Northwest crop news was mixed. The Minneapolis Market Record repeated its estimate of 85,000,000 bu for the three States, with the proviso that it might run better. The Northwest sent some buying orders, but they were probably to cover short wheat. New York and the Southwest sold. Dunn, Mitchell, Rumsey, and Comstock sold, Scott and other big pit traders bought. Spot wheat in Liverpool was ½d lower to ½d higher, and the weakness of futures there was said to be due to large receipts the last three days, 1,168,000 bu, of which 416,000 bu were American. London was 1½-¼d lower, Paris ½c lower, and Antwerp ⅝c higher.

Long Corn Sold Heavily.

Corn was weak on rains in parts of Nebraska and Kansas and on unloading of long property by traders and commission houses on anticipation of a bearish government report. Country acceptances were small, though bids were the highest yet sent out, and there was a prodigious demand for cash stuff, 930,000 bu being marketed here and the seaport reporting as high as 1,000,000 bu sold for export. In spite of the strong cash situation closing prices were near the bottom and 1¼c to 1⅜c off for the day on continued liquidation. September opened from 44c to 43⅞c, sold from 44c to 43⅛c, and closed at 43⅛c, a loss of 1¼-⅜c. August closed at 43c and July at 42⅞c. There was a lot for sale at the opening on rains in the east parts of Kansas and Nebraska, though it was claimed the best corn acreas got no relief. Phillips was a heavy buyer at the opening and on the breaks below 43⅞c for September. Nailor-Switzer bought August. Harris, Logan, Comstock, and Pringle were the best sellers. The cash demand helped July and August. Liverpool futures were ¼d to ½d lower and spot that much higher. Receipts of cars here for two days were 1,018, with 385 estimated for today. Primary receipts were 671,884 bu to 981,097 bu last year, and shipments 945,633 bu to 1,098,370 bu. Atlantic port clearances were 422,522 bu.

Provisions were weak with grains on a renewal of the heavy selling of last week by Cudahy brokers. Opening prices were slightly lower, early prices of hogs being 2½c to 5c higher, but that advance was lost and the product slumped off badly. Patten bought a little stuff early, and buying by the English packers at the close caused a slight reaction. Pork lost 30c, and lard and ribs 12½-15c. Local receipts of hogs were 21,000 to 22,000 last year, but the West had 82,000 to 74,000 last year.

There was a moderately active trade in oats at slightly lower prices, the close being at a decline of ⅛@⅜c, as compared with Monday's figures. Other grain carried the opening price down, and after the first recovery the tone was made rather heavy through sales by Daggett and Martin. Press observed a good share of these offerings. Receipts were heavy at 360 cars, 170 being estimated for today. As in other grains, traders were generally inclined to do little until the monthly government report had expended its influence. Clearances were 48,500 bu. Local contract stocks increased 196,000 bu during the week and are now 1,220,000 bu.

Sales of cash rye at 57½c weakened the market for futures, which at best was not strong. September sold 59⅛c early and 58⅜c later. Barley screenings sold 31@37c. Higher grades were firm, with little here. Quotations were nominally unchanged at 43@48c on malting. September timothy sold at $3.15, closing $3.17½ bid. Nothing doing in clover-seed. October remaining $9.00. Flaxseed was also dull, the only sales of September being at $1.35. October sold from $1.30 to $1.30¼, closing $1.31 bid. There were 4 cars at Minneapolis and 7 at Duluth.

Trade Gossip on 'Change.

Traders had to go back to 1896 to recall a government report as bullish in its indications as that of yesterday on wheat. Oppressed with the tradition that the reports are always bearish, most traders sold out, and many of those who carried lines over did so with much misgivings. Most of the bulls expected to get in the market several cents cheaper today. W. T. Baker is believed to have his big line still intact, and Bloom, Bryant, George Patten, Frank Dunn, Willard, Nicoll, and Parker are all long. Dunn, who sold out part of his line in the morning, took it all back and more at the close. Curb prices began jumping up after the report came out, and August sold up to 81½c, a gain of 2¼c, and September to 82⅝c, a gain of 2⅝c, each easing off about ½c afterward. Leopold Bloom, however, offered 83c for 250,000 bu September, 2⅞c over the close.

George H. Phillips, whose heavy purchases of corn have been the feature of that market for several days, is not a bull on the possibilities of crop damage so much as on the probable shortage of supplies before the new crop can be harvested.

"Old stocks of corn," said Mr. Phillips, "were practically exhausted on Dec. 1, 1899, when the new crop began to move. The percentage of old corn received after that date was so small as to point to an absolute depletion of supplies. The government figures on the crop of 1899 were, in round numbers, 21,000,000,000 bu, and of farm reserves on March 1, 1900, 800,000,000 bu. This indicated a consumption of 1,300,000,000 bu in three months, and while, of course, it has not continued on such a scale since, there was heavy feeding of cattle for two months longer. There is an active demand, both for export and for an increasing variety of domestic uses, and everything indicates that reserves in farmers' hands are now low, with practically five months before the new crop will begin to move."

The condition of spring wheat in North Dakota—30 per cent of an average—would give a yield of only 4.8 bu to the acre, and much of the acreage would doubtless be too poor to pay for thrashing. Unless the condition improves, therefore, before harvest, the indicated yield of 18,400,000 bu is likely to be cut down seriously.

Estimated receipts today: Wheat, 30 cars; corn, 385 cars; oats, 170 cars; hogs, 30,000.

The directors accomplished nothing in the Whyland case yesterday, adjourning until this afternoon.

Following is the government report on oats, barley, and rye:

"The average condition of the oats crop is 85.5, as compared with 91.7 one month ago and 90 on July 1, 1899, 92.8 at corresponding date in 1898, and ten-year average of 87.3.

"The average condition of barley is 76.3, as against 86.2 one month ago and 92 on July 1, 1899; 85.7 at the corresponding date in 1898, and a ten-year average of 88.3. All principal barley States show a decline during the month, and their averages of condition are all below their respective ten-year averages.

"The average condition of winter rye is 89.6, as compared with 83.3 on July 1, 1899; 93.8 at the corresponding date in 1898, and a ten-year average of 89.5. While the two principal rye producing States, New York and Pennsylvania, show an improved condition as compared with June 1, they still fail 7 points below their respective ten-year averages. The average condition of spring rye is 69.7, as compared with 89.7 on July 1, 1899; 96.9 at the corresponding date in 1898, and a ten-year average of 89.8."

A new terror to the spring wheat plant in the Northwest has been discovered in a plague of chinch bugs. The Minneapolis Journal has the following dispatches:

"Plainview, Minn.—Crop outlook becoming more serious as harvest draws near. Farmers who looked forward for good rains to break the long drought had their wishes granted, only to be smitten with a worse plague—chinch bugs. The bugs made their appearance about ten days ago, and today many fields of wheat are worthless—several of our farmers are already plowing under wheat, while others put harvesters into green barley fields in hopes of securing part of the crop ahead of the bugs."

"Belle Plain, Minn.—Chinch bugs are in nearly every field in this vicinity, and many fields are entirely destroyed. It looks as if a great deal of grain would be ruined by them before harvest."

A car of new No. 3 white oats, the first of the season, arrived yesterday. It came from central Illinois, weighed 32 lbs, and sold at 25¼c billed through.

Minneapolis mills have all resumed grinding, and there is a sharp demand there for cash wheat at ½c advance.

TAKE ISSUE WITH HARPER

EDUCATORS RESENT THE VIEWS OF THE CHICAGO MAN.

He Draws a Gloomy Picture of the Future of the Small Schools and Opposes the Cherished Plan of Founding a National University—First Big Meeting Is Held at Charleston—The Attendance Is Smaller than Was Expected.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Charleston, S. C., July 10.—[Special.]—Presidents of small colleges, principals of academies, superintendents, and other school men now in Charleston at the convention of the National Educational association are suspicious of Dr. William Rainey Harper of the University of Chicago.

The President of the Chicago institution prophesied a rather unflattering future for small schools before the session of the convention tonight, and he made a report to the National Educational council which some educators thought was inspired by the fears of big university men.

He gave to the National council what he termed his "individual report" of the action of the committee on a national university. He said it was not an official report, but it gave the result reached by the committee in its deliberations in Chicago last winter at the meeting of the Board of Superintendents.

This was that the establishment of a national university at Washington was not expedient, and that efforts should be made rather to establish a national college of research, which should be open to all students of American universities and colleges.

More Time for Thought.

The school men were not willing to give up their ideas on the possibility of establishing a national school, and they expressed their mild dissatisfaction with the report of the committee. They decided that they would take no action at all upon it, but would request the committee to think it over again and see if it could not come to some other conclusion.

The heads of small institutions feared that the members of the committee which had the subject under discussion, being connected with large schools, had their own interests wrapped up in the report which they made. It was evident in the committee's eyes that the successful founding of a big national university meant a loss of students for some large universities.

Dr. Harper, in defending his reports, said that instead of a national school the majority of the committee favored the establishment of a school of research which should be centered around and ultimately associated with the Smithsonian Institution and should be open to the students of certain universities. The council refused to believe that the committee had reached the best result in its consideration, and asked it to try again for another year.

Dr. Harper again awakened the distrust of the small colleges at the night session of the association when he talked of the prospects of the small institutions and forecasted that some would be reduced to academies. It was admitted that there was wisdom in the views of the Chicago President, but it was not welcome wisdom to some educators.

Among changes which Dr. Harper said could be expected in the near future and were to be desired were these:

A strengthening of many small colleges by reason of their struggles.

The reduction of some to academies.

The reduction of some to junior colleges.

The development of high schools and academies into junior academies.

A greater similarity of standards in small colleges.

A closer association of small colleges with universities.

First Day of Convention.

After three days' session of affiliated societies the National Educational association opened its convention this afternoon in the Thomson Auditorium with a much smaller attendance of delegates than had been expected. Probably 2,000 teachers were in the auditorium to hear the welcoming addresses. Of these Illinois had the largest delegation among the State outside of South Carolina, and Chicago the largest representation from the cities.

The teachers were welcomed to Charleston by Governor Miles B. McSweeney, State Superintendent John J. Mahon, Mayor J. A. Smyth, and Superintendent Henry P. Archer of the Charleston schools. The band of the First United States Artillery from Sullivan's Island was placed in the orchestra pit, and the decorations of the hall were flags and bunting. The officers of the association and the speakers were on the stage.

The band opened with the "Star Spangled Banner," and Colonel Francis W. Parker, in a linen suit, arose from his chair on the stage and waved the people to their feet while the air was being played. When the teachers had taken their seats again a man with a broad hat jumped to his feet in the audience and yelled:

"Mr. President, we want 'Dixie.'"

The band obeyed, and Southerners and Northerners arose to their feet again and a great Southern yell went up from the audience. After that there were numerous references to the dropping of sectional lines in the speeches of the convention.

Missouri teachers and leading delegations from several other States endeavored to get the Executive committee of the Educational association to vote for an annual appropriation of $2,000 for five years to conduct an investigation of reform in English. The committee refused to handle so large a matter offhand and referred it to the National Council of Education for discussion and report next year. It was the purpose of the teachers to have the association go to the limit of spelling reform and to formulate a revolutionized form of orthography which would prescribe phonetic spelling wherever possible.

Marquise de Fontenoy Letter.

(Copyright, 1900, by the Marquise de Fontenoy.)

Joseph Saracco.

ITALY'S new Premier, old Joseph Saracco, who is 83 years of age, enjoys the well-merited reputation of being the most thrifty, not to say close-fisted, man in the kingdom, which, in view of the latter's appalling financial difficulties, due to administrative extravagance, may be regarded as auguring well for the future of the peninsula. He is one of the most curious figures of political life in Italy. Piedmontese by birth, he possesses the Piedmontese qualities of sterling honesty, financial astuteness, and economy.

He is and has been for many years Mayor of his native town of Acqui. A few years ago, when Italian cities and towns were vieing with each other in erecting ugly but costly monuments to Cavour, the citizens of Acqui thought it their duty to place a suitable monument to the father of Italian unity on the Central Square of Acqui. Old Mayor Saracco at length yielded to their importunities, but in order not to disturb the finances of the municipality he ransacked the studios of half the sculptors in the kingdom, and finally picked up for a mere nothing an old, forgotton, and discarded statue of Cavour. This he transported to Acqui and had it erected on the public square. His fellow-townsmen thereupon decided to celebrate the inauguration of the monument with great festivities, the cost of which the municipal treasury finances was expected to defray. But Mayor Saracco, again trembling for the municipal finances, got up early one morning at daybreak, and with the assistance of a few municipal employés, inaugurated the monument before the town was awake.

So widespread is the belief in the old man's care for the taxpayers' interest that the opposition caricaturists represent him as bargaining for twenty one-cent glasses of lemonade, with which to enable his friends to drink to the success of his Premiership, and long life to his administration. He has been in public life for more than half a century, having entered Parliament in 1849 and the Senate in 1865. His advent to the important position of Premier is a much needed guarantee that Italian public affairs will be managed carefully and honestly, and the politicians whom he has chosen to form part of his administration are each one of them men imbued with the same ideas as himself.

The excommunication of Count Tolstoi, the celebrated author, is wrongly described as an instance of Muscovite intolerance, of bigotry, and of persecution. The Count has until now belonged to the Orthodox State Church of Russia. Now, in his recent novel entitled "The Resurrection," he expressly denies some of the principal doctrines of that church. He denies the one God in three persons, insists that the second person of the trinity was an ordinary human being, derides the Holy Sacrament, and declares that the church is a mere human arrangement, besides distorting and finding fault with the gospels. We saw a few months ago how the eminent English writer and scientist, Dr. Mivart, was excommunicated by Cardinal Vaughan in England for denying certain doctrines of the Roman Catholic Church in his writings, while here in the United States the Rev. Dr. Briggs was expelled from the Presbyterian ministry for denying certain teachings of the Presbyterian Church. Count Tolstoi has merely been subjected to the same treatment as Dr. Briggs and as Dr. Mivart—that is to say, he has been deprived of the membership of a church to which he has until now professed to belong, but the teachings of which he derides and denies. The excommunication entails no civil disadvantages, and the extent of his punishment is that he is debarred from the sacraments, and that if he dies without reconciling himself to the church the latter will decline its ministrations at his deathbed, or its religious ceremonies at his funeral.

Sir Robert Hart.

So much has been written about Sir Robert Hart that any biographical record of this extraordinary man would be superfluous. As one, however, who has been entertained by him at Pekin in the most hospitable and charming fashion I would merely like to call attention to that fact that his death at the hands of the Chinese, along with the other ill-fated Europeans and Americans, furnishes striking proof of the truth of the assertion that it is absolutely impossible to win either the gratitude or the affection of the Chinese, or, indeed, of any Asiatics, a circumstance which the people in this country would do well to bear in mind.

Sir Robert has devoted his entire existence to the service of the Chinese, having been in their employ since 1859, that is to say, for a period of over forty years, during the whole of which time he never had more than eighteen months holiday. His services to the Chinese were of the most loyal, honorable, and single-minded description, and with the true art of an Irishman, he contrived to reconcile his duties to the Chinese government with his obligations as a subject of Queen Victoria. The extent to which the Chinese trusted him is shown by the fact that he had the entire customs service of the vast empire under his absolute control, also the Lighthouse department, and a large fleet of revenue cruisers and armed steam launches. Besides this he was created a mandarin of the highest class, and his ancestors enobled back for several generations.

Dr. William Martin.

The only foreigner who was treated with anywhere near the same respect by the Chinese and to whom they accorded their confidence was Dr. William Martin, the American ex-missionary, who, until his presumed death along with Sir Robert Hart, held the position of President of the Imperial University at Pekin, and who, like Sir Robert was a mandarin, though of the second class instead of the first, the rank held by Sir Robert. Dr. Martin's life in China has extended over a period of fifty years, and the fact that he and Sir Robert Hart should have been butchered along with the remainder of the Europeans in Pekin shows the utter hopelessness of any lasting friendship between the white man and the Asiatic, and the impossibility of removing that hatred for the foreigner which, sometimes latent, at other times openly displayed, seems to burn fiercely in the breast of every Oriental.

M. de Giers, the Russian Minister at Pekin, was a son of the Chancellor and Minister of Foreign Affairs of Czar Alexander III., and spent many years as first secretary of the Russian Embassy in Paris before proceeding to China.

The many friends in this country of Mr. Bax Ironside, friends whom he made while secretary of the British Embassy at Washington and at Newport, will doubtless be relieved to hear that he was not at Pekin at the time of the massacre, having returned home on leave of absence when Sir Claude MacDonald got back from his furlough, during which time Bax Ironside acted as Chargé d'Affaires. His duties as first secretary after his departure for England were undertaken by the second secretary, Herbert Dering, second son of Sir Henry Dering, now British Minister in Mexico, and there is no doubt that he will have perished with his chief.

Sir Robert Hart leaves a widow, who lives in London at 38 Cadogan place. The baronetcy conferred upon him by the Queen seven years ago is inherited by his only son, Edgar. His daughter Evelyn is married to William Beauclerk, British Consul General at Buda-Pesth. Sir Robert held honorary degrees in several American universities.

REPORT SHOWS DAMAGE.

and most of the droves cost 3@4c more than Monday, yet the late market was decidedly weak and a little lower than the opening day of the week. The quality was somewhat better, which helped to make hogs "higher on paper." The run about reached expectations, and the proportion of heavy weights was larger than usual, especially for Tuesday. Packers acted bearish late in the day, bidding $5.25 for ordinary heavyweights. A load averaging 200 lbs sold early at $5.55, with 190@210-lb averages at $5.52½, and quite a good many 150@350-lb averages at $5.50. Late in the day buyers wanted the best at $5.40. Quotations follow:

Bulk of sales	$5.37½@5.45
Selected butchers', 220@270 lbs.	5.40 @5.50
Selected bacon, 150@190 lbs.	5.40 @5.52½
Mixed grades, 180@240 lbs.	5.37½@5.55
Heavy shipping, 280@350 lbs.	5.40 @5.50
Heavy packing, 280@400 lbs.	5.30 @5.42½
Rough, heavy grades	5.15 @5.25
Poor to choice pigs	4.60 @5.30

Sheep—The market for sheep and lambs opened steady, but closed weak. Lambs sold at $4.00@7.00, bulk $5.85@6.65; Colorado lambs, averaging 64@67 lbs, sold at $5.75; native sheep, $3.25@4.75. A good many ewes sold at $3.50@3.75; grass Western sheep, averaging 93@104 lbs, sold at $3.75@4.00.

LIVE STOCK MARKETS ELSEWHERE.

NEW YORK, July 10.—Beeves—Receipts, 900, all consigned direct. Nothing doing; feeling steady. Liverpool and London cables quoted cattle firm at 11½@13c; refrigerator beef higher, at 9¾@10c per lb. Shipments, 900 cattle and 4,360 quarters of beef. Calves—Receipts, 365. Market dull; good veals about steady; 500 calves unsold. Veals, $6.75@7.50; buttermilks, $3.50@4.00; mixed calves, $4.00@4.50. LAKE SHIPPING NEWS.

Freights and Charters.

CHICAGO—Grain freights seem to have settled in the rut of 2 cents to Lake Erie and 1½ cents to Port Huron for the summer. Charters: To Buffalo—Rockefeller, barge 130, Lansing, Fitzgerald, corn. To Port Huron—Wallace, Ashland, corn.

CLEVELAND, O.—Local brokers are turning down considerable business in coal to the head of Lake Superior, for they are refusing to charter their boats for less than 50 cents. Six Canadian ships were chartered for Fort William at 40 cents today, and shippers claim that more outside boats are being placed at the cut. All effort is being made to break the Milwaukee rate, and only 55 cents is offered. Ore freights are unchanged. Charters: Ore—Schoolcraft, Nourke, Ashland to Ohio, $1; Nestor, Marquette to Ohio, 90 cents. Coal—Resolute, Lorain to Fort William, 40 cents.

STILL ABLE TO GATHER GARBAGE

City Will Continue Having Streets Cleaned and Refuse Collected as Usual.

ECONOMY IN OTHER WAYS.

Mayor Says Luxuries Can Wait but Necessary Work Must Be Done.

TUNNEL MANDAMUS TODAY.

Garbage will be collected and the streets will be cleaned after the same old fashion, even if Chicago is short of money. As Mayor Harrison put it last evening:

"We may have to get along without some of the luxuries, but we will have money enough for the necessaries."

The Mayor went into consultation with Controller Kerfoot and Corporation Counsel Walker early in the afternoon regarding the financial condition of the city, and the meeting was not adjourned until late. When it was over the Mayor said:

"The outlook is that the city is going to have less money than was estimated when the appropriations were made, and cannot spend so much as was provided for in the appropriation bill. Exactly how great the deficiency will be has not been determined, but Controller Kerfoot will do some figuring and in a day or so we can estimate that matter pretty accurately. When we have cleared up this point we will go to work to determine how and where we best can cut expenses so as to get within our income. The various heads of departments will be called on to report where the knife can be put to the least detriment of the city, and inside of a week I hope we will know exactly where we stand and what we can do.

"All this talk about stopping street-cleaning and the collection of garbage is rank nonsense. Work of that kind, which has to be done, will be done, and there will be no cut in the appropriations either for street-cleaning or garbage collection.

"There are some luxuries, however, which we will have to get along without. The $100,000 appropriated for small parks, for instance, cannot be spent this year, neither can the $100,000 set apart for a garbage crematory. Some free baths which were provided for in the appropriation bill will have to wait, and we cannot build so many bridges as we had hoped for. Altogether we will have to economize, but work which is necessary will be done the same as if the city had all the money it needed."

Ax for Useles Officials.

The Mayor also suggested that a cut might be made in the way of reducing some salaries and doing away with useless officials. He did not indicate where the ax might strike, and only laughingly remarked that he thought of cutting the salary of the Corporation Counsel to $1,500 a year. It is possible that places like the one held by Fish Inspector Murray may suffer.

The Mayor said he was unable to say when the men laid off in the Street and Alley Cleaning department would be put back to work. "That is something we cannot determine," he said, "until we know what the income of the city is to be. There were 750 men in the Street and Alley Cleaning department laid off on Monday, and when the Board of Assessors lets us know what the income of the city is to be I will be able to say when these men will be put back to work. The appropriations were made on the basis that the city's income for the ensuing year was to be as much at least as last year. Now it is said there is to be a reduction of 25 per cent and perhaps more in our income. Nothing remained to do but call a halt and find out 'where we are at.' When this has been determined we will be able to say just what is to be done, but not before."

Think North Side Trolley Abandoned.

The trolley proposition of the North Side Business-Men's association is regarded as having shared the same fate as the Ogden gas ordinance, which, as told elsewhere in THE TRIBUNE today, has been abandoned. The reception the petition received in the Council Monday is taken as indicating the position of the Aldermen, and the resolution adopted pledging the Council to pass "a proper" ordinance is not generally regarded as amounting to anything, as there easily could arise a difference of opinion as to what constituted "a proper" ordinance.

Mayor Against the Noise Ordinance.

Mayor Harrison announces himself as opposed to the anti-noise ordinance sent to the Council by Corporation Counsel Walker and now in the hands of the Judiciary committee. The Mayor holds to it that noise is a necessary adjunct to a large and busy city and remarks: "If any one is annoyed seriously by the noise in Chicago, let him move to Philadelphia."

Tunnel Suit to Be Filed Today.

Corporation Counsel Walker will file today the petition for a writ of mandamus seeking to compel the Union Traction company to lower the tunnels. The theory on which the petition is based is that the Chicago River is a highway belonging to the State and city. The United States government, in its capacity of caretaker of navigable waters, has decreed that a depth of twenty-one feet must be maintained in this river and consequently no person or corporation can make use of any portion of the river which would interfere with its use as the kind of a highway the government declares it must be.

Municipal Notes.

City Collector Brandecker reports 5,700 saloon licenses taken out this year, against 5,400 for the same period of last. The increase is due to increased vigilance in his department. There also have been 252 cigaret licenses taken out and fifty-two dealers are now being prosecuted for selling without licenses.

Civil Service Commissioner Ela is hard at work on his system of marking for employés. The plan is to give city employés merit marks for good work and demerit for bad. The employé falling below a certain average will be discharged, while the one having the highest mark in any class will be the man for promotion.

Residents of the Fifteenth Ward complained to the Mayor that John Scala's tannery, at 27 Cromwell street, is a nuisance and asked that it be abated. No action was taken.

TAKE GOLDFISH FROM LAGOON.

Crowd Watches the Removal of 2,000 Finny Tenants of Lincoln Park to Be Sent to Urbana and Quincy.

Seining for goldfish in the lagoons of Lincoln Park was a sport that attracted a large crowd yesterday. Two thousand of the finny creatures were taken in with seines and dipnets. A goldfish in the lagoons is now comparatively a rarity. The fish were shipped to Quincy and Urbana, by order of the Illinois State Fish commissioners.

The sight of men drawing the nets in the lagoons was a strange one and visitors to the park gathered along the banks and wondered why the police did not interfere. Superintendent Redieske and Animalkeeper McCurran, however, were in charge, and the men drawing the nets were park employés. Each haul of the nets brought up fifty or one hundred fish. The goldfish were sorted out and put in pails, while the other fish were thrown back.

Superintendent Redieske explained that the fish were being caught to send to Quincy and Urbana, the State Fish commissioners having been unable to secure goldfish elsewhere to stock the waters at those places. They have stocked the Lincoln Park lagoons from time to time, and made a requisition for a return of several thousand of the fish.

STATE OF GROWING CROPS

WEEKLY SUMMARY OF REPORTS TO THE WEATHER BUREAU.

Conditions Favorable in Districts East of the Rocky Mountains—Drought in the Northwest Relieved by Bountiful Rains—Winter Wheat Harvest Nearing Completion in the Central Valleys—Yield Is Better than Expected—Apples Continue to Drop.

Washington, D. C., July 10.—[Special.]—Following is the Weather bureau's report of crop conditions for the last week:

As a whole the week has been highly favorable in the districts east of the Rocky Mountains. The drought-stricken regions of the Northwest have received bountiful rains, and the central and east gulf States, which have suffered much from excessive rains of previous weeks have for the most part experienced favorable weather conditions. Drought continues in the Rocky Mountain regions, and rain would be beneficial in portions of Missouri, Kansas, and Texas, in Florida, and on the Atlantic coast northward of the Carolinas. The week has been marked by exceptionally high temperatures in the lower Missouri Valley and on the Atlantic coast from southern New England to Florida.

Corn has made rapid growth, and generally is in fine condition in the States of the central valleys, although suffering for rain in portions of Missouri, Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma, and Texas. In the east gulf States and portions of Tennessee much damage has been done on lowlands by rains of previous weeks.

The weather conditions in the central valleys have been more favorable for harvesting, and the winter wheat harvest is nearing completion in the more northerly districts. Thrashing is in general progress, and yields better than expected are reported from Kentucky, Tennessee, and Illinois. The general and abundant rains in the Dakotas and Minnesota have improved the outlook for late spring wheat, especially in Minnesota and South Dakota. In North Dakota most of the crop has been too badly damaged to be revived, and some sections will not yield enough for seed, while others promise a partial crop.

Rain Benefits Oats.

Except in New England, Minnesota, and the Dakotas, reports respecting oats continue favorable and the crop is now ripening in the more northerly districts. In the Dakotas and Minnesota recent rains have been of much benefit.

The weather has been generally favorable for securing hay, except over portions of the upper lake region and upper Mississippi valley, where rains have been detrimental.

The week has been generally favorable for giving cotton much needed cultivation, and an improvement in the condition of this crop is reported from the greater part of the cotton belt, being most decided in the eastern portions. Too rapid growth is, however, reported from the central districts, and some lowland fields have been abandoned in Tennessee and Louisiana. In Texas the crop has made rapid growth except in the western portion, where rain is needed, and is generally well cultivated except in some parts of eastern Texas.

The general condition of the tobacco crop is favorable. Rains would be beneficial in Maryland and portions of Virginia. An improvement is reported from Kentucky, where the crop has suffered from excessive rains of previous weeks. Cutting and curing are in progress in the Carolinas.

The outlook for apples continues promising in New York and Pennsylvania, and they are not falling so badly as previously reported in Ohio, but generally throughout the Ohio and central Mississippi valleys, embracing an important part of the apple region, complaints of dropping continue a marked feature of the reports.

Reports of Correspondents.

The following statements are based upon reports from more than 12,000 climate and crop correspondents, collected at State section centers of the Climate and Crop Service of the Weather bureau:

New England, Boston—Rain needed; rye average yield; much of oat crop cut for fodder, below average; early corn promising; late poor; apples falling; berries shriveling; pastures generally inferior.

New York, Ithaca—Light frost first of week, followed by hot weather and frequent showers, greatly reviving crops and pastures; apples, peaches, and grapes generally promising.

Pennsylvania, Philadelphia—Hot, sunshiny weather, with frequent showers, caused rapid growth; wheat and rye about all cut in southern counties, but not all housed because of showers; yield varies from fair to good; oats improved and beginning to ripen; large yield of peaches in prospect.

Florida, Jacksonville—Grapes, melons, peaches, and pineapples shipped; citrus trees doing well.

Kentucky, Louisville—Wheat thrashing progressed well, yield generally much better than expected; corn and tobacco now look more encouraging; fruit is doing well, except apples.

Missouri, Columbia—Wheat yielding well; oats heavy crop; corn laid by in good condition, except in southeast; apples and peaches continue dropping.

Indiana, Indianapolis—Less rain; excellent weather for growing crops and harvesting; corn growing rapidly, is in tassel, promising heavy yield; oats ripening rapidly, heads well filled, and yield will be heavy; rye in shock; wheat thrashing continues, yield poor; tobacco growing well; potatoes promise good yield; apples dropping.

Ohio, Columbus—Haying, general crop better than expected, though light; wheat harvest general, thrashing begun in south; oats ripening fast; prospect good; corn growing well in most places; apples not falling so badly.

Conditions in Northwest.

Michigan, Lansing—High temperature and frequent showers have greatly advanced corn, potatoes, and beans, but interfered with haying; haying well advanced and most of that cut is well secured; wheat and rye harvest becoming general; oats and sugar beets promising; high winds and local hail-storms did some damage to standing grain and orchards.

Wisconsin, Milwaukee—Drought broken by heavy rains in all parts of State; crops in few localities destroyed by hail; corn greatly improved by rains and high temperature, hay crop light, but much millet and fodder corn sown; oats and barley ripening; pastures and second crop clover starting nicely; apples falling in some sections, crop generally fair.

Minnesota, Minneapolis—General and abundant rains beneficial to corn, late potatoes, pastures, forage crops, and flax, and making possible fair crops of spring wheat, oats, and barley, which were in danger of total failure; winter rye, winter wheat, and barley harvest progressing and oats ripening; poor hay crop being cut; splendid apple crop.

Iowa, Des Moines—Week excessively hot except last two days; frequent showers retarded haying and damaged much hay; considerable grain flattened by heavy rainfall and wind in central and northern sections; harvest operations well begun and grain maturing rapidly; early apples badly windfallen; abundant moisture, except in extreme southwest; corn generally above average condition in all districts.

North Dakota, Bismarck—Heavy rains have revived vegetation not previously destroyed; late corn, oats, potatoes, barley, and flax now doing well; most wheat too badly damaged to be revived, and what is left is thin and weedy with short straw just commencing to head, some sections will not yield enough for seed, while others may produce a portion of a crop; full extent of damage cannot yet be determined.

Beneficial to Spring Wheat.

South Dakota, Huron—Except in extreme west opportune and copious general rains early part of week, beneficial to spring wheat, corn, oats, grass, barley, and flax; spring wheat generally thin stand, except southeast, and bulk of crop in head with heads medium to good length, filling well in southeast, elsewhere generally short and filling fairly with healthy progress expected generally, but many fields in middle and northern counties promise poor yield and some are worthless; severe hail-storms caused damage in several northern counties.

Nebraska, Lincoln—Hot week with good showers in northern and western counties; winter wheat harvest completed and thrashing commenced, yield and quality good; oat harvest commenced, oats injured considerably by dry weather; corn has generally grown well, but has been damaged by drought in southwestern counties and needs more rain in southeastern counties; hay less promising; apples continue to drop badly.

Kansas, Topeka — Dry, except in southeast; wheat generally in stack except in northwest, where harvest is progressing; corn in fine condition in southern and eastern counties, needs rain in central and northeastern; suffering in northern; apples doing fairly well, though blown off in some counties, dropping in others.

Oklahoma and Indian Territory, Oklahoma—Rains have relieved drought conditions and rapidly advanced corn, cotton, millet, pastures, and gardens; corn earing and cotton blooming and fruiting.

Oregon, Portland—Light crop of peaches; apples and prunes doing well.

California, San Francisco—Conditions favorable for all crops; grapes in good condition, large crop expected; peaches, prunes, pears, and apples heavy crop, of good quality; oranges and walnuts looking well.

GOOD FOR ILLINOIS CROPS.

Weather in State Favorable for Vegetation and Farm Work—Yield of Wheat Larger than Expected.

Springfield, Ill., July 10.—[Special.]—Following is the climate and crop bulletin of the Illinois bureau for the week just ended:

The last week has been excellent both for growing crops and farm work. Dry weather has prevailed generally in those parts of the State where previously excessive rains had fallen, and good rains fell in those parts where the weather had been too dry. In a few localities the weather is still too dry. Warm weather forced the growth of vegetation rapidly. Wheat has nearly all been harvested and much of it has been thrashed. The yield is generally larger than was expected, and the quality of the grain is excellent.

Oats are ripening over most of the State, and harvesting has been begun in the central and southern districts. The yield promises to be large. Corn has grown rapidly under the favorable weather conditions. Haying has progressed rapidly and the yield is generally larger than was expected. Most of the hay has been harvested in excellent condition.

Pastures are generally good. Broomcorn, stock peas, and gardens are doing well. Potatoes promise a large crop. The outlook for fruit generally seems good, but apple prospects continue to deteriorate.

NEWSPAPER THIEVES IN COURT.

John Slattery Sent to the John Worthy School and William O'Connor Held by Judge.

John Slattery was sent by Judge Tuthill of the Juvenile Court to the John Worthy School yesterday for stealing copies of THE TRIBUNE from doorsteps in the vicinity of La Salle avenue and Chestnut street last Sunday. William O'Connor, who stole papers in the same locality, was bound over to the Criminal Court. E. Hagelauer, a carrier for THE TRIBUNE, caught both boys.

TO FIGHT CITY BOND ISSUE.

Real Estate Board to Oppose in Court $2,500,000 Increase of Debt.

TO BE PARTY IN SUIT.

Instructs Committee to Engage Counsel to Intervene in Fishburn Case.

TAKES UP REBATE CHARGES.

The Chicago Real Estate board at a special meeting yesterday afternoon decided to oppose in the courts the proposed increase in the bonded indebtedness of the city. It adopted recommendations presented by Chairman Wyllys W. Baird of the Revenue committee, and gave authority to engage the services of Wilson, Moore & McIlvaine, attorneys of the board, in the direction of uniting in any suits brought for the purpose of opposing bonded indebtedness based on the full value of property as found by the Board of Assessors, or to "oppose on behalf of the Real Estate board any such bond issue." This allows the Revenue committee to take the initiative at any time, as well as to join in the suit of Eugene H. Fishburn against the City of Chicago on the question of the right of the municipality to issue $2,500,000 bonds to pay off judgments against the city and to remove indebtedness incurred by the purchase of the pumping station on the drainage canal.

Points in Committee's Report.

The report of the Revenue committee further stated:

At this time we are not prepared to submit any recommendation with reference to the necessity for an increase of the bonded indebtedness of the City of Chicago, as proposed by a resolution introduced by A. E. Halsey, although we are of the opinion that under proper restrictions and safeguards the issuance of a limited amount of additional bonds for specific permanent improvements may be judicious.

We learn after a conference with the City Controller that the city administration is in favor of restoring the 5 per cent tax limit, as intended in section 49 of the new revenue law, and the administration offers to assist this board in any legislation needful to restore such limit in a constitutional manner.

We recommend that the attorney of the Real Estate board be requested to frame such an amendment to the revenue law as will, in his opinion, restore the 5 per cent limit contemplated by section 49.

Trouble in Getting Rebate.

William A. Bond reported a case where a property-owner, after several attempts to have a special assessment rebate figured out, at last found a clerk who discovered that $18 should be returned from the original assessment. The matter was referred to Chairman Robert C. Givins of the Special Assessment committee of the board, and will be looked into today.

After the meeting of the board Chairman Baird said: "The Revenue committee will proceed at once to take an active part in the suit commenced by Mr. Fishburn against the city to determine the bond issue question. We also will try to have an amendment to the revenue law framed that will make the original limitation of taxation property valid, to be introduced at the coming session of the Legislature."

Sales Are Recorded.

Charles E. Rector and Robert M. Stites have given a bill of sale of the restaurant property on the southeast corner at Monroe and Clark streets to the Rector company, recently incorporated, for $100,000. Mr. Rector and Mr. Stites are the principal stockholders.

Sherman T. Cooper has transferred to Joseph H. Buffum the property in Prairie avenue, 249 feet south of Fifty-eighth street, east front, 50x161 feet, for $32,000, subject to an incumbrance of $14,000.

GENERAL NEWS OF RAILWAYS.

Freight Offices of Western Roads Arrange for Joint Agencies to Pool Their Business.

The general freight agents of leading Western roads have formed an arrangement for the pooling of business. Joint agencies are to be established at Kansas City, Omaha, and St. Paul. A joint agent will be placed in charge of the traffic at each of these cities. H. H. Courtright has been appointed to manage the Kansas City office and he is in charge of the Omaha office temporarily, in addition. The Kansas City office will handle traffic for adjoining cities, like St. Joseph, Atchison, and Leavenworth. The Omaha branch covers Sioux City, Lincoln, and Beatrice. St. Paul looks after Duluth, Minneapolis, and other points in the vicinity. Permanent agents will be appointed in Omaha and St. Paul soon.

Grand Trunk Makes Transfer.

A report of the receivers of the Chicago and Grand Trunk railway company, filed in the United States Circuit Court for the quarter ending March 31 last, shows receipts amounting to $1,214,432 and $938,129 disbursements; cash on hand amounted to $276,302. Receivers E. W. Meddaugh and Henry B. Joy of the Chicago and Grand Trunk gave notice that the United States Court of Michigan has made an order directing them to disaffirm the leases by the company of the Cincinnati, Saginaw & Mackinaw railroad. The Grand Trunk railway system of Canada has taken charge of the road.

Western roads have agreed to make a rate of a fare and a third for the round trip for the Chautauqua assembly to be held at Havana, Ill., Aug. 2 to 13. They have refused to accept the tender of Eastern connections of a basing rate of $8.50 from Peoria to Niagara Falls and return on July 26, Aug. 1 and 14, from all points within 200 miles of Peoria.

Western roads centering in Chicago report that they expect to carry as large a volume of grain tonnage this year as ever, notwithstanding the reports of damage to the wheat crops in the Northwest.

CHARTER FOR NEW RAILROAD.

Company Incorporated to Build Line from Mattoon, Ill., to Evansville, Ind., and Operate Branch.

Springfield, Ill., July 10.—[Special.]—Secretary of State Rose today issued a certificate of incorporation to the Mattoon and Evansville railroad company. The principal office will be in Chicago and the capital $50,000. The road is to be constructed from Mattoon, Coles County, Ill., southeasterly through the Counties of Coles, Cumberland, Jasper, Richland, Edwards, and White in Illinois to the boundary line between Illinois and Indiana, connecting there with the railway extending through the Counties of Posey and Vanderburgh in Indiana to Evansville. The company also proposes to operate that portion of the Evansville Division of the Peoria, Decatur and Evansville railway company, beginning at Mattoon at the intersection of the Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis railway company, extending southwesterly through the Counties of Coles, Cumberland, Jasper, Richland, Edwards, and white to the boundary line between White County, Ill., and Posey County, Ind., that railroad having been sold by decree of the United States Circuit Court for the Southern District of Illinois. The incorporators and first Board of Directors are John C. Welling, J. T. Harahan, William G. Bruen, Thomas E. King, and Clarence W. Moore, of Chicago.

Excursion Rates to Marquette, Mich.

Chicago and Northwestern railway. Tourist tickets any day, returning until Oct. 31, $17.25. Special excursion tickets July 17, returning within 21 days, $12.85. Sleeping car, Chicago to Marquette, 8 p. m. daily. Tickets and information at ticket offices, 212 Clark street and Wells Street Station.

SAYS LUZON IS FOREIGN.

JUDGE KOHLSAAT DECIDES PEPKE DIAMOND CASE.

Confirms Seizure Because No Duty Was Paid at San Francisco on Gems Brought from Philippines—Opinion Rendered Without Hearing Arguments—Appeal Will Be Taken by Eastern Jewelers Interested in the Matter.

Judge Kohlsaat in the United States District Court held yesterday that the constitution does not, of its own power, apply to territory held by the United States government. Without listening to arguments he confirmed the seizure of the diamonds brought from the Philippines by Emil J. Pepke because no duty was paid on them at San Francisco. Pepke was arrested on suspicion of being connected with the Potter diamond robbery, and was afterward turned over to the government officers.

The court explained simply that he was inclined to follow the decision given in a Porto Rican case of the same kind by Judge Townsend of New York. This action will facilitate matters in bringing the case to the Supreme Court of the United States on an appeal.

The defense was represented by Attorney Charles H. Aldrich, former Solicitor General of the United States, and it is said fourteen other clients—jewelers in the East—were interested in the outcome of the test case.

HOLDS PYOTT MARRIAGE VOID.

Branch Appellate Court Affirms Judge Tuley's Decree—Sixteen Cases Decided.

The decree of Judge Tuley denying the claim of Mrs. Jeanette C. Patton Pyott to the name and property of James M. Pyott Sr. has been affirmed by the Branch Appellate Court. The opinion refers specifically to the various findings of the Circuit Court, which declared against Mrs. Pyott on the ground of the mental condition of Mr. Pyott and on the finding that the marriage ceremony was performed by fraud.

Sixteen opinions were announced. Eight of the rulings affirm the findings previously entered in the lower courts. The decisions were recorded as:

8626—Davis Paint Manufacturing Company vs. Metzger Linseed Oil Company; affirmed.

8677—City of Chicago vs. Emily E. Ramsey; reversed and remanded.

8681—Horatio R. Wilson vs. Michael Espert; reversed and remanded with directions.

8689—Jeanette C. Pyott vs. James M. Pyott Sr. et al.; affirmed.

8697—Louis P. Halladay et al. vs. J. P. Underwood et al.; affirmed.

8701—Appollonia Landgraf, admx., vs. Abraham Kuh, Adolph Nathan, and Siegfried M. Fischer; affirmed.

8705—Blakeslee's Express and Van Company vs. Kittie Ford, admx.; reversed and remanded.

8707—Robert J. Gould vs. Nels E. Wenstrand et al.; reversed and remanded with directions.

8708—Pioneer Fireproof Construction Company vs. James Howell; affirmed.

8711—Andrew J. Olson vs. George S. Sheffield et al.; reversed and remanded.

8715—Frank Mininger vs. Security Title and Trust Company, recvr.; reversed and remanded.

8717—Henry Olsen et al. vs. Frederick Anderson; reversed and remanded with directions.

8723—Vina Fields vs. Paul Brown, recvr.; affirmed.

8726—Florence Gerald vs. Inter Ocean Publishing Company; affirmed.

8740—Adolph Okerlind, for use, vs. Maud Fyke; reversed and remanded.

8761—John H. Bourke vs. Anglo-American Provision Company; affirmed.

Many Bankrupts Freed from Debts.

Judge Kohlsaat in the United States District Court yesterday entered orders of discharge on almost 200 petitions in bankruptcy, the longest list of bankrupts ever cleared at one time. The courtroom would not hold all the men and women who previously had scheduled their liabilities and were waiting to hear the order. There were no large schedules of debts in the list.

TAX BOARDS IN JOINT SESSION.

Assessors and Revisers Seek Equity in Realty Valuations for 1901.

FOR NEW SHORE SURVEY.

Take Steps to Bring $15,000,000 Worth of Made Land Under Revenue Law.

INCREASES IN PERSONALTY.

Joint sessions of the Board of Review and Board of Assessors were held yesterday to discuss real estate valuations on which the taxes for 1901 shall be based. By agreement the sessions will continue for ten days, in order that property-owners may be heard and equity in assessments secured. While nothing definite came out of the first joint session, the plan is believed to be one that will insure good results.

The question of establishing a new meander line along the lake shore also was taken up at a conference between the taxing bodies and the Revenue committee of the Real Estate board and several county officials. It is proposed to have a resurvey made, which will place on the county records made land valued at more than $15,000,000, and which has been escaping taxation at the hands of city, county, or State through the fact that its ownership has not been recorded.

The attention of the County Commissioners recently was called by County Clerk Knopf to the importance of having a new survey of the shore line made, and the County board is expected to act in the matter next Monday. The legal boundary line of the county along the lake has not been newly defined for over fifty years, except through a government survey made in 1872, which was not accepted by Cook County. As a consequence the accretions of land have not been considered within the taxing jurisdiction of the county, and a great amount of revenue has been missed.

Turn Over Personalty Books.

Rapid work is expected in the two branches of the county revenue department this year. The first of the city personal property books was delivered to the Board of Review in the morning, with a number of personal property books for the country towns.

The boards in joint session decided to call in taxpayers from the various towns according to the following schedule:

Today—10 a. m., South Town; 2 p. m., Jefferson.
Tomorrow—10 a. m., West Town; 2 p. m., Hyde Park.
Friday—10 a. m., Lake; 2 p. m., North Town.
Saturday—10 a. m., Evanston and Cicero.

The other country towns will be called next week.

One hundred property-owners, representing the Lake View Taxpayers' association, appeared before the joint session of the two boards to ask for a horizontal reduction of taxes ranging from 20 to 40 per cent. The delegation was given to understand that the boards were striving to make a fair and equitable assessment, and a subcommittee was named by the taxpayers to take up the matter of individual assessments and confer with the revenue boards in joint session.

Increases in Country Towns.

The Assessors' returns from the several country towns on personal property show that in nine towns there has been a decided increase in the personalty valuations over those fixed in 1899 by the Board of Review. The table of the totals showing increases is as follows:

	Ass'd val., 1900.	Rev. ass'd val., 1899.	Increase.
Northfield	$49,803	$40,300	$ 9,503
Norwood Park	29,516	17,828	11,686
Palos	12,994	12,250	744
Rich	70,551	61,320	9,231
Schaumberg	73,976	69,750	4,226
Bremen	44,006	42,120	1,886
Elk Grove	54,288	41,650	12,633
Hanover	67,173	64,040	3,133
Leyden	57,145	39,160	18,085
Total increase			$71,134

The three towns showing a decrease are Lemont, Palatine, and Riverside. The last named town figured conspicuously last year in the work of revision, and was the subject of some large increases. The newly assessed valuation, with the revised assessment of last year, in the three towns, is as follows:

	Ass'd val., 1900.	Rev. ass'd val., 1899.	Decrease.
Lemont	$46,003	$52,570	$ 6,467
Palatine	69,545	77,670	8,025
Riverside	62,612	66,190	3,578
Total decrease			$18,070

INSURANCE AFFAIRS.

One hundred and twenty insurance men, representing most of the general and local agencies in Chicago, yesterday made a full inspection of the new McReynolds elevator "A" at One Hundred and Sixth street and the Calumet River, in South Chicago. The purpose of the visit was to give a practical demonstration of a modern grain elevator and show where the most modern improvements had been used as a prevention against fire. Shipman & Wayne, through whose agency the line on the elevator is placed, had charge of the excursion. It proved to be one of the pleasantest that insurance men have seen in many years. A special train over the Pittsburg and Fort Wayne road left the Union Depot at noon. A luncheon was served en route.

At the elevator every opportunity was given for a thorough inspection. The elevator is of steel construction, with floors and bins of wood to secure lightness. The big engine in the fireproof power-house and the machinery for operating the shafts and belting controlling the conveyors were particularly admired. The twelve bins in the top of the elevator hold 80,000 pounds each, and are weighed as easily as a ton of coal on the ordinary scales. Grain is handled and weighed as quickly coming into the elevator as going out. Last Saturday and Sunday, Secretary Ray stated to the visitors, four lake vessels were loaded, with a total of 400,000 bushels. The manchinery when in full operation is intended to receive or load that many bushels on cars or boats in one day.

The insurance men were critical, but their general observations were more than favorable. The elevator company has twenty acres of ground, and the Chicago Junction railway is now constructing eight switching tracks, connecting the elevator with the trunk lines. The elevator is situated on the Calumet River, about three miles from Lake Michigan.

The fire boat Yosemite, which formerly did duty in the Chicago, but now stationed in the Calumet River, gave an exhibition to run a fire call, and was on hand in about six minutes. A three-minute delay was caused by the drawbridge at One Hundred and Sixth street not opening in response to the whistle of the boat. On the return of the tug to its station the insurance men were given a ride to the shipyards, where the new lake steamer Cornell had just been launched. The special trains there picked the party up, returning it to the Union Depot at 3 o'clock.

Among those who made the trip were:

F. R. E. Jones,	C. N. Bishop,	J. F. Peavey,
C. A. Hardy,	C. W. Witkowsky,	J. H. Moore,
S. Cunningham,		C. W. Drew,
P. B. Ware,	H. J. Ullmann,	J. J. Van Every,
S. A. Rothermel,	T. A. Bowden,	F. A. Howe,
H. A. Walker,	J. A. Kelsey,	H. Darlington,
F. L. Hankey,	H. H. Brown,	L. O. Kohtz.

The July quarterly meeting of the Chicago Underwriters' association will be held at 2 o'clock this afternoon. From general indications the subject of higher ratings for buildings, where the hazard is considered greater than the present rate, is likely to be taken up. Many agents have expressed opinions that there should be an increase on apartment buildings that come within the term "fire traps," and want to see this class of risks pay a rate to fit the hazard. The Executive committee of the association yesterday morning passed on the matter of machinery in coal yards, holding that it should be written at the rate usual for this class and not considered as a building or stock risk.

The Illinois Field club held a meeting at the Grand Pacific Hotel and decided to publish its correspondence relating to the recent proposed cooperation with the Illinois State board, which the latter refused to ratify. The club, which is a nonunion organization, desires to give the fullest publicitty to its actions. The failure of the cooperation plan to go through is credited to the antagonism of managers of union companies, who put their stamp of disapproval on the plan.

President J. J. McDonald presided at the annual meeting of the Insurance Survey bureau. It was decided to extend the operations of the bureau into Indiana, as Iowa has now been pretty well covered.

Edward Milligan, secretary of the Phœnix of Hartford, was in Chicago yesterday.

Pre-inventory clearing sale parasols.

Our pre-inventory parasol bargains almost surpass belief. It really seems impossible to sell a $5.00 parasol for $2.00, nevertheless, the bargains are better, as a great many of the parasols are worth $6.00 and $7.00. We would sooner take the loss before than after inventory—that's why the entire parasol stock is marked to sell at once.

New coachings in every correct and conceivable design and shade—stripes, plaids, Dresden effects, Persian patterns, etc.—with pretty natural wood handles, ivory tips—parasols that were formerly priced at $4.00, $5.00, $6.00 and $7.00 at— 2.00

White lawn shirt waists.

White lawn shirt waists are extremely popular. Fashion has made this a year of white waists. Who can say that it is not a wise decision! There is a cool daintiness about a white waist that no other fabric suggests. Pre-inventory exigencies make it possible for you to buy a waist that ordinarily sells for $8.00 at 1.00. Those who have purchased declare they are the best ever offered for the money. We think they are right for our sales were never so large.

White lawn shirt waists—equal to those you ordinarily pay $2.00 to $3.00 for handsome fine lawn waists, elaborately trimmed with rows of insertion, embroidery, hemstitching and tucks, French backs, swellest styles shown for summer—at 1.00
